To Nominate Candidate for Representative in the General Assembly of Kentucky from the Counties of Nicholas and Robertson

The undersigned having been appointed a Sub-Committee to arrange for the holding of the Democratic Primary Election called by the Committees of Nicholas and Robertson counties for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Representative for the counties of Nicholas and Robertson in the next General Assembly, respectfully report as follows:

FIRST: That the primary be held for the above Counties under the Primary Election Law in each precinct of this Legislative District, composed of the Counties of Nicholas and Robertson, at the time designated by the Committee heretofore selected, on May 27, 1911, between the hours of 6 a. m. and 4 p. m., standard time.

SECOND: All known Democrats who are legal voters of the precincts wherein they offer to vote, and are legal voters at the time they offer to vote, are entitled to participate in said primary.

THIRD: The Committees of Nicholas and Robertson Counties shall appoint the election officers for their respective Counties from the list furnished by the candidates, and shall be divided as nearly equally as possible between said candidates. It is further ordered that candidates desiring to furnish such lists shall present same to said Committees at least fifteen (15) days before said primary. Said candidates shall be allowed challenges and inspectors as provided by law.

FOURTH: It shall be the duty of the officers in each precinct at the close of the polls to count the ballots, announce the results and certify the same to the respective County Committees where the election is held; and said Committee shall meet within three (3) days thereafter to canvass said vote and forthwith certify the same to the Executive Committee of this Legislative District, which will meet at the Court House in Carlisle, Ky., on May 31, 1911, being the fourth day thereafter, and shall commence to canvass the returns of said primary and continue until the canvass is finished, and award the certificate to the candidate having the highest number of votes, and declare such person the nominee for the office to which he was elected; and same shall be certified to the County Clerks to be placed upon the official ballot for the November election, 1911, under the official emblem of the Democratic party, which is a game chicken in the act of crowing.

FIFTH: All Democrats desiring to become candidates before said primary are requested to notify me in writing the Sub-Committee at its headquarters of such intention on or before May 12th, 1911; and shall deposit with said Sub-Committee at such time and place before designated, the sum of Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars ($250.00) and the names of those so qualifying shall be placed upon the ballots to be used in said primary, and such withdrawn if they shall be distributed equally according to the number of candidates.

CROP REPORTS.

Report of Commissioner of Agriculture—Fruit Good Peaches—Grain Prospects Fine.

Fine wheat crops and a bountiful yield of small fruit, except peaches, are predicted by M. C. Rankin, commissioner of Agriculture, in his crop report for May 1st, which was issued this week. Wet weather has retarded the planting of tobacco in some districts, but on the whole the report is decidedly optimistic. Following is the report:

Although the month of April has been warm and the conditions of the weather for growing crops favorable, yet on account of the excessive rainfall generally throughout the State and the floods which have been reported from different sections of the State, farm work and farming have been greatly retarded, and the crops planted in the spring are at least two weeks late in the State generally, and in some sections a month late.

The winter months and the spring have so favored the fall and winter sown crops that they are in extraordinary conditions, and will, with a good season, equal, if not exceed, the crop of last year.

This report shows that the clover is in fine condition and that with an average season for the remainder of the year we may expect not only a good crop, but one in excess of last year.

With all the work that the people of the State have done to encourage the farmers to sow alfalfa, we find that more than half of the counties of the State fail to report any alfalfa in the county. Our reports show that where it has been tried that a good stand has been secured and that good results obtained. With alfalfa growing in every county in the State we would revolutionize Kentucky in one year. And we can have it if we but try our experiment in the right way and follow the advice sent out from this office from time to time.

Horse Breeding Profitable.

When automobiles were first introduced it was predicted and made that horses would become a drug on the market and that a good price of horses could be bought for a song. As a matter of fact horses are more expensive today than ever before and the demand is just as great.

The great source of production of horses is the average country farm, and the man who breeds horses for a purpose, and is careful in his selection, need have no apprehension of any depreciation. In every civilized country the world over the demand for commercial horses the same conditions prevail, under the official emblem of the Democratic party, which is a game chicken in the act of crowing.

FIFTH: All Democrats desiring to become candidates before said primary are requested to notify me in writing the Sub-committee at its headquarters of such intention on or before May 12th, 1911; and shall deposit with said Sub-Committee at such time and place before designated, the sum of Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars ($250.00) and the names of those so qualifying shall be placed upon the ballots to be used in said primary, and such withdrawn if they shall be distributed equally according to the number of candidates.

SIXTH: In the event there should be only one candidate for the office to pay fee for entrance on Friday, May 12, 1911, at 12 o'clock M., the Committee shall declare such candidate to be the Democratic nominee for Representative and certify his nomination to the County Clerk as such nominee. Said candidate shall pay all expenses accruing at said time before he shall be issued the certificate of nomination.

SEVENTH: The position of the names to be printed upon the ballots shall be determined by lot in the presence of the Committee of Nicholas County held in Carlisle on May 12th, 1911; and all candidates being present shall cast lots for position on said ballot.

EIGHTH: Forrest Dalzell be, and he is hereby appointed Secretary of the Nicholas County Democratic Committee and Executive Committee, is ordered to take charge of the ballot boxes and see that they are properly equipped for holding said primary, and to be distributed to the various precincts of this County according to the Primary Election Law; and he is further ordered to take charge of said ballot boxes after the election, and take charge of same until the meeting of the Democratic and Executive Committees of Nicholas County which will be held on May 31th, 1911.

The Chairman and Secretary of Robertson County will attend to the distribution of ballot boxes, ballots, etc., in their county, and shall receive and care for same when returned to them after the election.

Struck Gas.

Charlie Posey, who has been drilling on the Dr. A. J. Bradford place in Butler, was rewarded for his hard labors last Friday by striking a heavy flow of gas at the depth of about 400 feet. The well was immediately plugged. Later in the day when Mr. Posey and wife were at the well the plug blew out. The pressure was so great that Mr. and Mrs. Posey were thrown to the ground, but were only shaken up. The well was re-capped and a weight weighing about two tons is now holding the gas in the well.

Mr. Posey is an old well driller and he says this is the strongest flow of gas he has struck in five years. If the well holds out, and there is every reason to believe it will, it will be a great thing for our sister town of Butler, both for fuel and light. Several years ago a small flow of gas was struck on the place of Col. A. J. Grant, just north of the town of Butler, and he has used it for domestic purposes since that time.

Mr. Posey is under contract to drill a well near Falmouth and will move his outfit here at once before doing any further work in the Butler field.

If there is gas at Butler, only 12 miles distant, it is worth our while to give it a good test here. It has never been tested, and we should go down and see what is under us.—Falmouth Outlook.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Immediately Relieved

Morton L. Hill, of Lebanon, Ind., says: "My wife had inflammatory rheumatism in every muscle and joint, her suffering was terrible and she had used and tried every medicine almost beyond recognition, had been in bed for six weeks, and eight physicians, but received no benefit until she tried Chamberlain's Relief for Rheumatism. It gave immediate relief and she was able to walk about in three days. I am sure it saved her life." Sold by Tuttman & Son, Druggists.

Reducing and Cutting Out the Crop

The Paris Kentuckian-Citizen of May 8th, at a dinner party given by Charles C. Clarke, a prominent farmer near Paris, a few days ago to some of his friends, the guests were farmers, and each a tobacco grower. The question was asked of Mr. Clarke how much tobacco he was going to put in crop. He replied 22 acres, which the same as 1910. When all six of the farmers had told how much they grew last year and how much they would plant this year, it was found that the reduction in acreage was 60 per cent.

Claiming that the raising of tobacco under present conditions is not profitable, and that it impoverishes the soil to fertility, Messrs. Thomas H. Clay, Jr., and Thos. H. Clay, Jr., have signified their intention of cutting out the raising of tobacco for all time, and in its stead will devote their time to the raising of forage crops for stock. Mr. Clay, Sr., has on his farm on the Winchester pike 1,500 lambs and their mother ewes. He has sold his wool clip at a good price, as but has not disposed of his lambs, as they will not be ready before June delivery.

Mrs. Desha Breckinridge.

"School Suffrage For Women" was the subject of one of the most entertaining talks, last Monday afternoon, that has ever been made before the Current Club here. The subject was handled by Mrs. Desha Breckinridge, of Lexington, in a manner that showed that she was familiar with it, and was well qualified to give expression to her views. She did not hesitate to say that the greatest benefits that have accrued in the advancement of education and the advancement of humanity are due to the work of the women and that many more benefits would result if the women had the same right the men have, at the polls, on the subjects pertaining to the conduct of the schools. She was elected an honorary enthusiastic and her talk was full of good arguments from start to finish. There was a large and intence interest, and close attention was given to all the lady said.—Shelby Record.

Way Back Yonder.

Jim Allen says: "The Supreme Court of the United States now will catch up with the its docket. A lawyer was attempting to define the phrase 'Thing,' recently, when Justice Mckenna interrupted to say that it probably meant "cheese it." If the Court has just caught up with "cheese it," is there a chance of its ever reaching the American Tobacco Company?"—Bluegrass News.

Cigarette Production Increasing

The total output of cigarettes, large and small, during the month of March, 1911, amounted to 856,421,554, as contrasted with 667,393,558 the corresponding month last year, an increase of 189,118,036 or about 28 per cent.

Looks 'tiff the crusade against the "deadly cigarette" is not keeping up with the procession. If your boy has not yet learned to suck a cigarette, you'd better teach him, lest there be an over production.—[Ex.

Take Care of Your Hogs.

How often do we hear the expression: As dirty as a hog." The instant one speaks of hogs there is associated with it the thought of filth and odor. It is still hard for many farmers to get rid of the notion that any thing is good enough for a hog. Yet there is no animal on the farm which requires better protection from cold than the hog. There is hardly a good bed is more necessary, and none so much need of sunshine as a little pig. The boar and the sow have go-lours of hair—even a calf or a colt when left to itself is provided with a good fur coat; the lamb's fleece is the best of protection against cold; but the hog has almost nothing between his skin and the weather. In the corn belt hog raising is the most profitable source of money than any other enterprise. In view of this one might expect to find the hog better housed of any animals on the farm, but the opposite is the case. On the average the hog house is the poorest building on the farm and the least adapted for the purpose for which it was intended. Good barns may be seen on a large proportion of the farms, but good hog houses are generally hard to find.

One of the first requisites for success with hogs, says Farmers' Bulletin No. 438, entitled "Hog Houses," by I. A. Warren, about to be issued by the Department of Agriculture, is a shelter where young pigs can be kept warm, dry, warm, away from drafts, and provided with fresh air. The author has found that good hog men average about seven pigs raised to the litter where many surpass this record, while the general average raised on the farm is not enough. Four pigs per litter is the most usually raised. The little pigs are largely due to the lack of proper shelter.

The pig loves sunshine and needs it almost as much as he needs food. Dryness, sunshine, the right temperature, plenty of drafts, and exercise are of primary importance. These conditions secured, the battle is half won in putting up buildings for hogs. Comfort and convenience must be kept constantly in mind, or profit can be neglected. These houses, however, need not be very expensive. A good single house need not cost over $30 a pen, and double pens for $50 a piece. Such sheds are sometimes made less than $15 a pen.

A large hog house should always stand east and west, facing the south. The greatest amount of sunshine may be had in this direction.

Direct sunshine should strike the floor in every pen for as much time on the day as possible at the time when the pigs are forming. The country is dotted with hog houses in which the sunshine never enters, and windows where he wanted but later they were in the way.

The cow builder goes into the matter deeply and describes various forms of satisfactory and unsatisfactory types of buildings. There are also 21 illustrations to full understanding of these points. Copies of Bulletin 438 may be obtained from the Secretary of Agriculture on application, as long as the supply lasts.

It makes no difference how far you travel, you never find a man that gave them birth; how they may remain away; how new friends they may make, how much prosperity may fall to their lot; how much joy in their life; how much joy they may come to them, the time comes for them to cross the dark gulf into eternity, but what one thought of when they come back to that old home where I first saw the light and bury me.—

Uniform Accounting

One of the meritorious bills defeated at the last session of the Kentucky Legislature was a measure providing for a system of uniform accounting for counties and municipalities. The bill was introduced by Senator Ewing that no city of the first class be placed the uniform plan, saying:

"We do not think that there are twenty men in the House of Representatives who are sufficiently familiar with the system of accounts provided for, or even to understand, the city financial condition. There are, no such reports made to the Auditor, Mayor, Treasurer, or there such reports are of the character to have any adequate understanding of the condition of the county is made. Every county and every city in the State of Kentucky ought to adopt a uniform system of accounts, so that it can be known that the next Legislature will not be asked to pass such a bill."

The great majority of the taxpayers in every city and county in the State are deeply interested as to how the money of the people is spent, and it is absolutely no subject under the sun concerning which there is greater indifference. And yet there should be publicity in these matters, and it should be possible for any citizen of average intelligence to know something of the financial affairs of his city or county without having to employ the services of a lawyer or an expert accountant.

Many Democrats are at a loss to know why the next Legislature should pass a uniform accounting law. Why should not the Democrats do it, should not the Democrats do it, should not the Democrats do it,
