The average prices of live stock on the Chicago market last week were cattle $5.45, hogs $6.85, sheep $5.80, and lambs $6.25. The average of corresponding week of last year was cattle $6.55, hogs $7.81, sheep $4.80, and lambs $6.80. The general average from Jan. 1 to 1909 were cattle $5.50, hogs $5.82, sheep $4.10, and lambs $5.85.

Friends Working in Contest.

We are much gratified at the way so many friends are soliciting subscribers are taking interest in the girls who are winning prizes. Many are coming in every day or sending their subscriptions through and voting for their favorites and half the votes some of the girls have received in this way have come in this way. That is certainly complimentary to the girls and should encourage them to greater effort.

Filed Suit For Damages.

On Wednesday afternoon of last week the Burley Tobacco Society filed suit for damages in the sum of $50,000, in the Bourbon County Circuit Court, against the L. & N. R. R., for the loss sustained by the Society in the warehouse at Millersburg. The Paris Kentuckian says: The petition alleges that the defendant company through negligence and defective equipment, caused a storage warehouse containing packed tobacco to take fire from sparks from a passing locomotive, causing the warehouse and all its contents and the contents of two other warehouse adjoining, to be destroyed.

Ohio For a Cut Out.

The tobacco growers of Brown county, Ohio, are circulating a petition for a cut out of the 1911 crop. The tobacco situation is rather blue for them. About 50 per cent of the tobacco in the White Burley district in Kentucky has been bought up at prices from 10 to 12 1-2 cents. In Ohio the growers have been left out in the cold, because they had made no effort to pool. The Trust only bought where the Burley Society was making an effort to pool.—Falmouth Outlook.

The Ohio growers are a year late to be coming asking to cut out the crop of 1911 and so is the same line. Quitting that way between now and forty were being made to head the 1910 crop. Too late to make no effort to assist.

Good Roads

A law providing for good roads in the State of Kentucky will be drafted by the committee appointed by the Kentucky Good Roads Association at a meeting of the committee, which will be held in Louisville, November 2. The members of the committee will make an effort to complete the bill drafted further data. When the law is completed it will be submitted to the Kentucky Good Roads Association for approval, after which it will be ready for presentation to the Kentucky Assembly. The committee is composed of Harry Sommers, Elizabethtown, J. Y. Beckmann, of Louisville, Joseph Bosworth, of Middletown, George L. Prewett, of Shelbyville, and Judge James P. Gregory, of Louisville.

How Fields Heard The News.

The Olive Hill Times presided at the home town of Hon. W. J. Fields, Congressman-elect from this district, with the news that he was received there and elected and of a Representative in Congress. Mr. Fields said to make, the Times says:

Mr. Fields, with a number of his friends and some who were opposed to him, passed from the selves at Hotel Stamper Tuesday night, where arrangements had been made for receiving the returns, and a regular public was inaugurated, as the returns from the very start began to assume a Fields victory. By 9 o'clock enough returns began to come in to line to sure and shouts of victory filled the air. Democrats and Republicans vying with each other in expressing their delight at his success, and no section of the country could be more appreciative of honors bestowed upon an honorable son than was this community over the success of W. J. Fields last Tuesday.

We can assume the most friends of both parties, who so nobly stood by him and elected him to represent them in the thirty-second National Congress, that he will be a representative of all the people, and when it comes to working for the best interests of his constituents he will know no party, except when, to his knowledge, it will be to the best interest of the greatest number.

A big Proposition

On The Stock Market.

The prices of fat hogs declined sharply this week, and farmers are disposed to sell rather than hold. Sales were freely made in Berlin country at 86.65 for 250 to 300-lb. hogs.

The sale of Jersey milk cows held in W. F. Murphy's stock yards, Wednesday, when 40 head of C. Carpenter, and consigned by Geo. D. Speaker, the auctioneer, attracted buyers from a distance. The thirty head averaged $44.00 and Jno. Goodloe, of Lexington, bought three cows, paying for one $160 and paying for two $85 each.—Kentuckian Citizen.

At G. C. Thompson's sale at Bourbon county, 1,400-lb. cattle sold for $5.75 @ 1-2 per cwt., cows $12.50 to $45, bulls $40 @ $60, 50 $8 each; hogs, 250-lb. best, 10 per cwt., sows, 400 to 450 lbs., $7.50. Jonathan, Simon Well reserved 51 bought 72 head of 1,450-lb. feeding cattle from Frank Logan, for immediate delivery, at 5 1-2 cents and 200 head of 1,100-lb. feeders from North Fork at 5 1-4 cents.

Sheep sold for 3cents per lb. in the price of sheep, 15 to 25 cents in hogs and 10 to 25 cents in cattle were recorded at the stockyards at Kansas City. Prices at Thursday's sale have fallen about $1.75 per cwt. in the last four weeks.

There has been a decided drop in Berlin county, and the farmers feeling still in the dumps, sinks from a passing low-grade, causing the warehouse and its contents and the contents of two other warehouse adjoining, to be destroyed.

The Parcels Post

Our readers will notice that we are giving considerable space in this week's issue to the subject of "Parcels Post," and we shall take occasion quite often now to discuss this matter until it is thoroughly understood.

Heretofore the greatest opposition to the Parcels Post has come from the Express Companies, and through their false representations the City and Country merchants were led to add the weight of their influence against a most just and economical movement. Merchants of the country towns were told by the Express Companies that the Parcels Post would give the Rural Mail Order houses the advantage, when it is a well established fact that Mail Order houses in small towns were at the very moment giving the Mail Order houses a rate of from 25 to 50 per cent less than they were giving the country merchant.

With the Parcel Post the country merchant can add greatly to his business. With the telephone and Rural Delivery he can take orders for thousands of articles he now cannot sell, and which are sold by Mail Order houses—in fact every country merchant can open a mail order business himself. We want our Merchants to think seriously over this matter and when the Express Companies lobbyist comes around ask him some questions. Get Wise, Mr. Merchant!

After the Tax-Ferrets

(Bracken Chroniele)

Several months ago, a man named Gilfillin, one of Auditor Agent Rehon's deputies, came into Bracken county for the purpose of collecting back taxes. After examining the records in the County Clerk's office, Gilfillin sent out notices broadcast over the county notifying taxpayers that they owed for a certain number of years back taxes and advising them to call at Brooksville and settle before any more costs were added. Quite a number came in and settled their claims, some in full of the amount he asked; in other cases where objections were made to paying the amount asked, Gilfillin offered to settle for one-fifth of amount claimed. In one instance we are reliably informed that he told one of the county's oldest citizens that if he did not pay the amount claimed, that the case would be taken to the Federal Court, at Covington, where additional costs and expenses, and rather than go to this expense he could get whatever question was paid." Gilfillin knew at the time he made this statement that these cases would have to come before County Judge Gibson for trial, and if was a case of extortion, no more than when he stated it would come up in Federal Court. In collecting back taxes the Auditor Agent is allowed to charge 5 per cent penalty, which was done in each instance, as well as the court costs to amount of $7.50. In cases where Gilfillin could not get a settlement was without a suit, settlement was made at once, but where this action was taken, suit was filed by Gilfillin in county court, and in the only case brought to trial at the September term, it was thrown out of court. By agreement, about $7,000 was collected in back taxes, and the Chronicle will venture the assertion that fully two-thirds of this amount was collected in violation of the law, and the prediction is made here that Gilfillin will not return here and prosecute the cases he has remaining on Judge Gibson's docket. By frightening those that paid him voluntarily, Gilfillin enriched himself to the amount of $12000 or $15000 and no doubt considers this amount adequate pay for a few weeks work. The Chronicle believes in every one paying their just proportion of taxes, but we are opposed to the Auditor's Agents appointing extortioners from other States to come here and hold up our people without complying with the law in the fullest sense, and in very few instances was there error in the collection of back taxes in this county by this man Gilfillin, and for his action in the matter we believe he is subject to indictment, and if his victims will employ an attorney to go after him there will be a few dollars in the county that will be properly we believe they would get.

Robertson County 37 Years Ago

(Mt. Olivet Tribune-Democrat)

With this issue the Tribune enters the 38th year of its journalistic career. In turning backward to November, 1874, but few of the faces we then saw can be seen today. A large majority have crossed to the Great Divide. The Editor of the Tribune had not then reached his 20th year. Now he begins to face old age. Although he has yet practically three score years to his credit, the population has been slow of growth. Thirty-seven years ago the town contained no banks or mills. Now we have two banks and a modern roller flouring mill. The Tribune was printed on a flat Washington hand press. Now it uses a cylinder press and folder, propelled by a gasoline engine. Several brick stores and a modern brick churches and a concrete church have been erected.

Since the establishment of the Tribune another thriving village has been added to the county—Owingsville—which has numerous stores, nice residences, two churches and a school, and a blacksmith shop, etc. In '74 the county contained about 20,000 acres of as fine timber land as the crow ever flew over. Now there is probably less than 6,000 acres. Large bodies of timber, uncalled, could be bought for $30 per acre; now it readily commands $100 and over. Other lands doubled, tripled and in several instances quadrupled in price. Turnpikes from one to four and five miles, have been constructed at about sixty-five miles. Nearly all the old time roads have been modernized or relocated with new buildings. Fifty acres of land would then produce a crop worth $1,000; now it will produce a crop worth $2,000. Then the average price of hogs was $3 per cwt.; now it is $8.50. Then the average price of cattle was $2.50 per cwt.; now it is $5.00. Then the average price of sheep was $3.00 per cwt.; now it is $4.00. Then the average price of horses was $100; now it is $150. Then the average price of mules was $125; now it is $175. Then the average price of wheat was 75 cents per bushel; now it is $1.00. Then the average price of corn was 50 cents per bushel; now it is 75 cents. Then the average price of oats was 30 cents per bushel; now it is 50 cents. Then the average price of tobacco was 5 cents per pound; now it is 10 cents. Then the average price of hemp was $100 per ton; now it is $150. Then the average price of wool was 30 cents per pound; now it is 50 cents. Then the average price of chickens was 10 cents per pound; now it is 20 cents. Then the average price of eggs was 10 cents per dozen; now it is 20 cents. Then the average price of butter was 15 cents per pound; now it is 30 cents. Then the average price of potatoes was 50 cents per bushel; now it is $1.00. Then the average price of apples was 50 cents per bushel; now it is $1.00. Then the average price of peaches was 50 cents per bushel; now it is $1.00. Then the average price of pears was 50 cents per bushel; now it is $1.00. Then the average price of plums was 50 cents per bushel; now it is $1.00. Then the average price of grapes was 10 cents per pound; now it is 20 cents. Then the average price of strawberries was 10 cents per quart; now it is 20 cents. Then the average price of blackberries was 10 cents per quart; now it is 20 cents. Then the average price of raspberries was 10 cents per quart; now it is 20 cents. Then the average price of huckleberries was 10 cents per quart; now it is 20 cents. Then the average price of cherries was 10 cents per quart; now it is 20 cents. Then the average price of plums was 10 cents per quart; now it is 20 cents. Then the average price of peaches was 10 cents per quart; now it is 20 cents. Then the average price of pears was 10 cents per quart; now it is 20 cents. Then the average price of grapes was 10 cents per quart
