THE MERCURY.
PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY
WARREN R. FISHER, ED. & PUB.
THURSDAY, NOV. 13, 1913.

Nicholas Citizens Work Roads.
(Continued from page 1)

Although some work was done on nearly every road in the county, detailed reports are difficult to get. On some of the roads the overseers appointed report as follows:

Scrub Grass—Good work done in ditching and spreading rock.

Moorefield and Carlisle—Some work done at various places along this pike.

Wheatstone Pike—Thoroughly worked.

Cane Run—Substantial work done.

Carlisle and Sharpsburg—Some work done.

Crooked Creek Pike—Thoroughly worked.

A movement is being started by County Judge Conley and Road Engineer Berry, seeking to have the merchants of Carlisle subscribe to a fund, which will be applied under the direction of the road engineer to repairing the roads. It is expected that the movement will meet with the hearty co-operation of local merchants, as they will benefit directly by any improvement of the roads.

The County Roads

The writer remembers when there were only two turnpike roads in the county. I have personally subscribed to the building of all the roads in the county in the past twenty-five years, also quite a number of schoolhouses, churches and other improvements, and ever been ready to lend a helping hand to the unfortunate, needy and poor of our county. Does the firm who makes the brand of flour you are using ever do any of these things?? Did they ever pay one cent in taxes to keep up your roads or public schools?? WE DO and we make WHITE ROSE FLOUR, none better in the State or elsewhere. We ask you to use it for two reasons. First, because WHITE ROSE is the BEST Flour. Second, it is MADE AT HOME. In a sense of fairness and justice both to yourself and to us, we ask you to consider these facts and share the next results by patronizing home industry.

W. J. KENNEDY, The Miller.

Saltwell

C. J. Bishop and wife is visiting Joseph Bishop at Greencastle.

A contracted meeting began here Monday night. Rev. Coleman is being assisted by Dr. Joseph Hogue, of Wellsville, Kansas.

W. S. Saulsbur and family spent Sunday with I. G. Mattox and family.

Frank McCleary, of Cynthiana, is visiting C. B. Deaver and family.

Misses Flossie Gantzer and May Taylor spent Saturday and Sunday with Miss Essie Daley at Headquarters.

Miss May Taylor has gone on an extended visit to Mrs. Wm. Peterson, near Steele's Ford.

Mrs. Annie B. Earlywine spent Saturday with Mrs. Martha and family. Farmers have been holding hogs.

Mr. J. H. Brooker accompanied Rep. Richard Jones Thursday.

John Hollar will move to Centerville soon.

Enoch Jones has moved to the property of S. D. Snapp.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Gaunce on Nov. 9, a son.

Ward Poe Feels That He Has Been Mistreated By Carnegie Commission

The letter published below, which is self-explanatory, was recently written by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission by Ward Poe, of Carlisle. Mrs. Jacob Geesaman, of Maysville recently received a medal and $1,000 for the rescue of Augustus Cooper, from drowning, on July 5, 1912. The newspaper accounts, at the time of the accident, gave Poe the credit for the rescue. The letter follows:

Carlisle, Ky., Nov. 6, 1913.

F. M. Wolcott, Pittsburg, Pa.

Dear Sir:—Yours of the 31st at hand. My entire case has been so misrepresented to me. I did not rescue the woman and boy expecting a reward for it, but as it was given I feel like I was the one that brought it last. The woman makes a statement to the Carnegie that that she held the boy up until I, an expert swimmer, which I am not, rescued them. She never was closer than twenty yards to the boy and the people that were there will testify to this fact. I did not go in after them according to be rewarded for it. I was out excited when I went in the water. I knew the water was very deep and knew it was an awful risk to try to save them but I saved them both. Just brought the woman ashore and then went back and got the boy. I am a poor boy, but I would not misrepresent the case or tell what is not the truth about it for all the rewards, but I feel like I have not been treated right about it. Respectfully,

EMERY W. POE,
Carlisle, Ky., R. F. D. No. 1.

No Substitutes

RETURN to the grocer all substitutes sent you for Royal Baking Powder. There is no substitute for ROYAL. Royal is a pure cream of tarter baking powder, and healthful. Powders offered as substitutes are made from alum.

County School News

We shall take the liberty this week to tell you something of the great meeting of the Ninth District Educational Association which is to meet at Maysville on the 21st and 22nd of this month. This is the third annual meeting to be held in this association. The first was here in Carlisle three years ago and all who attended it remember the educational feast it was to our city and county.

250 delegates attended that meeting. Your County Superintendent was elected treasurer and local chairman that year, and Ashland was selected as the next place of meeting. So last year quite a good delegation went to Ashland from Nicholas, including Prof. R. Dean Squires, S. K. Veach and myself. We had a great meeting there with County Supt. W. J. Layne as President and 420 delegates present. At that meeting your Superintendent was elected President and Maysville was accorded as next place of meeting.

We have written to every county and city superintendent in the district inviting their counties concerning the meeting and have had splendid replies from most of them. We are expecting at least 600 delegates.

The State Superintendent, city and county superintendents and teachers must be progressive and keep up with the leading topics of the educational world. They must study better their duties at home or become narrow. There is no better way to keep up in the educational horizon than by attending educational associations, getting inspiration and enthusiasm from other workers in the field.

Every teacher, superintendent and trustee, as well as others interested in education and better citizenship should go to Maysville the 21st and 22nd of this month.

Maysville is preparing to give us a royal time. City Superintendent J. W. Caplinger and County Superintendent Miss Yancey are over there very hard for the success of the meeting. We had a letter from Miss Yancey last Friday stating that the city board and county board were working right together for a great meeting. She says they are arranging to have Weber's Band on Saturday.

A most excellent program has been arranged containing the names of some of the best speakers of the State.

Our worthy Congressman W. J. Fields accorded a place on the program Saturday morning and will come all the way from Washington to keep the appointment, returning to Washington that afternoon.

Fine music has been prepared. The first session will be Thursday evening, Nov. 20.

Saturday afternoon there will be a grand parade of Mason county school children and Maysville school children headed by Webber's Band.

Special rates on railroad, dinners furnished by the women at 25 cents, and reasonable rates at hotels and boarding houses. Many of the best homes of Maysville will take delegates.

State Superintendent has issued orders to give the time to all teachers in the district who attend. This does not mean simply to go to Maysville but to attend the meeting.

Miss Yancey will have her School Fair at this time and the City Schools will have their exhibits so you see there will be many interesting things by which you may be benefitted.

The Carlisle City School, next to every one of the rural branches, head of the county have some of the city board and about half of the rural trustees, besides a number of interested citizens, will attend from Nicholas County. We want this to be the banner District Association of the State. Don't forget the date—Nov. 20 and 22. A program Thursday evening, Nov. 20, but the Association really begins Friday morning, Nov. 21, at 9 o'clock.

LIDA E. GARDNER, Supt.

Let THE MERCURY engrave Your Visiting Cards

Old Barley Board Elected

After an all night session, in which the lawyers of both sides were in continual wrangle over the legality of votes cast, the meeting of the stock holders of the Burley Tobacco Company, which has been in session at Lexington for a week, came to an end at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, when the ballot box, which resulted in the election of the following members of the old board began.

J. W. Dalzell, Jr., is Elected Manager of Farmers Warehouse

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Farmers Tobacco Warehouse Company, held here Monday, J. W. Dalzell, Jr., was elected Manager of the tobaccoists, operated by the Farmers Company for the ensuing year. Mr. Dalzell succeeds Mr. S. S. Bailey, who had held the position for several years. Mr. Dalzell as Manager has had much experience, and will no doubt be successful in the handling of Mr. Bailey's warehouse.

Mr. Dalzell was formerly in the tobacco business on the local market, and is well known to the farmers of this section. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dalzell, of this city.

Council Meeting

At a meeting of the city council held Monday night the following business was transacted:

Ordinance No. 1 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 2 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 3 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 4 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 5 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 6 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 7 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 8 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 9 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 10 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 11 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 12 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 13 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 14 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 15 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 16 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 17 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 18 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 19 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 20 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 21 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 22 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 23 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 24 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 25 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 26 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 27 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 28 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 29 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 30 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 31 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 32 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 33 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 34 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 35 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 36 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 37 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 38 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 39 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 40 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 41 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 42 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 43 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 44 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 45 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 46 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 47 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 48 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 49 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 50 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 51 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 52 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 53 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 54 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 55 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 56 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 57 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 58 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 59 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 60 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 61 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 62 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 63 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 64 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 65 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 66 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 67 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 68 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 69 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 70 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 71 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 72 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 73 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 74 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 75 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 76 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 77 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 78 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 79 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 80 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 81 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 82 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 83 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 84 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 85 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 86 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 87 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 88 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 89 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 90 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 91 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 92 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 93 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 94 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 95 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 96 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 97 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 98 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 99 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 100 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 101 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 102 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 103 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 104 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 105 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 106 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 107 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 108 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 109 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 110 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 111 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 112 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 113 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 114 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 115 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 116 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 117 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 118 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 119 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 120 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 121 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 122 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 123 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 124 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 125 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 126 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 127 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 128 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 129 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 130 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 131 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 132 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 133 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 134 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 135 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 136 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 137 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 138 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 139 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 140 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 141 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 142 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 143 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of assessors, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 144 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of equalization, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No. 145 was passed, which provides for the appointment of a board of health, consisting of the mayor, who shall be president, and two members, who shall be appointed by the mayor, and who shall hold office for two years, and who shall receive no compensation for their services.

Ordinance No.