made mistakes but unlooked for.

As a general thing I believe the disposition was to do what was best for the great mass of the people. I see that some of our critics are scoring us for creating too many new offices while others are equally as severe because we did not create more. Notably is this true as regards the proposed creation of [illegible] was known as the Public Utility Board—a commission to regulate—or more especially—to build the utilities. The proposition was to invest [illegible] at the same time take from the State Board of Assessments consisting of the Auditor, Treasurer and Secretary of State the duties now imposed in them and give it to a new Board with many thousands of dollars added cost. I am not ignorant of the fact that this new Board might have brought many added thousands into the State Treasury but there is no good reason why the Board of Assessments as now constituted should not accomplish the desired end without the added cost and a violation of the Democratic doctrine of decentralization of government by Commissioners. The fact that Boards have not done their duty in this line is no reason we should have impugned honesty, integrity and ability of new officers within After two years trial elected officers it is shown they fail it will be time enough for the new commission. Only the results of the contest will settle the popular question as to the strength of Henry M. Stanley. The hotel here is [illegible] was put to the test, and awakened to the fact because he had refused to patronage of his office but by a syndicate of brokers that his office is shorn of its power and administered to him that have made his fourth year's discomfort. He met the challenge with firmness and easily, and proved that no child in the politics joined with him with strength and have to make to anyone the arguments and brought to bear on great. I look upon the statutes and no doubt some had one ones. I am told that the papers are giving the Legislature some rough scoring but as that is a high privilege exercised every two years by the editors I have no desire to deny them of their only remaining pleasure. Editorial Correspondence

Dry Ridge, Ky., March 15, 1912.
DEAR MERCURY:

At the request of friends I came to this place to rest and recuperate before returning home and I feel that I have made no mistake. I find here one of the neatest and up-to-date hotels and a water resembling greatly the old Blue Lick and I have hopes that it will have a fine effect upon my stomach, but I am sure the quiet and rest will do me great good. I gained about twelve pounds during the winter not withstanding the strenuous time I had. The hotel here is spanking new, steam heated and lighted by gas and is conducted upon a high plane. I had no idea I should find such a delightful place in that I would fall in with so many old friends and acquaintances. I am simply delighted that I came here instead of going to French Lick, not only on account of the expense as that I tell in with such a pleasant company of Kentuckians.

I should be pleased to write at length about the work of the late session of the Legislature but I find myself in a frame of mind to devote all the time to resting. However I should at least say that the session just closed placed many good laws on the statutes and no doubt some bad ones. I am told that the papers are giving the Legislature some rough scoring but as that is a high privilege exercised every two years by the editors I have no desire to deny them of their only remaining pleasure. The last General Assembly was composed of humans mostly and that they ward and political promises to fulfill. Bosworth won out and I believe he will make good the hopes of his friends.

I will have later something to say of the promising young gentlemen who cut their first teeth in the late "chewing" or "jawing" contest. There were quite a few that I think will be heard from in the future history making in Kentucky and as my political life is ended I am in a position to speak of them without fear or hope of future favor.

Before I close I wish to add my public approval of our grand Governor's selection of Capt. W. J. Stone as head of the bureau that will have the care of our old Confederate comrades. I am sure that the sturdy honesty of Captain Stone will insure fair play to all entitled to the help the Commonwealth has decided to extend, and at the same time protect the tax-payers from undue burdens through fraudulent claims. I may be pardoned for repeating that it would have been a pleasure to have helped

Tobacco News

Always Ahead

The Carlisle Loose Leaf Tobacco market is "it", and has been from the start.

Prices at the Farmers Warehouse the last two sales are much much inferior stock did not show up so big as here before, but every basket of good tobacco brought excellent prices. They are handling the business in fine shape and from "Roustabout to President" they are on the job in earnest.

Locust Grove

Eld. Metcalfe preached here last Sunday. The people all like their new pastor. The first Sunday in April our Sunday School will be re-organized here at 2 o'clock, not 2:30 nor 3, but 2 p.m. sharp. Henry Kokendoffer, wife and son, Albert, spent Sunday with M. S. Ockerman and wife.—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stephenson spent Sunday with Prof. Moore and family.—Wm. Dalnell and wife spent Thursday with Mrs. Kate Wells.

[From another correspondent]

We have been having some very rainy weather for the past two weeks. Misses Anna and Amy Cannon and brother spent a few days week before last with relatives at Ewing. Tom Kerns and family have moved to their new home on Locust Grove dirt road and Mr. Reffett to the Dave Smart farm. Miss Laura Woodall left Friday for a month's visit with her sister, Mrs. Ernest Bryan, of Lexington. Mrs.
