Rural School News

Monday, the 24th, was the start of the rural schools in this county. Many of the schools have been under construction for the past month and will be completed in a few days. Those mentioned in the last issue of the Mercury were not in operation by May 24th, but will be by Sept. 7th. Mr. Lee Mc Cleave is now in charge of the work. Those who have not been visited by Mr. McCleave, will see him in Cleveland Park after the first Monday meeting. Mr. McCleave has been in this section for a number of years, and is a good man to do business with. He is also a man of his word, and can be relied upon to do as he says. Look over your property, the assessor will be around in a few days. Make an honest assessment of your property, and you will have no trouble with the assessor. Don't forget that the assessor is not a robber, but is a man who is trying to do his duty, and he should be treated as such. We've not more money than we have people. Wish we could handle every one of these people ourselves, we'd soon have money to burn and would only have some of it. Look over your list.

300 acres, best four boundary ever offered in Nicholas county. 250 acres of it fine blue grass pasture and it's good pasture too. A number of fine tobacco barns has produced $200 per acre; two good houses, 3 barns, one of them not yet finished, 3 1-2 miles from Carlisle on good pike, and you can have this good money making farm for Fifty Dollars an acre with good payments. It's a rare bargain and you are foolish if you don't buy it. The crop alone on about what this farm will be if it's a performer right.

"Old Beautiful," one of the best known farms in Nicholas county is for sale. 142 acres fine, big old house situated in the prettiest location in the county, barns, silo, all fences in first class shape, more than's fair the tickle of the blue grass years and years. Also have one that produced good money making farm for Fifty Dollars an acre with good payments. It's a rare bargain and you are foolish if you don't buy it. The crop alone on about what this farm will be if it's a performer right.
