The IRON CLAW

by Arthur Stringer

Author of "THE OCCASION," "THE SPENDER," "THE WIRE TAPPERS," "GUN RUNNERS," etc.

Novelized from THE PATHE PHOTO PLAY OF THIS SAME NAME

SYNOPSIS.

On Windward Island Paisley interviews Mrs. Gaston Le Launie, a widow, from which causes Gaston to capture and torture Paisley, who escapes. Paisley tells Mrs. Le Launie of Gaston's plot to kill her husband and kidnap Gaston's little daughter Marie. Gaston and his men capture Mrs. Le Launie, Marie, Monsieur Mouret (the little girl's governess) and Paisley. Gaston tells Mrs. Le Launie that he will kidnap Marie and hold her for a ransom of $50,000 and that Mrs. Le Launie must write a letter to her husband demanding the money. Mrs. Le Launie refuses. Gaston tells her that unless she does so he will torture Marie. Under the threat of torture Mrs. Le Launie writes the letter. Gaston takes Marie to the cave where Le Launie's treasure is hidden. Paisley escapes from the cave. Gaston tells Mrs. Le Launie that he will kill Marie unless she writes a letter to her husband telling him to deliver the money to Gaston. Mrs. Le Launie refuses. Gaston tells Marie that he will kill her mother unless she writes the letter. Mar