SEVEN MONTHS TERM TO STAY

ACCORDING TO THE WAY STATE SUPERINTENDENT GILBERT SEES CONDITIONS.

DECLARES $5.10 PER CAPITA

For Kentucky Schools—Slight Decrease in Comparison With That of Last Year.

(Special Frankfort Correspondence.)

Frankfort.—The seven months school term, introduced last year when the per capita distribution of the state school fund was increased from $4.10 to $5.10 will be continued this year and State Superintendent Gilbert believes it is permanent. He received a per capita of $5.10. Last year the fund received an abnormal increase on account of the payment of additional taxes by railroads in their suits over assessments for three years, and this year it is a normal increase.

This will affect the salaries of teachers about 25 cents the month, where counties raise by the difference. The estimated school revenues for the year are $3,781,751, as compared to $4,135,454.16 last year. The total number of pupils upon which the per capita is estimated is 741,457.

Consolidation of Schools.

The private value of consolidated schools was demonstrated in a striking way when Professor Graham, Coates, supervisor of rural schools, made an educational survey of Nelson county, which is the leader in modern consolidated schools. He found that 121 rural pupils are attending the county high school at Bardstown and Minerva and the city high school of Macedon. All of them attending the latter. Nineteen of the 12 sub-districts have not a whole pupil in the high schools, while 8 of the 121 went free. The consolidated schools and all those of the rest are from the environs of Macedon. Professor Graham has sent another letter while on a trip in the mountains: Pulaski has 22 consolidated schools. Every educational district has had at least one consolidated. The schools in that county are now average four to a division and in the seventh consolidated it was necessary to teach all the grades. They alternate, teaching the first, second and third grades every year, the third, fifth and seventh one year, and the fourth, sixth and eighth the next. This greater attention can be paid to classes. They have no introduced the transportation system, but the consolidations have proven popular and successful.

Kentucky Crop Report.

The crop prospects in Kentucky this year is far above the average, and, with normal conditions, the yield will average about 97 per cent. The crop report just issued by Dr. T. J. Coits, Commissioner of Agriculture, Labor and Statistics, shows that all of the winter wheat sown in the state in Lexington was appointed attorney for the collection of fees for the state board. At Lakeland Dr. Charles Vaughn, of Louisville, was appointed state assistant physician in place of Dr. J. A. Wardrobe, of Pewee Valley, resigned. J. A. Abrams, of Lexington, succeeds George E. Rogers as inspector of Frankfort, as steward; A. A. Hulett, clothier; Frances Bean, Presbyterian; succeeds George C. Speer as inspector of Lexington, and Mrs. Lucy Hamilton, of Bardstown, succeeds R. B. O'Hara, Dean, of Louisville, as matron of the Woman's Department. Dr. Ben Allen, from which Superintendent Gilbert, of Lexington, succeeds Dr. Fred L. Lazar, of Smithland, Democrat, was appointed a member of the board. Dr. T. Trigg, of Glasgow, succeeds U. C. Dudley, of Hopkinsville, physician at Samuel Hayes, of Elkton, succeeds W. H. Hopkinsville, as steward.

Paducah Election Case.

Judges Settle, Carroll and Hunt heard the arguments in the Paducah election case, in which E. J. Paxton, Democrat, and Jack Bryant and Frank N. Burns, appointees of Commissioner of Accounts Wallace, are seeking to obtain an injunction restraining Mayor Ernest Lackey and Councilmanic Harry S. Corbett, Sanders E. Clay and George Grave, county judge, and Commissioner from performing the duties of the offices. The case was argued by Judge W. Hendricks, of Paducah, and James H. Mayfield, of Mayfield.

Stanley Pardons Two.

Gov. Stanley pardoned Chit Hendley, of Hardin county, sent to the penitentiary in 1908 for killing James Miller. He was given a twenty-year sentence. Corbett Buckingham, of Breathitt county, a boy 15 years old, serving a term in the House of Reformation for housebreaking, also was given his liberty by the Governor.

Vegetables For Prisoners.

Several warm loads of new potatoes, cabbage and beans have just been received at the State Reformatory from the Reformatory farm. Another fatty contents are at present employed at the farm and, according to Warden Walls, the installation will have all the vegetables needed from now on. Last year 12,000 gallons of vegetables were canned and as that was the first attempt at canning vegetables for the winter the prison authorities declared it will increase the output of canned goods this season.

School Census Shows Gain.

The school census for 1910 shows a gain of 4,000 children of school age over the census of 1910. According to the census report compiled by the Department of Education there are 742,- 457 children in Kentucky between the ages of 6 and 20, of which 667,016 are white and 75,441 are negroes. Of this number 112,641 whites are listed in the cities and 604,375 in the rural and graded districts; 20,235 negro children are listed in the cities and 55,- 206 in the rural and graded districts.

State Urges Cleanup.

A state-wide clean-up to avert any possible epidemic of infantile paralysis in Kentucky has been ordered by the State Board of Health. The proclamation follows:

Whereas, infantile paralysis, essentially a disease of childhood, and of children, and which has appeared in adults, in a severe epidemic form as in New York and has already spread to other sections, with sporadic or suspicious cases having been reported in this state, and the present prolonged hot weather, the danger period of about 25 years, and a large portion of those surviving suffering more or less completely paralyzed; and, whereas, the health officer and every of the disease is to break over official control and spread unchecked in the presence of filth and flies in and about the home, yards, alleys and streets, unless every case is rapidly isolated and all discharges from the throat, nose and bowels are promptly burned or disinfected until complete recovery, and the assembling of children in schools is really dangerous districts, now, therefore,

Be it known, that the State Board of Health, in the exercise of authority vested in it by law, and in the discharge of a public duty, hereby urges and directs that the health and civil authorities of every city and town in Kentucky, shall take immediate steps to clean up alleys, streets, tenements, public places, and private premises, and to enforce and systematic measures to secure the cleaning and lining of all back yards and premises, and secure the thorough screening of houses, all to the end that the danger of this emergency no good citizen should wait for the law to force him to do his duty and for the protection of his family and neighbors, and that there are hereby restrictions of children under 15 years of age, either infected or suspected, cities should be discouraged, and, when practicable, abandoned, and that in all such children should be recorded in the health office. Should the occurrence of a suspicious case it should be immediately reported to the health officer and, without fear or favor, as timely isolated that no one can enter the room except the nurse and physician, and that the room be thoroughly cleaned, sent to the hospital, and all discharges burned or disinfected as in a case of diphtheria and scarlet fever. All of the above measures are to be carried out and another letter will write at a trip in the mountains: Pulaski has 22 consolidated schools. Every educational district has had at least one consolidated. The schools in that county are now average four to a division and in the seventh consolidated it was necessary to teach all the grades. They alternate, teaching the first, second and third grades every year, the third, fifth and seventh one year, and the fourth, sixth and eighth the next. Vacancies Are Filled.

Gov. Stanley has made a raffle of the three state hospitals, which will occur August 4, were filled by the State Board of Control. The staff of the Eastern State Hospital at Lexington is unchanged. Superintendent J. A. Goodpasture, Dr. Minor Embry, assistant physician, and Steward James H. Reid. Dr. Charles Vaughn, of Louisville, was appointed attorney for the collection of fees for the state board. At Lakeland Dr. Charles Vaughn, of Louisville, was appointed state assistant physician in place of Dr. J. A. Wardrobe, of Pewee Valley, resigned. J. A. Abrams, of Lexington, succeeds George E. Spring Supplies.

The State Board of Control is now in session here is buying dry goods, clothing and bedding for the state hospitals. It is probable that several appropriations will be made by the board this week.

Charged With Horse Stealing.

Will Henry, arrested here on a charge of horse stealing, preferred by a farmer named Hall, of Hopkinsville, will have the case tried before Judge Sheriff Mc Chesney.

Fire Damage Repaired.

The Frankfort Chair Co., which was greatly damaged recently in the incendiary fire, has notified the State Board of Prison Commissioners that it can get all the men under reimployment at work the first of the week. The board will erect a new building.

Sued to Prison.

Charles T. Tucker, of Frankfort, arrested five years ago for using the mails to defraud, and convicted, was sent to the Atlanta penitentiary to serve 15 months.

MAD NEGRO SLAYS 5

CHICAGO MANIAC IS THEN KILLED BY BIG FORCE OF POLICEMEN.

HOME CONVERTED INTO FORT

Madman Holds 150 Officers at Bay Before Home Surrounded and Finally Forced to Use Dynamite to Dislodge Crack Shot.

Chicago, July 13.—Six persons are dead and three wounded as the result of a pitched battle between 150 policemen and a negro maniac and his wife, barricaded in a house on Irving avenue. The battle was ended only when the police dynamited the flat building in which the negroes were quartered, after hundreds of shots had been fired.

Dead:

Stuart Dean, aged sixty, policeman.

Edward Knox, negro, aged thirty-four.

Alfred Matthews, negro, aged thirty.

Henry J. McIntosh, negro, about thirty, barricaded, died in the Park Avenue hospital.

Hattie McIntyre, negress, aged about thirty, wife of the murderer.

Wounded:

Edward Gaffney, detective sergeant; condition serious.

John Coughlin, detective sergeant; wounded in the right hand.

Oliver C. Crabtree, policeman, aged twenty-seven; shot in the right wrist and the right elbow.

Mrs. Sadie Knox, aged forty; shot in the leg.

John Lavin, policeman; right arm injured.

It was shortly after six o'clock in the morning when Edward Knox, who lives next door, heard firing, and stepped out on the front porch. He dropped instantly, and Mrs. Knox went out to see what had happened to her husband. Matthews and his wife were unable to get to her assistance, however, after the house had been blown up.

The police then appeared, and the battle began. They advanced on McIntosh's home with drawn guns. After a conference with officers of the public health service, Coroner Traeger called for New York, accompanied by Dr. William Gaby Rucker, also of the public health service.

Mendota, Ill., July 13.—Edward, the five-year-old son of William McDonald of Arlington, nine miles west of here, died of infantile paralysis.

WILSON TO GO TO WISCONSIN

President Going to the Lake Country for Vacation, Says Report.

Rhinelander, Wis., July 13.—That President Taft is going to enjoy Uncle Sam's lake country for at least two weeks this summer is the report here from the caves of office preliminary to his full presidential campaign is the word that came out of the northern woods today. Secretary Frank H. Hoost Northern on the Tomahawk lake resort near Woodruff announced that he had been notified to reserve a cottage for Taft. Four rooms were taken in August. The president is coming on the invitation of Governor McGovern, according to Wisconsin democrats.

The note troops are encamped at San Antonio, Brownsville, Fort Logan, Del Rio, Marathon, Eagle Pass, Laredo, Marfa and El Paso, in the state of Texas; at Columbus, N. M., and Douglas, Ariz. Small detachments are also located at intermediate points.

For military reasons, General Funston stated, it was impossible to give the numerical distribution at the various bases.

CLARKE NAMED NEW JUSTICE

U. S. Judge of Cleveland Succeeds Hughes—Was Appointed to Bench in 1906.

Washington, July 13.—President Wilem Frisby went to the senate the nomination of Federal Judge J. H. Clarke of Cleveland, O., to be associate justice of the United States Supreme court.

Judge John Hessin Clarke is now on the bench of the United States district court at Cleveland. He was born at Columbus, O., on September 18, 1857. In 1906 he was appointed to the bench of the United States district court.

Judge Clarke has all his life been a Democrat in politics. He ran for the United States senate against Mark Hanna, Republican candidate, in 1903. Judge Clarke is a bachelor. Most of his leisure time has been spent in traveling and in study of curriculum reform and Americanization of immigrants.

RUSS ADVANCE NEAR RIGA

Artillery on Land and Sea Aids Progress in the Vicinity of Semmern.

Petrograd, July 17.—The Russian official statement says:

"On the right wing of our Riga position, supported by artillery on land and sea, we made some progress in the region west of Semmern. On the remainder of the front there were local engagements which did not modify the general situation."

Thoughts Above Finance.

Robert Louis Stevenson had no money sense whatever. He had Mrs. Stevenson once went to Paris for a pleasure trip. They had a check for $500, and some loose money, and they meant to have a good time, and stay as long as their money held out, after a few days they found their funds running short; they could not imagine what they had done with it all, but as there seemed to be very little left, they decided they had better go home while it lasted. When they got home they found the check for $500 among the papers on the desk. They had not cashed it at all, and they did not even know they had not.—S. S. McClure.

What Did He Mean?

Mrs. Flatbush—"I understand the Kalmers are very keen domino players, and sometimes bet heavily, even putting up their wives and losing them." Mr. Flatbush—"Well, I bet there are a lot of good losers among the Kalmers."—Yonkers Statesman.

ORPET IS SET FREE

JURY REACHES VERDICT OF ACQUITTAL AFTER STAYING THREE BALLOTS.

OUT FOUR HOURS AND HALF

Youth Sat Unmoved in Chair as If in Stupor When Verdict Was Announced — Mother Leads Youth From the Courtroom.

Waukegan, Ill., July 17.—Will Orpet is free.

The jury reached a verdict of acquittal after four hours and thirty-nine minutes' deliberation and three ballots. The verdict means the young orphan, who was charged as principal, in the eyes of the law, at least, for the death of Marian Lambert, his one-time sweetheart, February 9.

And thus ended the story of that deadline love, deception and death which began when Orpet and Marian were high school students together.

He paid her part of the penalty by death by poison within the shadows of the three oaks in Hesler's woods. Orpet paid his part by two months of torture in the hands of the sheriff and his attempt to commit him.

The jury which rendered the verdict from James C. Cribbs, the foreman of the jury. The study this young man's room was crowded. The verdict was the first the jury had agreed upon.

Orpet sat unmoved in his chair as though he was in a stupor. He was led by Will Orpet and Will Hall and in the courtroom for the last two months—crying, crying, crying. Meanwhile the defendant were his mother, Mrs. Edward Orpet, and Mrs. Edwin Taylor, his landlady in Madison, Wis. The mother of the boy knew Orpet's tears when she realized he was free. She left the jury room and left the courtroom she has stood by him. And the mother of the boy never turned aside from him.

Orpet took his arm and led him from the courtroom, from the throng of persons who surrounded him. As an aside from the pat her arms around him and kissed him. And she believed in his innocence from the start.

Orpet's mother was not in the courtroom. Instead was Frank Lambert, father of the dead girl. He attended the closing hours of the trial by jury, but went home when the jury retired to deliberate. His wife is ill in bed with the long anxiety of the trial.

Orpet's mother was prostrated when it was announced that the jury had agreed on a verdict. She was unable to get to
