Frankfort.—About $2,000 worth of fish nets and seines were destroyed by five deputies from the office of the Kentucky Fish and Game Warden, at Frankfort, Ky., during a raid which covered more than 250 miles on the shores of Green river during last week. The raid ended at the mouth of Green river, about nine miles from Evansville, Ind. Five men, J. H. Pittman, of Greenville, Ky.; M. M. Rudolph, Sturgis, Ky.; Dr. Leslie Bixler, Glasgow, Ky.; C. L. Wedding, Dundee, Ky., and Wade V. Richardson, Louisville, a deputy game warden, gathered at Mammoth Cave on the morning of last Tuesday; the 3rd, where they prepared for the raid. They then motored to Rowlett's, on the Green river, and set out in the boat for their trip up Green river.

Covering both sides of the shore, the five men proceeded up the river to Mud Lick Upon finding these articles, the deputies drove the boat to the lshore and built fires with them. Most of their work in destroying the nets and seines was carried on at night and several times the deputies had thrilling experiences. During the raid they estimated that about 300 nets and seines were burned.

On Pond river, a branch of Green river, near Calhoun, Ky., more than a freight carload of nets were destroyed. The deputies will continue with their work of destroying nets and it is understood will search the Ohio river.

Wholesale violations of the game and fish law resulted in the raid. The law provides that fishing with nets or seines in contrary to the statute, and fishing can be done only with hooks and lines or with apparatus with hooks attached.

"Last year showed an unusual death rate from scarlet fever and diphtheria. Reports coming to the board already indicate considerable epidemics of both diseases this year. You are instructed that this rule is to be strictly enforced; that no patient of which where diphtheria has existed is to be released from quarantine until two negative reports have been received from the state laboratory or one of our city laboratories.

"Under no circumstances should a quarantine in a case of scarlet fever be raised in less than 30 days, as contagion in scarlet fever seems to come from the discharges from the nose, throat and ears, and it is the duty of the health officer to see to it that they are not allowed to do so.

"You will be interested in knowing that during the past year no cases of smallpox, where the case existed, already have disclosed 14 diphtheria carrier cases.
