PLAN MOONLIGHT SCHOOLS FOR JAILS

MRS. CORA WILSON STEWART HOPES TO STAMP OUT ILLITERACY AMONG INMATES.

OPERATED IN FRANKLIN COUNTY

Co-Operation of Jailers of Kentucky is Sought—Institutions of Boyd and Adair Are Success.

(Special Frankfort Correspondence.)

Frankfort, Ky.—If the plans of Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, chairman of the Kentucky Illiteracy Commission, are successful there will be no illiteracy among the inmates of county jails by July 1. Mrs. Stewart hopes to organize her "moonlight schools" in all of the county jails and to sending letters and literature to the jailers asking them to co-operate with her along this line. A moonlight school has been in operation in the Franklin county jail for some time, the school being the first one organized in the state. Boyd and Adair counties also have successful moonlight schools in their jails. The slogan for the committee will be "No illiteracy in a county or County Jail by July 1."

Tax Board Named.

The tax commission, authorized by the last general assembly to prepare a bill revising the revenue and taxation law, has been appointed by Gov. Beckham. The commission is composed of Senator Ollie Huffaker, of Louisville; Senator R. B. Green, of Eddyville, Democrats, and Senator H. M. Bosh, of Hickman, and Representatives T. T. Gardner, of Carlisle county; J. Stanley Brown, of Shelbyville, and S. H. Stockdell, of Bracken county, Republicans. The commission, according to the resolution, is to report next October.

The workmen's compensation law will be administered by Judge Stanley, and immediately organized and prepared for a test to test the constitutionality of the act. The members are elected for terms which mature, two years, S. W. Hager, Owensboro; three years, Richard S. P. Thomas, Bowling Green, four years, Alva Richardson, Somerset, one year. Secretary Mr. Thomas will report to the governor the names of manufacturers that are leaving Green, S. W. Hager will represent the second district and have headquarters at Owensboro. Richard S. Caldwell will represent the Third district, and have headquarters at Bowling Green. They will be in their respective headquarters every Monday and will meet in Frankfort the first and third Tuesdays of each month. Until August, when the compensation law becomes operative, boards will be engaged in preparing rules and the manner of hearing individual claims for damage cases.

Stanley Stamps Approval.

Gov. Stanley has approved the following parolees issued by the Prison Board:

James Baker, housebreaking, Fourth district court, Jefferson county, John Bowman, grand larceny, Jefferson circuit; C. B. Caldwell, forgery, Jefferson circuit; Ben Cooper, grand larceny, Jefferson circuit; Thomas Cooper, Jefferson circuit; Thomas Mathis, wife-beating, Jefferson county; Jesse Mathis, wife-beating, Jefferson county; Jesse Mathis, wife-beating, Jefferson county; John