TONIGHT--THURSDAY

You that have never seen the celebrated play and the legitimate stage so titled "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," with Charlotte Walker in the role of Little Jean, can have that pleasure tonight. We are sure you want to see this picture--it will be your only chance. Are you coming? Sure you are.

FRIDAY Comes the second episode of the "Iron Claw." It is not too late to start this the most exciting serial we have ever had and we want you to see all of them. Good comedy all also shown with each episode.

SATURDAY Comes a Red Feather, "The Mating," featuring Flora Parker DeHaven.

SUNDAY A Paramount picture--Florence Reed well in "He Fell in Love with His Wife."

TUESDAY We will present Lillian Walker, with Ewart Overton, in "Heroine of the Mountains," a high-class western picture, something fine.

Which Do You Prefer?

It is important for reasons of health and practical economy for every housekeeper to ask herself this question:

"Do I prefer a pure baking powder like Royal, made of cream of tartar derived from grapes, or am I willing to use a baking powder made of alum or phosphate, both derived from mineral sources?"

The names of the ingredients printed on the label show whether the kind you are now using or any brand, new or old, that may be offered is a genuine cream of tartar powder, or merely a phosphate or alum compound.

Royal Baking Powder contains no alum nor phosphate.

THE CARLISLE MERCURY.

ESTABLISHED 1867--OLDEST NEWSPAPER IN NICHOLAS COUNTY

VOL. LI-- CARLISLE, NICHOLAS COUNTY, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1916 NUMBER 46

COMMENT

TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS.

With next week's issue the subscription lists of The Carlisle Mercury and The Nicholas Advocate will be combined and one paper will be published under the name of The Carlisle Mercury. The lists will be gone over carefully and due credit will be given subscribers who are paid in advance, on either of the two papers. This will necessarily be a considerable work and we would ask all subscribers to be patient with us, and at the same time report promptly any mistakes that may occur.

Business men of Carlisle and of the county have for some time freely expressed the opinion that one newspaper, receiving the patronage of all, could best serve the interests of Carlisle and county. The recent merger in the direct result of this sentiment, coupled with the fact that enormous increases in the price of paper and printing material necessitated the increase in the news readjustment in the printing and publishing business here.

A stock company, in which about one-third of the capital stock of $4,000 was subscribed by business men of Carlisle, was organized this week; articles of incorporation were filed and the plants and good will of The Carlisle Mercury and The Nicholas Advocate were taken over. Fifty shares, at a par value of $10 each are still on the market and it is the purpose of the stockholders to place these shares with the citizens of Nicholas county.

It was deemed best to continue the publication under the name of The Mercury, as the latter paper will celebrate its fiftieth year of continuous publication in January.

Mr. J. H. Tilton, former editor of The Advocate, has accepted a position as News Editor on the new company. The editor of The Mercury would like to say just here that in our experience we have never known a man who could beat him in the matter of going out after news and getting it--and we have had considerable experience on city papers, where the "nose for news" is the chief requisite. Therefore, we feel safe in saying to our readers that each week they will get all the news, if there is any news to get.

It is our intention to conduct a newspaper for the people of Nicholas county; to make it primarily interesting to them; to eventually make them interested in us. It will take time to arrange all of the mechanical details incident to the merger, and the combined advertising may squeeze our news columns a bit for a time. To this we ask your patience, assuring you that we mean to give you as good a weekly newspaper as our combined efforts can make.

We thank you each and every one for your patronage, for the occasional word of appreciation that has helped, for your kindness shown in many ways--and for the new company and The Carlisle Mercury takes pleasure in bespeak your loyal patronage.

Woodrow Wilson, Thomas Riley, Campbell, Ohio, Judson, Augustus Daniels and Theodore Roosevelt are spending today at the home of Robert Talbott, clerk at the Phoenix hotel. They arrived on Saturday, intending to hunt squirrel and rabbits, in a fox terrier, who is also making her home at the Talbott residence on Forest avenue. Mr. Talbott said it might be necessary to change some of the names, depending largely upon whether those selected proved to be in every respect aggregation.--Lexington Leader.

Paid Election Bet

The payment of a freak election bet caused much amusement along Main street Saturday afternoon when Elva Kendall and W. J. Kerton, Jr., who espoused the cause of Charles Evans Hughes, appeared trundling wheel barrows in which were seated Democrats Hall and Eldred Curtis. The procession moved west on Main street over the freshly spread rock, but the gallant Republican barrow-shovers stuck to their tasks and when the completed model road was reached they were going was easy.

Thanksgiving Turkey Market In Full Sway.

The Thanksgiving slaughter of turkeys will be done some time before next, says Mr. J. H. Stewart, local buyer for Cudahy Bros. At least, have been called from the country and the price being paid today is good, 20 cents, four cents on the pound more than was paid at this time last year.

Mr. Stewart stated to THE MERCURY that there was a usual crop this year, but that the quality was not so good, many of them being lean and fat. He says he expects to issue after having a conference about next Monday, and pounds which he expects to forward to the eastern markets with the opening of the coming week. These facts will of course be passed on to the local and Eastern markets at not less than forty cents the pound.
