McNew In This Race To Win

Advertisement

We learn that it is being reported by interested parties that Judge McNew has withdrawn from the race for County Judge and also falsely reported that he has no following in Nicholas and that Mitchell, Darnall and Kennedy have already "grubbed-up the whole thing. All of which is false. McNew is in the race to a finish and the facts point to his nomination on the 4th of August. He has heretofore served the people with an honest, conscientious and upright administration and the best class of citizens know this and will not vote against their own interests. They are not going to swap a good work horse for one that is not sure.

TOBACCO ACREAGE SMALLER THAN IN 1916, IS SHOWN

(From Cincinnati Enquirer)

That the tobacco crop of the United States will be smaller this year than it was in 1916 is apparent from the statistics gathered by the Enquirer in every tobacco-producing section of the country. While the reports received indicate a general reduction in the acreage the greatest difference, in comparison with last year, seems to be in Kentucky, the world's largest tobacco-growing section. North Carolina and Virginia. Many of the Eastern States which produce cigar leaf tobacco exclusively, seem to agree about a normal acreage, but Ohio cigar leaf inventory will fall far short of last year if the government's final estimate of 100,000 acres for 1916 was correct. Tennessee is another large producer which reports a greatly reduced acreage for the current season.

Only from scattering sections of the country have reports of favorable weather conditions come, and in Kentucky especially it is said that the tobacco crop was transplanted under the most unfavorable conditions in years. Not only did the plant lands dry out, but they were in many instances extremely late and much transplanting had to be done after the first of July, a date which ordinarily sees the entire crop out in the field. Allthe entrances of the United States into the great war may have caused more attention to be paid to other crops, but the tobacco men do not believe that there was an intentional reduction of acreage in favor of the tobacco-growing section of the country for this reason. In fact, it is said that the high prices received by the farmer for last year's crop encouraged him in the determination to cut at least a normal acreage while devoting more land to food supplies at the same time. Extra plant beds and extra attention to transplanting seasons are held to be in part responsible for any reduction in acreage.

The almost complete absorption of all stocks of burley tobacco creates unusual interest on the part of the tobacco trade in the growing crop of the burley belt, and while it is likely that the crop will fall considerably short under that of last year, it will by no means be a short one. The most conservative estimate of the burley planting may be made as follows: Ohio, 75,000 acres;Ohio, 19,775 acres; Indiana, 8,000 acres; West Virginia, 10,000 acres; scattering sections 1,000 acres; total, 103,500 acres. The total acreage of burley acreage at the close of the 1916 season was 265,000 acres. The Enquirer's estimate is at planting time in 1915 was 174,295 acres and in 1914, 199,500 acres.

The average burley yield fluctuates from year to year between 900 pounds per acre, and based upon a yield of 750 pounds per acre, the total production of 1917 may be estimated at 180,291,000 pounds. This total may be diminished by adverse growing weather or it may be increased by a favorable season during July, August and early September.

DULL DAY—CANDIDATES BUSY.

Monday was very small and the stock market was very slow. Just a load of yearling cattle changed hands at prices ranging from $55 to $70 per head and pigs were sold at prices ranging from $10 to $15 per head. The news and pigs were sold at prices ranging from $10 to $15 per head. The news and gossip per a few army horses from $140 down to $100.

Little squads of men could be seen here and there and the center of attraction would invariably be in the vicinity of a county office. The Primary election is only about three weeks here and candidates are making a strong finish for nomination and the day was a fairly good day for them, to get in their work. It looked as many voters the news editor was only able to get a line on a few of them. In some precincts supporters of a candidate would claim the county, in their man, while supporters of another candidate in the same race would say the precinct for their man. The contrary to former primary elections vot-ers are more out-spoken in their choice and candidates themselves should know the true situation and event they have seen a majority of the voters.

GOOD SIZE DRAFT.

Boston News: "The result of a draft for 676,734-45 from the local draft board for Nashville railroad company by Mr. Harry Mitchell, of this city marks the closing chapter in a case that attracted a great deal of attention in the city and county. Mr. Mitchell sued the L. & N. for $25,000 damages alleged to have been sustained in an accident which happened to the railroad company's train in this city some years ago. The case went from one court to another and final judgment was passed in the circuit section of the Court of Appeals. As a result Mr. Mitchell was paid the sum of $26,778.45, being a settlement in full for the judgment with interest and the penalties accruing since the judgment was secured."

GREAT 2-YEAR-OLD RACE.

With our exception, every two-year-old that trotted in 2:12 or better in 1916 is named for the three-year-old division of the Kentucky Futurity ($15,000) is to be trotted in Lexington on October 1 as follows: Bonnie Lady, 2:04¼; Emma Magowan, 2:07½; Harvest Gale, 2:07¼; Hulda, 2:07¼; Worthy Vote, 2:06¼; Miss Bertha Dillon, 2:10; Kelly de Forest, 2:10¼; Mary Osborn, 2:10¼; Miss Bertha, 2:11¾, and Bertha McGuire, 2:12. This insures probably the greatest three-year-old race ever trotted in the world.

Rev. J. L. Thompson, Presiding Elder of the Colored M. E. Conference for this District, has just closed a very successful session of the Conference at Millersburg. At the close of the session, Rev. RED CROSS RALLIES TO BE HELD SUNDAY 3 P. M.

In this issue of The Mercury will be found a list of subscriptions to Nicholas County Red Cross Chapter, as made at the meeting held at the court house in Carlisle on July 4th. Also a partial list of subscriptions made by Nicholas county people to Millersburg College at the meeting held there on July 4th. Also a partial list of subscribers to the M. E. Church Sunday School at Headquarters, aggregating over $2200, all of which is peculiarly gratifying and serves again to confirm Nicholas county's reputation as always the first to do its part in every good work. Now, in order to complete the organization in the entire county let it be understood that a Red Hot Red Cross Rally be held simultaneously next Sunday at 3 p. m., at the following places in the county: Mt. Zion church, Caseiday Creek church, East Union church, Peasant Valley church, Bird's church, Stony Creek church, Headquarters church, Bulldog church, Ball Hill church, Bane Hill church, Needmore church and Oakland Mills church. Mr. Jas. Lemon, Secretary of the officers of the Nicholas Red Cross Chapter to send some place at each of these places for the purpose of meeting to assist the local members and push the work of the Red Cross effort, we earnestly request the folks to open the meeting promptly at 3 o'clock and organize. Elect officers, receive subscriptions and money and report back to the Nicholas County Red Cross Parlor, in the Deposit Bank. Friends, we feel confident that you will help us run the present subscription up to $5000 by next Sunday and see to it that our county, as usual, goes to the front. WHEAT OPENS ON LOCAL MARKET AT $2.08

From our exchanges we note that the price of wheat opened Saturday at $2.08 the bushel. Satisfactory, but of this city, informed Tax Mercury yesterday morning that they had made some changes at $1.80, having entered the market Monday. The Paris Milling Company said E. P. Spears & Sons, of Paris, opened the market there Saturday at $2.08 per the bushel for no equal Bostcon county crop was more satisfactory. Two dollar wheat is not so bad for an agent.

The quality of the yield this year is generally excellent, and the yield is considerably above that of last season. Harvesting in the county is pricsed under favorable weather conditions and will soon be ready for the market.

A banner crop of rye is reported to have been harvested and local dealers are offering $1.30 the bushel.

There have been very few sales of new corn, therefore it is difficult to get a line on the price for future delivery. It is more than probable, however, that new corn will start at about $1 the barrel.

BY WAY OF BOURBON.

Rev. J. D. Redd, of Millersburg, spent Monday with friends here in the holding of the Red Cross meeting at Carlisle, stated that about sixty dollars had been given by citizens of Millersburg to the Nicholas county quota of the Red Cross. It is expected that Nicholas will be given credit for these subscriptions when the list is sent in to Washington.

Rev. Redd gave the names of the following who subscribed to the Millersburg College chapter, stating that there were many whose names he could not recall:

20 ACRES WON'T MAKE YOU A MILLIONAIRE, BUT—

In Fresno County, California, with energy, you can make a comfortable living, and that, some, from the earnings of a twenty-acre farm. The reasons for this are rich soil, fine climate, and ebash irrigation water. Fresno County markets $44,000,000 worth of products annually, yet they need more farmers to raise figs, grapes, raisins, peaches, oranges, vegetables, alfalfa, hogs, dairy products, etc.

YOU CAN SEE THIS COUNTY WITHOUT LEAVING HOME

We have leased a beautifully illustrated booklet telling of Fresno County and of the opportunities there for YOU. Send us ten cents for this booklet, and a sample copy of SUNSET MAGAZINE—the one big National Magazine telling of the life and development of the West. Address
