CARD FROM JOHN G. HILL

On this lonesome Sunday at home,
It is ten days since my wife took to room.
She did not say whither she goes,
And took possession of all but my clothes.

On Friday, August number two,
I came from work; things looked very blue.
And I was in a quandary what to do;
Sick and health,'still pull me through.

That I am still at home, 106 Spring Street,
I buy my grub and have plenty to eat,
I have a nice stove, a couch and three chairs;
Sleep on the 8rd floor, nobody up stairs.

You all acknowledge sometime
That it's your fault, not mine
For you know we were doing well
along,
So you know that I never did any wrong

Now, Mollie, you know that this is
my home,
For I always paid the rent over in
time,
I never had a cent that you railed mine
For I did all the buying.

Now, I am lonesome and all alone,
The house I live in, it is not my own,
But I want you to know, Mr. Allen
That I am mistreated and not you.

I promised God when I took your hand
That I would be a true husband to
you,
I did not to the letter. Am I not right?
It is all over now, without a fight.

I have been accused of things untrue,
But no one else says them but you,
Now, mistreated and be kind.
That a man like me is hard to find.

This I awful, I don't understand
Why you left me alone in this land;
For Mollie, I loved and I loved you
true,

All my affections I turned over to
you.

It is hard and awful to say
That I am left to live Judgment
Day.
My Lord in Heaven forgive you
For the pledge you took and make
true.

So now farewell to you and the past;
I tried to make you happy to the last.
I did my best, I can't do more,
I tried to please you as best I could.

—John G. Hill.

WORK OF VOLUNTEER

Appointed Chairmen in Ky.

A leading part in saving the latest wheat crop in the history of Kentucky from loss by unfavorable weather from the towns and cities located in the rich wheat growing districts of the State. The volunteers were appointed by the efficient head of the State of Agriculture of the University of Kentucky and enrolled volunteer linemen, street car operators, salesmen, clerks, etc. Office telephone operators, lawyers, twenty-two and some of the best athletes.

Reports coming into the College of Agriculture office indicate that the enemies of the movement in every section of the State will be routed by the activity of the volunteers furnished help in the wheat harvest and will result in the saving of 60 days' work. At Louisville 1,000 volunteers will be enlisted in the harvest fields. A few days ago the Louisville volunteers had a picnic at Shawnee park and spent the day at a time. Most of them had never been in the country before and were able to fall in behind the wheat cutters and bind sheaves with the best of the farmers' regular hands. These volunteers will be placed with the experienced men and were thoroughly enlisted to do accurate work.

Farmers were at first inclined to laugh at the idea of using city men for farm work, but on account of the satisfactory service came in from farmers in all parts of the State. Reports appeared and by the end of the wheat harvest the farmers will be thoroughly satisfied to do anything for the volunteers.

In less than half a dozen cases did the unusual exertion and heat prove too much for the volunteer workers and the trouble in these few cases was only temporary. In the future, volunteers will be encouraged to harden their muscles by work in their gardens and by other out-door exercise, so that they will be equal to the most strenuous farm work. Plans are being perfected by the College of Agriculture to increase the membership of the Emergency Reserve, so that it will include all able bodied men in the villages, towns and cities of the State. Men who have had farm experience will constitute Class 1 of the Reserve. All others capable of doing farm work but lacking in experience will be enrolled in Class 2.

FARM FOR SALE—120 acres on Paris and Richmond and Indianapolis pike, three miles west of Butler. Good improvements, fine tobacco land, about four acres, dry orchard, plenty water, 2 wells, 2 cisterns, 2 springs, 2 miles of school; about 35 acres of bottom land; plenty of tobacco land; 75 acres of pasture land. An ideal stock and dairy farm. For further particulars call on or write, C. A. Geder, Butler, Ky., R. F. D. No. 2 Phone 748. 8-15-2t

FOR SALE—One Ford Roadster. In fine condition. Apply to Harper's Garage.

SOUTH CAROLINA TOBACCO

Reports From the South Carolina tobacco markets show much activity on the breaks, with all characters of tobacco in much demand and prices eight to ten cents higher on the pound. Purchases have been heavy and the market there is about half over. The South Carolina market will close about August 15th. While the prices are not as high as some of the sales on the Louisville floor, there is every indication and reason to believe that the Burley market will be practically two cents higher than one year ago. In making the crop lying an acreage of probably 36 cents per pound. Some growers are talking 50 and 75 cents average prices, but there is nothing whatever to indicate such enormous figures, although many farmers may bring those prices, as they have done in recent years. The crop of Burley tobacco in Central Kentucky is going to be average, with some of it is early, the larger per cent will be late. Considerable of the crop has been topped, and this work will be pushed rapidly from now on. The growth of the weed justifies it. Some of the crops are starting and are ripening, and there will be a few days' cutting the latter part of August, but in the main the greater part of the crop will be cut and housed during September. Rains have been plentiful and the tobaccos as the drouth has effected certain sections, making the crop very late and some of it will probably be the average, will start late in October. Specialists, who at this time one year ago, had to buy a lot of tobacco by contract, are staying on the floor this time and the crops have been sold in the fields. Many of the growers have raised their acreage to various crops in the county, and the yield will make a fair yield.

WHEAT SMUT PREVENTED

BY USE OF SEED

Increased yield is the ultimate object of seed treatment; it should therefore be governed thoroughly and in accordance with directions.

Utensils such as sacks, sowers, etc., if likely to be contaminated with smut should be cleaned before being used.

Treated grain may be kept indefinitely as long as protected from further contamination.

Formalin, while not poisonous, should be kept from the face and eyes. Inhalation of the fumes of the solution should be avoided.

Formalin is undoubtedly the best practical disinfectant known for treating purposes. Alkies copper sulfate and copper carbonate are not to be considered one of the best disinfectants for the reason that the chemical injury it causes to the grain and its germination.—Prepared by Department of Farmers.

THREE METHODS

There are at present three methods of treating seed for smut. (Seed treatment). Following is a description of each.

SOAKING: Estimate the amount of seed to be treated and make a formalin (40 per cent strength) one pint to each 40 gallons of water. Dissolve the formalin to the required strength in the water. Sprinkle enough of the diluted amount of the solution into a pile of grain to moisten the grain. Shovel over the pile several times to insure uniform distribution of the solution. Put the grain so that each grain will become moistened. Then immerse in solution from 10-20 minutes. Remove the grain from the solution and scatter solution to run back into the barrel. Spread the grain out to dry on a floor or canvas so that it will not heat. Shovel the grain over and spread out to dry. Treated seed may be sown or may be facilitated by frequent shoveling.

COMMENT

The Allen continue to "evade" the draft. Bill Allen is among the fathers out of one village after another.

Abe Martin sometimes speaks volumes in one of his "locals." Recently he had this one:

"Dudley Moots has given up his trip to Tippecanoe Lake until after the Camp Taylor festival."

If you had your telephone taken out last Tuesday for the "period of economy" on time with the necessary cash, be consoled by the fact that you can raise the window and "holler" and get practically as good results, anyhow.

Railroad employees must be polite, says Director General McAdoo. "The public be damned policy" will in no circumstances be tolerated by the railroads under government control," says the big boss. We have had no ticket-chopping squirrels in the city office to whom enforced politeness may prove fatal.

If you are over 18 and not over 45, you'll have to get busy supporting friend wife, or you may be fined yourself an army rifle. Notice from what Mr. Baker had to say Tuesday that a number of slacker weddings you got for your wife to do, you'll have to get busy and be a manual or mental yourself or prepare to take interior training in the navy or all arms.

While it may be more glorious it is not necessary to go to the Western Front to be gassed. A prominent merchant of Mt. Sterling got a dose by sucking a tube to start the gasoline in his automobile.—[Cynthiana Democrat.

Even that isn't necessary over here. You can get all gassed up any day by lingering about the leaders in our court house yard.

Col. W. P. Walton writes the Lexington Leader that German propaganda is being circulated among the negroes of Central Kentucky. Some of the ridiculous stuff being told ignorant darkies is that they will be compelled to give $1.25 out of every $5.00 they earn for Liberty Bonds. Another is that President Wilson has "signed the peace treaty with the Kaiser," etc. until he finally "opened up on us." We have not heard of any such propaganda being circulated in this county, but we earnestly advise Assistant Postmaster Longan right well acquainted and take steps to counteract any such pernicious influence as that, at once.

Naughty! Naughty! Mamma'll have to wash its mouth out. But really, all top, you did have a right to complain to publish the song of your mouth in the paper. Just listen what the bald, bad columnist on the Courier-Journal says:

At Monmouth when the day seemed lost they treason and intrigue.
Our sainted George let loose an oath.
"Send me a flag for hell's sake!"
We quote his words with asterisks
, for print they're unfit to use.
They show in even profanity, our George is true.

So let's not grieve when Yankee lads will pull the fiery hop.
Allied Lloyd George would rather they'd bellow for the cop.
Since war is for extermination and, let cusses rise and swell
And be the cause of the charge, "Now give the Boches hell."

By gum, by gosh, gee-whillikins are exclamations vague and tame,
For righteous indignation, there's sulfurous language made to blame.
I know it isn't proper and it often is not top—
But Onward Christian Soldiers never made an army go.

—Courier-Journal.

THE AMERICAN'S CREED

"I believe in the United States of America as a Government of the people, by the people, for the people whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed a democracy in a republic a sovereign nation of many sovereign States; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes. I therefore, believe it is my duty to my country to love it; to support its Constitution; to obey its laws; to respect the flag and to defend it against all enemies.

CHIEF FRED LINK

RECOVERS STOLEN PUNT

Herman Lawrence, 13 years of age, was tried in the county court on last Friday on a warrant charging the stealing of a pony from E. H. Barden from his block yards in the city last court day and was sentenced to the reform school until he reaches his majority.

The arrest of the young man was brought about by Chief of Police Fred Link of Paris. Mr. Link being in Carlisle on last Saturday and hearing that a young white boy had been arrested in Paris on the charge of horse stealing, he came to Carlisle and investigated the matter. Chief Link found that a Mrs. Ripley of Millersburg had lost the pony from the tent, and sent him home, after which he began an argument with Mrs. Fleeman. During the discussion witnesses testified that Parker cursed the woman, grabbed at her and finally severed his left ear. Mrs. Fleeman, some of them striking the young woman several times and severed and fled two miles, when he was taken in charge by a man, and the lodging in jail.

Death resulted from gangrene in the Massie Memorial Hospital, Tuesday night. Mrs. Fleeman was interested and placed in jail by Chief of Police Link following the cutting affray.

After being shot Parker ran home, and securing his revolver, returned to the Fleeman home and began firing indiscriminately into Mrs. Fleeman. Miss Mamie Myers, and Mrs. Jo Messon. Teddy Bryson, Henry Harper and Miss Elizabeth Vanarsdall Veach accompanied the party as witnesses. Rev. Bolton of the Christian Endeavor week at Camp Daniel Boone on Kentucky river and about seventy members of the organization will be there from different parts of the State.

CHARLEY LYNEN

KILLED BY LIGHTNING

Chas. E. Lynen, aged 19, son of the late Hardy Lynen, a substantial colored farmer who died last year, was killed by lightning late Wednesday.

The young man lived with his mother and several brothers and sisters at the home on the Sylvadell pike.

As the boy did not come to the house to supper the family went out to look for him after several hours and were shocked to find him lying dead in a field near the house. Evidences which had been in his charge were also lying dead. Investigation showed they had been killed by light with.—[Cynthiana Log Cabin.

NO INCREASE IN

PRICE OF ELECTRICITY

The City Commissioners on Tuesday night had a hearing on the petition of the ordinance which would have allowed the Kentucky Electric Co., to increase the charge for electric light from 10 cents to 15, per kilowatt hour. The expert accountant who had been employed to examine the company's books showed that the company had cleared about 6 per cent on the investment last year, and that the increase would be taken by increasing expenses, etc., on the basis of business done this year.—[Cynthiana Log Cabin.

The members of the Students' Army Training Corps is a volunteer military service. He will, however, be subject to draft in accordance with the plan now in operation. The enlisted men
