DEMOCRATIC TICKET

For President
WOODROW WILSON
For Vice President
THOMAS R. MARSHALL
For Congress
WILLIAM J. FIELDS

Over-Confidence Dangerous

While there is every indication that Kentucky will go for Wilson by a large majority the consummation desired to be by so much to be accomplished only by every Democrat doing a little work. The enemy is making strenuous efforts to win the prize and no money and other devices known to those who are not above doing anything to accomplish their purpose. Tainted money is being poured into the State and if it can secure enough votes to change their allegiance the result may be problematical. Fortunately however, the Republicans have little confidence that they can carry Kentucky even with Wall Street's aid and are making the effort of their lives to hold even their own, as is shown by Hughes' candidate Judge Hughes through the State again much of it through the territory had by them, and of which they have seen in no wise certain. They are going to endeavor every inch of ground, however, not Democrats must be alert. Let eternal vigilance have full sway, and never say quit till a glorious victory is won. Stand on your arms and if you must sleep on them do it with one eye open and then we can exult with exceeding great exultation.

Less Than One Month

Less than four weeks remain before the election. Let them be weeks of conscious work for the Democratic ticket that Kentucky will do her part toward continuing in power an administration that which has wrought so much good for the country. The old Commonwealth is naturally Democratic and there is never a doubt of the outcome when every Democrat does his duty. Now, more than ever in the history of the country that duty is most imperative. Don't fail to go to the polls and urge your neighbor to do likewise and we shall have four years of Wilson with all the benefits to the country that such a result means.

Says Marse Henry:

"Charles Evans Hughes, let us frankly say, is one of the best and purest of men. He is a good judge of law. He is a good man of business. But he knows no more about politics than a boy with a rattle has as little insight for partisans as a scholar for money or sport—yet, like many amateurs in money and sport, of boundless self confidence. Thus no sooner was the flag given him to carry, than he starts his breeches in two bouts, pulled off his coat, rolled up his sleeves, spat on his hands and cried, 'Let me show you a thing, or two.'

And he did. He did for a fact. You bet he did. He went after Wilson—he went after Wilson like a duck after a June bug—he pointed out a wart on the toe of one of Wilson's hind feet—he detected a seam in the seat of Wilson's pants—he showed that at a dangerous crossing Wilson had flagged and stopped the train with his left hand instead of his right."

Keep Wilson On Guard

A noted war correspondent just returned from the battle fields in Europe and who has seen at short range all the horrors of war, urges that the people of this country keep Wilson on guard that he may continue to keep the United in peace with honor. He has seen the many attempts of the allies to have this country engage in war with the Germans and of the Germans to have us declare war on the allies and of the various attempts of Germany to provoke us to war and has gloried in the masterly and courageous manner in which the president has met every effort, without involving us in the conflict raging nearly all over the world and knows that while most of the nations now at war hate us they are compelled to respect us and do respect the man who has carried every point and kept the country in peace. This alone, if there were not thousands of others reasons, should insure Mr. Wilson's re-election and the patriotic peace loving men rally to his support.

Rural Church Institute

The Third Annual Rural Church Institute under the auspices of the Kentucky Christian Bible School Association will be held at the First Creek Church, Anderson County, near Lawrenceburg, Oct. 25-26, 1916. Much attention has been given recently to the study of rural life problems, and institutes of this sort are full of interest to a great many. Former institutes were held at Providence in Jessamine County and North Middletown in Bourbon County. The last named had over 600 in attendance, half of whom were out-of-town delegates.

SIDNEY CLAY KILLED BY LEE DEAVERS IN BOURBON

F. W. Link, chief of police at Paris, who went at once to the scene, took charge of the case and held an inquest. The statement follows: The shooting took place at the home of Mrs. Pearl Deavers' about 9 o'clock this morning. Mr. Clay came to the house and asked Mrs. Deavers where Mr. Deavers was. She told him he was at the Millett farm, across from a fence. He told her he had come to the back porch and looked in the room in which the three were sitting, by means of a door off the porch. Then without saying a word, he walked off the porch, around the house onto the front porch. In a few moments he returned and entered the room where the three were sitting, by means of a door off the front porch. He leaned on a sewing machine near the front door and fired one shot at his right coat pocket.

Clay Speaks To Deavers

"Mr. Clay was the first to speak, saying: 'Hello Pockets.' (This was Deavers' nickname.)

"Deavers answered, saying, 'Yes, sir, I don't want you here. I want you to stay away.'

"Mr. Clay arose, saying, 'I didn't know you felt that way to me,' and left the room, as he was through with the matter.'

"Mr. Clay walked down and met Mr. Clay started through the screen door onto the front porch, Deavers scarcely got started when his right hand coat pocket and shot Clay in the back. Mr. Clay turned and said said, 'Why, Lee, you shot me' and began to charge. Deavers ran at him and they clinched on the porch. They separated and Clay staggered back in the house to pick up his hat.

"In the meantime Deavers ran either upstairs or into another room, (Mrs. Deavers did not remember which) and was coming back with a rifle. Mrs. Deavers met him on the porch and attempted to take the rifle from him. Another pistol he knocked her from the porch and as Clay opened the screen to come out on the front porch Deavers opened fire on him. Clay staggered back into the room and Deavers followed still firing. Mrs. Deavers said she became so excited that she hardly knew exactly what happened, except that she heard a gun and shots fired after the two men went back into the house.

Shots Heard By Victim, Says Sister

"Then all became quiet, and a short time later, after she saw Deavers place the pistol by the stand of Clay, where Mr. Clay fallen lifeless, in the dining room, and leaving the front room where the trouble started."

Robert C. Talbott, one of the attorneys representing Deavers, gave out the following statement after visiting Deavers in the county jail:

"Lee Deavers' plea will be one of self-defense. Mr. Deavers told me he went to the farm of F. J. Millett, adjoining his farm, in company with A. J. Garey, early this morning. He returned unexpectedly and found Mrs. Bedford Deavers, widow, who is his sister-in-law, and with whom he makes his home, in the room with Mr. Clay. Deavers had warned Clay to stay out of his house because of the talk it would cause, if he were there in company with Mrs. Deavers, and when he found him, there this morning, he ordered him out. An argument followed and Mr. Clay pulled out a gun and fired at Deavers. He missed and before he could fire again Deavers closed in on him. A scuffle followed in which they left the house and went onto the front porch.

"At this juncture Mrs. Deavers relied she had been shot and Clay relaxed his hold on Deavers. Deavers broke away and ran into the house to get his rifle. As Clay came at him again with his pistol leveled, Deavers opened fire and shot five or six times in quick succession. Then he gave himself up to officers.

In over a million homes they know

At some time every woman has had her coffee problem—"bad coffee, medium coffee, coffee that was never twice the same."

A million women have solved the problem by serving Arbuckles'. Get a package of Arbuckles' Coffee today and see why.

Everyone likes it. Morning after morning a million men praise it for its fine, full flavor. Women depend on it. In all these homes, it helps make breakfast a complete success.

Read what a few of these women say:

"I recommend Arbuckles' Coffee to my friends. I buy it all the time because it is better coffee."—Miss B., Mercer, Ky.

"I use Arbuckles' because it is stronger than 25c coffee, and Arbuckles' packages are full 16 oz."—Mrs. V., Coldwater, Kans.

"I have been using Arbuckles' Coffee for years, and have not found its superior or equal."—Miss H., Bessemer, Ala.

"The finest cup of coffee I ever tasted!" Like these million other women you can have your husband say this. Isn't that satisfaction worth a little time and effort—wouldn't it be worth while even to make a special trip to the grocery store for a package of that fresh, full flavored coffee a million other men are enjoying?

Have it tomorrow. He will praise it morning after morning. When you serve Arbuckles' you will know why it has solved the coffee problem in over a million homes.

There are hundreds of varieties of coffee grown. To get the result you want, the coffee itself must be right. Arbuckles' Coffee is. It is put up by Arbuckle Bros., the greatest coffee merchants in the world. They can give you greater value in coffee than anyone else. No wonder Arbuckles' is the most popular coffee in America today!

Arbitration

is the twentieth century means of settling disputes.

In time, Arbitration should supplant war in deciding differences between great nations. Acceptance of the principle of Arbitration will render great industrial strikes impossible—and even minor differences will come to be settled by this means. Impartial judges can be counted upon to render fair decisions.

To impartial judges of roofing, we will always be willing to leave decision as to the comparative merits of roofings, confident that intelligent investigation will result in a decision for

Certain-teed
Roofing

As investigation into methods of manufacture would show that only the best quality of roofing felt is used in CERTAIN-TEED roofing. This is thoroughly saturated with a blend of coal tar pitches, the formula of the General's Board of Health. It is then coated with a blend of harder asphalts, which forms an impervious coating and prevents the inner saturation from drying out.

This explains why CERTAIN-TEED defies ordinary roofing, and why it is possible to guarantee it for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to grade (1, 2 or 3). The responsibility of the world's manufacturer of roofing and building paper is behind this guarantee, which is unconditional, as experience proves that CERTAIN-TEED outlives the period of guarantee.

The General makes one third of America's needs of asphalt roll roofing. His factories are unequaled for the purpose of producing the highest quality roofing at the lowest manufacturing cost.

CERTAIN-TEED is made in many styles, including hand shingles. There is a type of CERTAIN-TEED for every kind of building, with flat or pitched roofs, from the largest factory or mill to the smallest residence or outbuilding.

CERTAIN-TEED is sold by responsible dealers almost the world, at reasonable prices. Investigate it before you buy any type of roofing.

Wandering Bottle

The Louisville Times prints a story regarding the finding of a bottle in Algiers, till the coast of the Mediterranean Sea, which had been thrown in the Cumberland river, near Kuttawa, Ky., on January 2, 1916. The bottle contained a piece of paper, on which was written the names and addresses of four Kentucky boys, all residents of Kuttawa.

The bottle and its message was found floating in the port of Algiers by Mrs. Louis Roque, of Algiers, and Fred Navin, the latter a native of New York, and was forwarded to the postmaster of Kuttawa with a letter stating the circumstances of its finding, and a request that it be restored to the writers.
