COUNTY SCHOOL NEWS

Nov. 13th is the day set apart this year by Governor McCreary as Arbor and Bird Day. How fortunate it is that our worthy State Superintendent is not a Catholic instead of a Protestant, as such and every school in the State, lets city and rural, observe that day. We urge teachers, trustees and patrons to see to it that there is a tree or trees set out in your school yard, and when set out, see that they are properly cared for. Completion has stopped at Mt. Carmel and will start again next week to each school in the county. The trees will be here early next week and trustees are requested to see either come or send for a tree. We want the trustees and legislators to see that these trees are properly set carefully and the tree without any trouble. Miss Wassom is a good, systematic worker and her pupils are doing well. She has a splendid 7th grade.

Next we visited the Barter-ville school which we had visited over a month before. We found 42 pupils there in September and 47 there this time which speaks well for Miss Pearl McCann, their teacher. He had the pleasure of hearing Dena Donahue and Elsie D. Green recite "Hiawatha" very beautifully. The children were very quiet and orderly and seemed to be doing good work, and they are taking care of their new house.

The next school visited was one at Chestnut and College, Mrs. Ethel Hall taught by Miss Ivy Bramel. This is a city district, being one of the district schools. This has been completed and is a credit to the district. It has been reinstated. Miss Wassom is the largest school in the county and is doing good work. This is a new school but she is deeply interested in her work, and the patrons seem to be with her. Willie Sellers met us at the school house and showed us the Girls' Rest Room in the Tunnie Patch," and Lula the work.

Mae Owens, also of Moorefield, who recited so beautifully. The Art Association at Newland the "Victor." Both of these little girls did so well and deserve a mention of their kindness to take a part on the Program. Prof. Jones, of the Maple Grove School, had prepared to recite "Sandy Zell," but when she learned that Ida Florence Plummer, of that little, had prepared to recite the same piece, she kindly offered to drop way. Her time to have heard her recite and she did so delightfully.

There will be a pie supper at Maple Grove, Saturday night, Nov. 2nd, for the benefit of the Turkey Orphan's Home. Everybody should go and help.

There will be a pie supper at Goose Creek, Saturday night, Nov. 9th, given by the S. S. A good program will be rendered. Every body go to this.

Don't forget the entertainment at Blue Lick Friday night of this week. A good program has been prepared and the children and teachers have been busy. Your encouragement is desired.
