

Demand For War Nurses Brings Problem

Public Must Aid by Releasing Trained Workers for Army Service

THE CARLEILL MERCURY has received information from the American Red Cross that the demand for war nurses is increasing rapidly. The Red Cross is now recruiting nurses from all sources, and is particularly anxious to secure trained nurses from the civilian service.

UNCLE SAM TAKES STOCK OF HIS LARDER

Robert M. Moulton

Uncle Sam is taking stock of his larder. The government is now reviewing its food supplies to ensure that there is enough to feed the army and the civilian population.
