Mr. Bryan Comes Back.

Justice Hughes has been criticising the Democratic administration for what he is pleased to call a betrayal of civil service. He has been especially bitter toward Mr. Bryan as Secretary of state. Mr. Bryan, Friday issued a statement.

In answer to recent speeches of Mr. Hughes which quoted a letter Mr. Bryan had written to the collector of Customs Vick, in Santo Domingo, inquiring as to what positions could be obtained to "reward deserving Democrats." Mr. Bryan admitted the letter as it had been quoted.

"I am not ashamed of it," the statement read. "The letter was written to an appointive officer whose office was not under the civil service and the inquiry was made in regard to offices which were not under the civil service."

The statement after declaring Mr. Hughes to have "chosen himself to make prompt use of campaign obligations," declares:

"As an official, I enforced the civil service law to the letter, and upon my resignation, received many expressions in the State Department, more than 90 per cent of whom were under the civil service, a watch which I prize as a priceless treasure. Ever since I observed the civil service law wherever it was in force, I felt myself free to aid in promoting deserving Democrats whenever it could be done with safety, consistent to the service.

"The deserving Democrat' is not to be confused' in his mind with the recognition as a deserving Republican.

"Since he was a candidate for Governor Mr. Hughes received the support of the railroads of New York, and he generously repaid the debt by vetoing the two-cent passenger rate bill. He did not describe that as shameful. When a candidate for Governor he received the support of the New York rat dodgers, the owners of swollen fortunes and he paid his debt by sending a message to the Legislature protesting against the income tax amendment to the Federal Constitution. He does not describe that as shameful.

"He is now being supported by the railroads of the United States and by the capitalists to put them back by adding them to escape State legislation and then a haven of security in exclusive Federal control' over the railroads; he is being supported by the Shipping Trusts, and expects to put them back by helping them to prevent Government competition. He is being supported by the vast magnates in the art of running Hell. And he is supported by the Devil and expects to put him back at a brimstone bonfireless, and shielding them from punishment for the extortion which they are sure to practice; he is supported by Wall street and expects to pay them back by spending American blood and squandering money raised by taxation in order to guarantee profits on speculative investments.

"And yet, with the record against him he has stoke in paying his political obligation at the expense of the public and with the pledges his speeches contain is no time for such attempts, agents and assistants for himself in 1917 should not be permitted to canvass their strength when a throne pull together is needed for the work in hand. Such service for offices to be filled in 1917 is bound to brew factional-ism and discord, when it is most important that there should be concord and the National election is over.

"The Republicans are organized with great confidence, are using vast sums of money to carry Kentucky and are devoting themselves entirely to the campaign. They are not to be lose anything interfere with the determination and Democratic ranks should be just as determined. Only our interests for the present should be considered. Woodrow Wilson, Thomas R. Marshall, A. W. Barkley, H. M. Knebelse, R. Y. Thomas, Jr., Ben Johnson, Scager Burley, Arthur R. Rouse, J. Campbell Cantrill, Harry Hein, William H. Field, Willis Slaton and S. Bell Dobinson

The Misdeeds of Wilson

"Would Mr. Hughes have gone to war over the Lusitania, or against the world for the rights of Belgium? Would he have sought to haust all the resources of diplomacy?" asks a Democratic paper of New York.

He would not have gone to war for the simple reason that there would have been no Lusitania, no Belgium to go to war over. —Philadelphia Inquirer.

Of course not. Nor would there have been any European war if Mr. Wilson had not been elected President of the United States by the wicked Democratic party. He Stay-conquerors would not have thought of killing the American Grand Duke had there not been created by the bad news from America about the election of Wilson. Everybody knows that it was only because they German Kaiser was inflamed against the world by the mistakes of Wilson that he decided to precipitate war. Britain would never have been invaded were it not for Wilson. The real reason of the Germans for shooting Miss Cavell was Wilson. If Bazine had been President they never would have done it. Wilson is responsible for the Armenian massacres and for the money in Ireland. Moreover, if Hughes is elected President and the Republicans get the offices all these bad things will be as if they had never happened.—Louisville Post.

Shipment Of Cattle Cost $38,000

Mr. Henry S. Caywood, of North Middletown, shipped Wednesday from Mt. Sterling four-teen cars of export cattle, repre-sentiely his purchase in Montgomery county.

There were 307 head in the consignment and averaged about 1,400 pounds, for which he paid an average of $1-2 cents. The 307 head of cattle brought about $124 per head, the total amount of money involved in the deal being more than $38,000.—[Kentucky Citizen.

The First Duty

It is observed with regret that many are already announcing for county offices to be filled in 1917, when every effort should be concentrated on securing votes for Wilson and the Democratic ticket for Congress. As the Louisville Times aptly says, this is no time for such announcements and assistants for himself in 1917 should not be permitted to canvass their strength when a throne pull together is needed for the work in hand. Such service for offices to be filled in 1917 is bound to brew factional-ism and discord, when it is most important that there should be concord until the National election is over.

The Republicans are organized with great confidence, are using vast sums of money to carry Kentucky and are devoting themselves entirely to the campaign. They are not to be lose anything interfere with the determination and Democratic ranks should be just as determined. Only our interests for the present should be considered. Woodrow Wilson, Thomas R. ### Death Reveals Strange Story Of John Kelley

The death of John Kelly, aged seventy-six, at the Massie Memorial Hospital in this city last Monday night reveals the strange story of a man who lived for years under an assumed name and Kelley's death was the result of general debility.

During the Civil War, Kelly, whose entire name was John Riley, killed a negro in Mt. Sterling in a quarrel, and afterwards made his escape. Riley joined the Confederate army under the assumed name of Kelly, and escaped punishment for the killing of the negro, which as developed by evidence produced afterwards was proved to have been justifiable. It transpired in the course of the investigation by the officials that Riley had interfered in behalf of a young white boy who was being unmercifully whipped by a negro because he had expressed a desire to join the Confederate service. Riley drew from his own life, drew his revolver and killed the negro. Fearing arrest and confinement for his act, he made his way to the Confederate lines, was taken in the service, in which he remained to the close of the war.

Wilson Vetoes Army Bill

Washington, August 18.—President Wilson today vetoed the army appropriation bill because of exemptions from discipline for militia officers. This feature was forced into the bill by the House conferees, led by Representative Hay, over the opposition of the War department. A new bill will be necessary and may delay adjournment of Congress. The bill carries more than $267,000,000 for the support of the army, as it is to be increased and for all the troops now in Mexican service.

Representative Hay reintroduced the bill in the House immediately, minus not only the exemption to which the President objected, but with the whole militia section which the war eliminated. This threatened to complicate the situation.

Has Talking Horse

Clay Goodloe, a former Lexington, Ky., horseman, now residing in Hoosteon, Mo., is breaking a young farm horse to work, has discovered that the horse can talk. When disciplined with a whip the animal will exclaim "Oh" in a near human accent.

Negroes who break horses for Goodloe have become superstitious about the talking horse and refuse to work or ride it. Goodloe is trying to teach the horse other words.

BOBO, THE MISCHIEVOUS MONK.

ATTENTION VETERINARIANS!

By An Act passed by the last General Assembly, approved March 20th, 1916 now known as Chapter 74 of the Acts of 1916, which regulates the practice of Veterinary Medicine, Surgery and Dentistry in the State of Kentucky, a Board of Veterinary Examiners was created which Board shall hold meetings whenever grievances for the purpose of receiving applications for certificate of license or the examination of candidates for such certificates.

All persons who have been practicing veterinary medicine, surgery or dentistry within this State for one year next prior to the passage of this Act and those who may duly qualify from recognized veterinary college are entitled to a license upon application to said Board and the approval of same and upon the payment of a fee of $7. Such certificates of license shall be recorded in the office of the County Clerk's clerk of the county in which licensee resides, and until such license is so recorded the holder shall not exercise any of the rights and privileges conferred.

After the first day of January 1917 it shall be unlawful for any person to practice veterinary medicine, surgery or dentistry in branch thereof in this Commonwealth if he does not hold a certificate of license as above stipulated and any violation of this Act shall be punished by a fine of not less than $50 or by imprisonment of not exceeding two months or by both fine and imprisonment.

All applicants for license shall present their diplomas or other credentials as required by Section 3 and 4 of this Act, to the State Board of Veterinary Examiners when filing their applications. Said Board will hold meetings at the places designated below for the purpose of receiving applicants. The meetings will begin promptly at 9 A.M. at the following places:

Lexington, Wednesday, September 20th, 1916—Phoenix Hotel.
Louisville, Wednesday, September 27th, 1916—Seelbach Hotel.
Hendenson, Wednesday, October 4th, 1916—Kingdon Hotel.

Select one of the above places for your application for license and be on hand promptly.

Mat. R. Cohen,
President, State Board of Veterinary Examiners.

Liver Trouble

"I am bothered with liver trouble about twice a year," writes Joe Dingman, Webster City Iowa. "I have pains in my side and back and an awful soreness in my stomach. I heard of Chamberlain's Tablets and tried them. By the time I had used half a bottle of them I was feeling fine and had no signs of pain." Obtainable everywhere.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

Mariaine Conway and Signor Ernesto Natiello.

THIRTY-FIVE high-class musicians, including the famous Natiello and Conway Sinfonic Ensemble, and Signor Ernesto Natiello and noted soloists and the world-famous Royal Hussar Band, the latter of the big feature at the Kentucky State Fair, September 11th. The management was very fortunate in securing this band, for there is none better in the country, and the band will be noticed in white Hussar uniforms as the band is driven through all the streets.

The Hussar band and the soloists were secured through the famous Natiello Conway Sinfonic Ensemble, which is now with the Boston Symphony orchestra. Mr. Natiello is the director, Theodore Rockefeller's Orchestra, Max Heiman's Orchestra and others of similar standing. He has been said to be very fine and has a range that enables her to sing all the high notes.

A feature that is attracting much attention wherever the Natiello Band appears is the Uni-Fon, a new instrument. It is placed like a piano and has a rich tone that can be heard at great distance. The band is the best to include the Uni-Fon in its equipment.

Leader of Ability.

Ernesto Natiello is one of the celebrated band of that name known all over the country, and he has been at its head since 1878. Six years later his father, Signor Antonio Natiello, came to America and was appointed bandmaster on the United States ship Brooklyn. He made Ernesto cornet soloist in a band he had organized in Philadelphia.

In 1885 Ernesto returned to Europe to finish his musical studies. Attaining the highest degree of proficiency on the cornet, young Natiello came back to the United States as soloist with the famous band of Milan. After an American tour, he returned to Naples and assisted in the Italian army, serving as cornetist in the royal band for six months, when he decided to come to America and organize his present band, shortly after which he became a naturalized citizen of his new country.
