KIDNEY CHILLS AND BACKACHE.

If, when you get cold or take cold, it "settles on the Kidneys" and there is a slivery, chilly sensation in the back, it shows Kidney weakness which is often the beginning of serious disease. Doan's Kidney Pills should be used persistently until the backache and other symptoms disappear.

C. D. Kessler, 404 E. 9th St., Mendota, Ill., says: "Kidney trouble came on me about 20 years ago and became so bad I was unable to work for weeks. I was thin, worn out and nervous; the doctors admitted they could not help me and my friends expected me to die. As a last hope I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills and shortly after passed a gravel stone. Later on several more stones passed and from then on I improved until cured."

Remember the name—Doan's. For sale by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

GETTING A HIGH STANDARD

Child's Idea of Goodness Set Forth in Perfect Faith, Without Irreverence.

All things are relative, and to the child, gazing at life and its wonders with eyes as yet undimmed by sophistication or sorrow, nothing is impossible, nothing unspeakable, nothing too sacred to be discussed or too difficult to be attempted. That irreverence nor impertinence, but innocence prompts each question and that recorded of the child of a popular journalist by his devoted paternal grandmother.

"Grandma," said the little boy, delightedly addressing her, "do you know what's going to happen? Papa says that if we're real, real good, he'll take us to the circus!"

"That's nice," smiled the young matured adult between whom and the eager youngling no hint of age or generation mars perfect comradeship. "How good do we have to be?"

The embryo man, after a moment's silent consideration. "Oh, as good as God, I guess!"

ECZEMA BROKE OUT ON BABY

"When my baby was two months old, she had eczema and rash very badly. I noticed that her face and body broke out very suddenly, thick, and red as a coal of fire. I did not know what to do. The doctor ordered castile soap and powders, but they did no good. She would scratch, as it itched, and she cried, and did not sleep for more than a week. One day I saw in the paper the advertisement of the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, so I got them and tried them at once. My baby's face was as a cake of snow.

"When I first used the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, I could see a difference. In color it was reddier, I noticed, with them. My baby was in a terrible condition. I used the Cuticura Remedies (Soap and Ointment) four times a day, and in two weeks she was quite well. The Cuticura Remedies healed her skin perfectly, and her skin is now pretty and fine through using them. I now use Cuticura Soap today, and will continue to, for it makes a lovely skin. Every mother should use the Cuticura Remedies. They are good for all sores, and the Cuticura Soap is good for shampooing the hair, for I have tried it. I tell all my friends how the Cuticura Soap and Ointment cured my baby of eczema and rash." (Signed) Mrs. Irene Hall, W. 16th St., New York city, Aug. 24, 1910.

Cuticura Remedies are sold through out the world. Send to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Boston, Mass., for free booklet on the skin.

WHAT I WENT THROUGH

Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Natick, Mass.—"I cannot express what I went through during the change of life before I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was troubled with a nervous condition and could not keep still. My limbs were tired. I had nervous sensations, specks flitting before my eyes, and sometimes I would be troubled for hours with a buzzing sound in my ears. I was also troubled with pain in my left side. I was induced to write to Mrs. Pinkham for advice, and after taking one day of the medicine I felt relieved. I followed her kind advice and took the medicine for three months, and it has made me a well woman. My neighbors and friends declare it has worked a miracle for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth its weight in gold for women during this period, and I shall always help others you may publish my letter." Mrs. Nathan B. Gregory, 15 N. Main Street, Natick, Mass.

The Change of Life is the most critical period of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

For the Hostess

Fruit-Tree Blossom Luncheon.

This is the month and the only one in which flower decorations are available. A hostess realizing this is planning to use branches of apple, pear and peach blossoms, making her house one bower of spring beauty. The wild pink crabapple blossoms she is going to use exclusively in the dining room. A very Japanesee effect may be achieved with these blossoms and her idea for this affair is drawn largely from the celebration of the feast of cherry blossoms so lovingly observed by our little brown neighbors across the western sea. Brown wicker baskets will be used to hold single branches and the mat of the runner will be of soft grays and tans, the result will be truly artistic and pleasing. From these hints I am sure all our readers will want to give May lunch-eons, and what could be prettier than to entertain at home or at a house or church wedding? The practice of using what is seasonable and at hand is becoming more and more popular and we do not need to have flowers out in season just because it costs a fortune to get them, but use the blossoms nature provides for each season as it rolls around.

Spoon Shower.

This affair was given by the girls of the bridal party at the home of the maid of honor. The table was round, covered with a lace cloth over green; the green and white were the bridal colors. White roses and ferns made the center piece, with white green handled china, glass candle sticks with lace shades over green. The place cards were cut out white roses tied with a bow of green and white tulle. White and green bon bons and green candy boxes held the green and white bon bons and a green and white Jack Horner pie was passed with dessert, from which the guests drew green and green and white snapping crackers. Each parted and the donor's card on which was written an appropriate sentiment. The spoons were all the same pattern and as there were six it made a very nice set. The men of the wedding party, knowing about this gave a half dozen forks and the same number of tablespoons of the same pattern.

Dainty Centerpiece.

Last year a hostess living in a delightful country place had this unique centerpiece at a luncheon which she gave for some of her city friends. She had an enormous straw hat tied as a basket filled with roses. It was held by a big bow of gauze ribbon. At each place small baskets filled with colonial strawberries rested on a doily of grape leaves. To the handle was a bow of pink gauze ribbon, with the name card pinned to it with a dainty imitation coral stick pin; just how rich one rested on the handle it was all very simple, but the rustic effect was lovely.

A City Supper.

Instead of having viands typical of country-side, a Ladies' Aid society got a variation of the idea by arranging a supper the food to be typical of certain cities. Those represented were Baltimore by oysters, Boston by baked beans and brown bread; Philadelphia by scrapple, Chicago by cold ham, Savannah by corn pone and chicken, New Orleans by chicken gumbo; chicken stew with fried, Spanish by oranges or Chinese dishes.

MADAME MERRI.

Renewing Tattered Shirtwaists.

An ingenious girl took half a dozen tattered shirtwaists of white and color, worn about the collar band and cuffs, and cut the backs and fronts of the sleeves just below the elbows, stitched on that bands of heavy white material she had at hand. She had sufficient enough morning waists to last some time, and with them she wears bolts of the same white material.—Woman's Home Companion.

To the Point.

Over in Hoboken in a shop frequented by foreigners hangs a sign framed in mourning cloth, reading thus:

"We respect to inform our honored customers that our beloved partner, friend Mr. ——— expired today. He was a good fellow and very helpful. He has been failing for some time. Died to rest in peace. PAY CASH!"

Ambiguous.

Lady—No, thank you. It won't be long before I get it.

Obliging Stranger—Oh, no, madam, I didn't mean that. Right as I possibly can—Punch.

Husband Who Has "Married Money" Acknowledges the Truth to His Friend Query.

Addison of a beautiful young wife, is the happy husband that he had divorced her penniless husband in order to marry again. Henry R. Elsey, the comedian, said at a dinner in New York:

"The young man who marries for money does it as a rule in a time of his life rich wife is likely to tire of him and throw him up. I remember one else she is like, to limit his allowance to $5 or $6 cents a day.

"I married for money," a man once said to me.

"Wasn't there a woman attached to it?" I asked.

"Yes, yes, but there was! he explained. "So deeply attached to it that she never parted with a penny."

"Kicking the Bucket."

When we speak facetiously of some one's death we have no reverence as having "kicks the bucket" we mean a person that would seem to be a piece of late-day slang, but, as a matter of fact, dates back to old England, when, about the year 1725, a "bucket" was a beam from which a while standing on the bottom of a bucket and then kicked the beam away. Although at first used only in cases of suicide, it has been applied in the course of years to any death, without distinction.

Woman's Yellow Peril.

Housewives are advised that the underwear, table linen, bedding and all other washable fabrics that are colored to please so quickly. It's the strong, fast colors which can stand going through the fiber and weakens it to the tearing point. A Philadelphia housekeeper says need be no more costly than these destructive compounds, but that a Ivory Star soap will prove this to be true.

It is a simple thing to save without the imposition of the crude, strong, yellow soap and will do the work with half the labor. Five cents a cake. Try it.

A Question of Change.

A quiet fellow, the rounds of a couple of young people who attended last summer's dances, was overheard as he was being taken up the young man and young woman in his pocket for a dime. His face expressed his embarrassment as he hoarsely whispered: "I guess I haven't a cent, I changed my pants." The young lady, who had been examining the unknown of vagaries of woman's dress for purse, turned a pink color and said: "I'm in the same fix."

A Poetic Prosecutor.

John Burns, city prosecutor of St. Paul, was trying to show Judge Pinehurst why certain young men ought to be fined for tearing planets off the lamp posts, ala Gowdy. Mr. Burns said:

"I know Miss Chicket tore off that picket, and the lady took offense."

Then he paused and added, as an afterthought: "Judge Pinehurst, 'nuf, besides, this is no place for poetry."

LOST FAITH IN WHITE MAN

Eskimo Tested Efficacy of Telephone Scheme, and Found His Head Been Deceived.

An interesting story is told regarding the efforts of an Eskimo to construct a telephone line. The Eskimo grew impatient over a piece of wire of considerable length and never having seen wire before he asked Professor McMillan, of the north pole expedition what it was and what it was used for. He was told that the white man strung it on poles stuck in the ground each two hundred feet or so, strument at one and could be heard at the other end. After watching with the best morning the Eskimo was found to be engaged in lengthening construction work of his own. He stuck some sticks in the ground and hung his wire on them. He held one end of the wire to his mouth and talked in it at the top of his voice. Then he was as fast as he could to the other end and held the wire to his ear with the expectation of hearing his own words repeated.

When he failed to hear any sounds the expression on his face revealed his opinion of his white friend.

Society Launched.

In his native town Jimmy had always been most popular with young folks, but when he was sent away to boarding school, he was for a time too homesick to make friends. His first letter was little more than a wail.

"I'm way behind the other boys in everything," he wrote, dolefully. "Their only studies, but it's grimmer—Rime and ladies and everything. I don't believe they'll ever have much use for me."

But the second letter, written some time after the new schools was quite different in tone.

"I'm all right," he wrote to his mother. "The boys don't laugh much at all they know, for they're proud of me. I'm the best in the class. My mouth half an inch wider than any other boy in school, and my feet are the longest by a full inch. So you can't worry about me any more."—Youth's Companion.

Can't Get Away From It

Is it possible to nourish, strengthen and Rebuild Brain and Nerve Cells

when this thinks us up part of the brain cells are dying every day. Why don't it all disappear and cause premature senility? Because the man nourishes the brain cells.

If he looks a little less than he destroys, brain fag and premature senility follow.

If he looks a little more each day, the brain cells become more capable, more active. Where does man get the material to build it from air, sky or the Arctic sea? When you come to it the rebuilding material must be in the food and drink.

That's it exactly.

Are the brain cells rebuilding materials found in a good variety but not in suitable proportion?

Following, we know bones are made largely of phosphate of lime. Phosphate of lime make healthy bone structure we must have phosphates in food. Fish, eggs and food contain largest and fat to make healthy brain cells. Following chart will show you what foods contain the most phosphate and how much of each one contains. Then choose from the foods richest in phosphates those most agreeable to your taste and appetite and you will be on the road to brain and nerve power.

Worry, anxiety, fear, hate, etc., etc., directly interfere with or stop the digestive and assimilative powers of the mouth, and also interfere with the flow of digestive juices of the stomach and pancreas.

Therefore, the mental state of the individual has much to do (more than suspected) with digestion.

Brain is made of Phosphate of Potash as constituent. Lithated Mineral Salt added to albumen and water.

Grape-Nuts contains that element as more than 1% of its albumen and starches.

Incidentally it may be added that the introduction of the nuts and has greatly facilitated things for the tourist who is desirous of visiting Gettysburg battlefield. The limited time for which Americans are famous in their sightseeing is indeed economized by keeping continually on the road from one battlefield to another, only a brief stop for lunch, a motorist may obtain an excellent idea of Gettysburg's battlefield. Of courses on such a schedule he can not really study it as a matter of fact, but with relation to the general movements of the opposing forces and there will be some sections of the country importance with which he will have to omit from his itinerary, but on the whole the field is well covered in the wonderful museum which spreads out at the feet of the sightseer as he ascends the summit of Little Round Top, the commanding position of this whole great battlefield.

But for all its natural beauty it is the sentiment of the historic background that serves as the magnet which draws a great throng thither from all sections of the country on Memorial day. They come by train—although Gettysburg's station is not very accessible; they come by carriage and wagon from a wide radius of the surrounding farming region that surrounds the battlefield; and they come by motor car. It is explained, Gettysburg has become of late years a most popular objective with motor tourists who find in the great park and the historic objects which dot it a delightful week-end recreating to his hotel.

As has been hinted above, it is the battlefield of the second day's engagement that draws to Gettysburg at the end of May each year. Some years the gathering is larger than others, owing to the rich anniversary flavoring certain of a very simple character and there are not so many persons to be found in the battlefield as on
