URGES CARE IN SCHOOL CENSUS

APPORTIONMENT HINGES ON RESULT, ACCORDING TO SUPERINTENDENT GILBERT.

BY ACT OF GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Adult Illiterates as Well as Minors Must be Enumerated—Census to be Taken Biennially.

(Special Preacher Correspondence.)

Thacker, Ky.—In a statement sent out by State Superintendent Gilbert he urged the extraordinary importance of the coming census and enumeration and especially the necessity for the listing of the school children in subdistricts, upon which depends the basis of the apportionment of the school fund for 1913 and 1914. It will be necessary to be absentee, the basis for all statistical information, and calls attention to the requirement that adult as well as minor illiterates must be counted and by the trustees 30 Gilbert says.

By reason of the acts of the last State General Assembly this census is of unusual importance, and the attention of the school trustees has been made especially necessary. The apportionment of the school fund, which hereafter be taken biennially instead of annually. This will result in a saving of about $40,000 and makes it very important that the plan be a perfect census. It is my purpose to have the school inspectors thoroughly censor this census.

Bills with Emergency Clauses.

Attorney General Logan has prepared a list of bills passed by the last legislature which carry emergency clauses, and which become effective at once. The bill providing for the construction of streets in cities of the first class is one of the important bills on the first bill on the list.

The Harlan bill authorizes bill to become effective before the Legislature adjourns. It was one of the bills approved that increases during the session.

The bill appropriating $5,000 for the Board of Forestry, Irrigation and Conservation of the State of Kentucky, is one of the appropriation bills that will become effective at once. The bill appropriating $5,000 for the Board of Forestry, Irrigation and Conservation of the State of Kentucky, is one of the appropriation bills that will become effective at once.