The RING and the MAN

WITH SOME INCIDENTAL RELATION TO THE WOMAN

By CYRUS TOWNSEND BRADY

ILLUSTRATIONS BY BERNHARDT PECHEL

SYNOPSIS.

A English young tradesman becomes fascinated with the local artist who is painting his portrait. Finding that the girl's father is engaged in shady transactions, the young Britisher is also confronted by the fact that the artist has a wife. He tells her the unfortunate boy's story. She responds to the lady taking the young Englishman into her confidence. She is perplexed during the evening. Mrs. Hallaine is entertained, the young Britisher is escorted home by the artist, and Mrs. Hallaine is left alone with