as a candidate for Congress from the Ninth District of Kentucky, subject to the action of the voters of the Democratic party, in the Primary, August 1, 1914

Old Settler's Day

There is no organization in the county which deserves more support and encouragement than the association of Old Settlers of Nicholas County. That Old Settler's Day that is not the event that it was in years past, should be a matter of regret to all of our citizens, both young and old. By a majority vote taken at the meeting held here Saturday, it was decided to make the annual meetings, and a committee was appointed to make arrangements for adequate entertainment of the members of the association when they meet next year. We are glad that the meetings are to be continued. We feel ashamed that lack of interest should make necessary the taking of such a vote. We of the younger generation are, by our lack of interest, largely responsible, perhaps The Mercury, in its pledge itself to do all in its power next year to arouse interest in Old Settler's Day. The age is not so fast; the pursuit of money not so all important, but that we all may have a moment to enjoy the quiet pleasures of reunion even with those which thoughts of life past mean a reincarnation of their youth, a glimmer of the splendid hope of their young manhood. Let the arrangements for next year be made now.

Rural School News

Last week we spent several days driving over the county inspecting school property where repairs are to be made this year. We find that some of the school districts take excellent care of their school property and it is a good index of the interest the people of the district have in education. We found other districts where new houses have been built, where repairs after repairs have been made, and yet the school property was found last week without buildings, torn to pieces, doors standing open, locks broken, window panes broken and pumps lying across the tops of the cisterns. We are glad to say that only a very few have such deplorable conditions as these. Not only are the trustee and teacher responsible for the school property, but every citizen of the district should feel responsible for their school property and a pride in its appearance.

The County Board of Education was called to meet in the Superintendent's office last Saturday to open bids for the new school house at Hooktown. The bids were Butler & Shiebler of Millersburg, whose bid was $1177.97 less $50 for a concrete foundation; Geo. H. Mattox, Bartersville, whose bid was $965 less $75 for the old school house; H. Hamilton's bid for the same building was $969. The contract was awarded to Mr. Mattox. He has built two of these houses for the county and ought to know the cost.

The bids were opened for the brick veneer at Goose Creek school house, but the contract was not given as the Board decided to advertise for bids as the law only authorized one week.

The bids for the fencing and outbuildings at Blue Licks and Ellisville were opened. The bids were: Endicott Bros. for the two places, $25; and Ben Prather, $28, who was given the contract.

The County Board passed some very important resolutions relative to the care of the school property last Saturday, which will be published next week.

The Board elected Mrs. Lola Kerns, Principal of Myers School, and Mr. Price, of Hutchmond, Principal of Moorefield School. For time of opening day, also the schools was set for the second Monday in August. The teachers' contracts will be signed the last day of their being in session for the purpose of preparation. Teachers should arrange their vacation accordingly.

Persons wishing to use plans and specifications of any school work as advertised in the bids must come before Saturday afternoon, June 20th, as I leave that afternoon for Louisville, to attend the Fern Creek Chautauqua.

All bids for work must be in this office by Saturday, June 27 at 1:30 p. m.

Be sure to read next week's school news.

Good Old English Custom.

There was an old-fashioned custom in the English road, which I suspect is now obsolete or practiced only by the rustics. Boarders of health being made on horseback, and of course by brief stages. It was usual always to make a halt on the Sunday in some town where the traveler might attend divine service and his horse have the benefit of the day of rest. The festive inn of which is as humane to our brute labourers as possible to ourselves.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

Final Tests Show Water-Works To Be a Success

Before a highly interested audience, the final tests of the efficiency of the recently constructed water-works system was conducted Tuesday morning. With a fire hose tied on the hydrant, four fire hose were attached to the water plugs on Main street, at the court house corner, at the corner of Locust and Main, and at the corner of the Mt. Carmel turnpike. The pressure proved to be entirely adequate, being even greater than had been expected. As a bystander remarked, never before had as much water been turned loose from the fire hose in as short a space of time. The demonstration lasted for several minutes, the streets were thoroughly flushed, and several buildings, including the Mercury office, were given a thorough, outstanding if it was a rather unrated Spring cleaning.

Mr. Arthur Marshall Morgan, the chief engineer for the city in the construction of the system, reached Carlisle Wednesday night, and began his tour of inspection Thursday. After visiting the reservoir, inspecting the mains, pumps, spillway, dam and witnessing the fire hose test, he pronounced the system to be in excellent condition. Mr. Morgan congratulated Matthias & Rogers, the contracting firm on the excellent manner in which their work had been done. The mill was he pronounced to be as fine a piece of work of the kind as he had ever seen.

While the construction has been done under the direction of Mr. Morgan, Mr. Mrs. Severin tendent for Mr. Morgan, and he, together with the firm of Matthias & Rogers are being highly complimented upon the excellent piece of work. The work of constructing the impounding reservoir and dam was attended by no competitive bid to Matthias & Rogers at $7,400 and $8,000. Work was began the week of February 2, and since that time the work has been rapidly pushed to completion the fact that many obstacles were lost entirely, the time and error was finished on schedule time.

There, is at present, about nine feet of water in the reservoir, all of which is the result of the dam on the night, of Dec. 1. Two pumping for tests, have used about 30,000 gallons consequently the water has been a scarcity for the past two weeks time. The water now covers an area of approximately 30,000 square feet.

Many citizens have signified their intention of having pipes placed in their residences at once. Mayor J. H. Frye was the first to "take" from the city water-works, the four inch main in front of his residence being placed Monday afternoon. Guy Sligh, Stewart Dorsey, Joe Hunt, and others will be among the first to have hydrants placed.

The plant completed will cost close to $31,000. $30,000 worth of bonds were voted to erect the system. Later the mains on Chestnut street, Maple, north of Main, Locust, north of Main, and Turnpike avenue, about a mile in all were laid, and paid for by private subscription, the subscribers agreeing to be paid in water rent 18. These additional mains are subject to the $30,000 bond issue.

About the Limit in Hunting.

A Dublin gentleman was spending his vacation with some friends in the west of Ireland. As he was being driven to his destination he noticed a boy that possessed great skill with a sling and his partner if there was any sport to be had. "Indeed, sir, we had ya say shingle." Shure, it's just the small boy without a gun they'd ate up."

Say, old man, if you want that Ford automobile you ha'n't got to wake up right quick and order it, or you'll be everlastingly too late. The fishing must be exciting better for we had three parties take the creek near under last week and at least a dozen more are sidling about and strong. You can't foot the Kentucky farmer very long at a time these days when automobiles are around you could induce him to buy a Ford, and pay for by private subscription, the subscriptions are coming to be paid in water rent 18. These additional mains are subject to the $30,000 bond issue. Indeed, if you say shingle" Shure, it's just the small boy without a gun they'd ate up."

The question as to how much the big receiving tank on the Dinsmore hill holds is a fairly question, and various answers are given. The tank proper, holds 60,000 gallons. The big tube which extends from the bottom of the tank to the concrete base holds 7,000 gallons. There are between 3 1-4 and 3 1-2 miles of pipe, which hold approximately 70,000.

Up to June 15, there had been found among the assets of the defunct bank of George Alexander & Co. of the dividend notes amounting to $2,046, demand accommodations, amounting to $67,000 and worthless paper and overdrafts amounting to $68,500. The depositors having commissioner also reports that he finds $100,000 in claims that do not show on the books.

Miss Ruth Davis has resigned her position as teacher of the 4th grade to accept a position in the Harrod Graded School. She was given her choice of the 1st or 2nd grade work at Harrod at $40 per month. Harrod is a 4th class city, and has a splendid 2 story 8 room school building. They will have two teachers each for the lower grades. Miss Davis is one of our best teachers having taught four years in the rural schools here, and in the city schools here. She is a graduate of Carlisle High School and a graduate of Eastern State Normal, holding a life diploma.

H. C. Peters, of Shelbyville, shot himself, it is alleged with suicidal intent, last Friday. His grandfather, Mr. W. H. Peters, of Bethel, his aunt, Mrs. E. Kirkland, of Moorefield, and Mr. John Peters, of Bethel, left here for Shelbyville, where it was found that young Peters was not seriously wounded by having shot himself with a 22 caliber rifle, sustaining a slight scalp wound. No reason for the action is known. He is a prosperous young farmer, and has recently purchased a nice farm in Shelby county. He is the son of W. B. Peters, Jr., and is 25 years old. He returned with his grandfather Monday night.

Paris Correspondence to the Lexington Herald: The entire day Tuesday in the Circuit Court was consumed in the hearing of testimony in the damage suit of Jas. McClure, Cashier of the First National Bank, against Jas. D. McClintock. The testimony was concluded at a late hour and court was adjourned until 9 o'clock Wednesday, when the argument of counsel will be heard and will probably consume the entire forenoon. The plaintiff, Mr. McClure, is represented by Talbott & Whitley and E. H. Dickson, of the home bar, and Attorney Robert Harding, of Danville, while the defendant McClintock, is represented by Judge Denis Dundon, of Paris, and Judge Wilson, of Lexington. The case has been hotly contested and has attracted much attention.

Eat Mayonnaise, of Lexington was in Carlisle, Monday.

Mr. John McMahan, Sr., and wife have gone to Cincinnati, to spend the summer with their children and themselves and all the world. Then there is another item worthy of very favorable consideration. Father and mother are both old, feeble, slow-ish but surely going down the hill on the other side of life. At 20 years seem to be a long time, but at 70 years since either was in Paris. I'll venture none they were in Dayton; neither never was in Frankfort; hasn't been for her sister Mary for 15 years; nor her brother Tom for 20 years; nor any of the boxes and couldn't stand the trip anyway. Then for them to to climb into the auto and whiz down the hill to the place, the old friends and thus awaken their dead hearts to the well remembered visits to the well remembered visits to the well remembered visits
