COUNTY SCHOOL NEWS

All of last week was spent in the office except Tuesday; I went to Frankfort on business just for the day. We had planned to visit some schools but an attack of rheumatic neuralgia rendered it impossible to do so.

Monday morning we could not get a conveyance which we had and so had to linger in or on.

Don't forget teachers' meeting at trustees' line next Saturday at 9 o'clock promptly in the County Court room. As stated last week Prof. J. Y. Brown, our new State Rural School Supervisor, will address the meeting. Let's have a big time. We have invited Prof. H. Dunn Squires and all leaders and have asked him to speak and he has promised to do. We hereby extend an invitation to the citizens of Carlisle and the trustees of Carlisle and the public to our meeting and to attend. The roll call of the teachers will be promptly at 9 o'clock and we hope that not a single teacher will be tardy or absent. Be sure to see that your trustee is present. The first of the month is the time he is expected to call. Don't forget that this week, Jan. 20th.

No teachers will be paid after 3 o'clock until 1:15, as Prof. Chapman will be my guest that day.

It will forget Count in School exam before the last Friday and month in this month, which will be Jan. 26th and 27th. We shall begin the examinations on Friday promptly at 9 o'clock a. m. and close at 4 p. m. We are expecting a lot of people. Every one should come who is prepared.

The County Board was to have met last Friday to settle with the Sheriff, but we learned that he was not ready for the settlement yet so he stated to the Board that he would be ready by the 5th. We therefore called for the Board meeting as very little business will be transacted only the matter of settlement. We shall call the Board to meet in about ten days, at which time we hope to get all claims paid.

Some trustees are slow in sending in their visiting reports.

LIDA E. GARDNER, Co. Supt.

Before quitting our a series of thoughts this week we take leave to say a few words in behalf of the "boys" to whom we have ministered during the year. We feel that Carlisle and Nicholas county have at last realized the difference in knowledge in the office of one newspaper and that of two. Now, Mr. Editor, as a boy, now together and working in harmony with Mr. Fisher the MERCURY will become one of the best county papers in the state.

Candidates are announcing so fast that the common question is, "Who will be the next?"

There being some local misunderstanding as to whether or not the Union Literary Club have regularly met, we wish to correct the erroneous impression that existing in the entertainments they intentionally omitted or missed the glorious old church-building in any way. Composed of the best talent of the town and some of the farmers that were interested in the largest individual contributors to the erection of said building, they felt that they at least had a right to use same for the purpose of raising money with which to help pay for the church building.

It is to be remembered that when the Union Literary Club was formed the church doors were thrown open and the church people were active workers in securing the means where by this splendid school was built. To-day we are glad to say the good work of the church still prospers and the fine building is filled to its capacity every Sunday. Furthermore when the church board or building committee was looking for a site for church and we speak exclusively when we say that the Union Literary Club was the only society in the town to raise a dollar for the purpose of securing the present building site.

The Literary Club also wishes to say that they could not practice in Ladies Aid Hall because at the request of the school authorities and for the purpose of giving the school better privileges, that they were compelled to move their club ground to the rear of the church.

As president and instructor for the Club the writer attended nearly all of the meetings and in connection with the same he can truthfully say that the use of the school building was agreed to by the trustees and that they were always welcome to the building.

If such were not the case the Union Literary Club would not have had the privilege of being delighted to each other should like the old woman and her big family, her neighbors refusing any assistance in the way of a turkey feast. Not having her big family to help her, she was left alone to enjoy the feast with her husband and self. Then the neighbors began to flock around offering help, but, waving a paddle she counted above the roaring hog and singing of feathers, "Hereafter I prefer lend nor hogwash."

However, the Ideal Union Literary Club was organized for the good of all and is about to apologize for any mistake it may have made in the past. Then the Ladies Hall is completed any will prepare for another play.

Give 'Em All A Chance

A Lexington newspaper in December offered a prize for the first baby born in that city in the year 1917, and on Jackass paper last week offered a prize for the first baby born in 1917. Neither of these contests was fair. Notice too short. Along about the first of March we are going to announce a prize for the first baby born in Carlisle in the year 1918. That will give everybody a chance.—Cynthiana Democrat.

Church Attendance

(By Rev. J. W. Castle.)

A wife belongs at home and a church member, D. V., as a rule, belongs in church. Let us have no mutual or religious right to accept salvation and not co-operate with the church with love or plural benefactions church without a judgment day come. It is not the church that blesses your mother, it is you that blesses your mother. Those were no Christians who said "Lord, Lord," and never joined a church. Those were no Christians who refused to unite with the church and obey the Lord's command to be baptized. Those were no Christians who refused to take up their cross like white robed young were baptized as those who had "come up out of great tribulation." Those were no Christians who refused to attend the monthly covenant meeting.

Asking seek, don't forget that the devotee is under the same obligation to be in the church as the preacher is in the pulpit. Whenever too busy to go to church, too busy to pray and read there. Whenever the time comes that you are too busy to go to church the time comes to worship the devil and your part.

A woman accosted her pastor as he made a call thus: "Why, Bro. ——, I am so glad to see you. I haven't been over here in my parish for a long time. Sunday, and to pay my pew rent." "Why, sister, what was concerned? A week ago you were at the church." "Yes, I was, but I returned." "Oh, see you."

Some folks appear to think that preacher has nothing to do but to trot around and see them. Some preachers do, but the most of them are not that the minister who fills his calling will be transferred only in person. This is one of the busiest men of all, with time and attention for all. Let us learn several pertinent attendance at Sunday school, prayer meeting, preaching and the two services on Sunday. Let us be encouraging, in every line, in some cases, while being at a distance in the church, and in some cases, while being at a distance in the church, and in some cases, while being at a distance in the church, and
