CARLISLE MERCURY

Public Sale!

ON SATURDAY, MARCH 2, 1918,

AT 10:30 A. M.

we will offer at Public Auction that very desirable farm of Dr. W. H. Martin in Nicholas County—and directly on the famous Maysville & Lexington turnpike road.

This most desirable farm contains about 190 acres, and will be offered in two, in three and one tract as a whole, the high dollar getting the farm.

LOCATION—This farm is located about 2 1-2 miles from Carlisle, on the Maysville & Lexington pike, the best pike in the world; it is about one mile from the village of Oakland Mills, and facing as it does on one of the most famous thoroughfares in the world is a most desirable location. School house at one corner of the farm, churches in every direction.

IMPROVEMENTS—An almost new 9-room, 2-story frame residence, plastered, veranda, back porch, one of the very best and most commodious milk cellars we have ever seen; meat house, wood house, ice house, 72-feet barn right near the pike, 500 barrel corn crib, garage, buggy house, tobacco barn, fencing good, finely watered with springs, small creek, cistern, well, etc.

ROADS—MODEL ROADS lead in practically every direction, to Carlisle, Millersburg, Paris, Lexington, Cynthiana, Blue Lick Springs, Maysville, Mt. Olivet, etc., etc., and it is not more than 15 minutes drive to Carlisle over the splendid road to that good town. Rural mail, grocers and ice wagons pass the door every day.

TRACT 1—124 acres, fronting on Maysville pike, has all the improvements except one tobacco barn; practically all in grass, finely watered, a most magnificent home and farm.

TRACT 2—69 acres known locally as the Mit Mann tract: has one tobacco barn, nearly all in grass and considered a mighty good piece of land.

TRACT 3—Fronting on the Maysville pike, about 65 acres, no improvements at all except this tract would make a fine tobacco barn mentioned above. If desired we will still offer an additional division, or a different division of the same lands.

This sale will be held RAIN or SHINE on the premises, March 2nd, at 10:30 o'clock.

This is a rare opportunity to secure a most desirable home on the Maysville & Lexington pike, close to Carlisle with its splendid schools, churches and close to everywhere else.

TERMS LIBERAL and will be made known on day of sale.

Dr. W. H. Martin, on the farm, or the undersigned at Carlisle, will be glad to show prospective buyers over the place, and considering the uncertain weather conditions BETTER GET A LOOK BEFORE THE DAY OF SALE.

This is your old friend "OPPORTUNITY" looking you right in the eye: BE THERE, and bring your friends with you.

SALE OF PERSONAL PROPERTY:

At the same time and place, Mr. Martin will sell his Household and Kitchen Furniture, some Hogs, a Cow that will be fresh soon and numerous Agricultural Implements.

TRAINS 30,000 HOME SERVICE COMMITTEEMEN

Red Cross With Institutes, Handbook and Bulletins, Teaches Civilian Relief Forces How to Aid Folks "Back Home."

INSTITUTE NOTE—This is the fifth of a series of five articles written by Mr. Power on American Red Cross Home Service work in Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky.

By James L. Fieser,
Director, Civilian Relief, Lake Division, American Red Cross.

Organizing and training 30,000 Home Service committeemen to aid families of enlisted men in the most efficient and systematic way is a big undertaking by the American Red Cross within our own borders.

This statement is made without fear of contradiction.

Even were there established social agencies in every community to which men have been drawn for active service, the task would be a hard one, because with the war have come new problems which call for new and efficiently run aid, if the good name of the Red Cross is to be kept unsullied and the fighting folk set at ease about the welfare of their loved ones "back home."

The school willing Home Service workers with no previous social training as well as those with considerable community workers abreast with new demands upon them, the Red Cross has created established in the Lake division Home Service institutes at Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Columbus and Cleveland, each identified with a strong university, each affiliated with its healthy social agencies.

Thirty-five institutes were represented by 320 men students at the first Cincinnati institute, a second institute being at work in a second series has just opened. In addition, chapter courses of information are to be established in cities of 25,000 population and over.

There is no guess work about Red Cross Home Service.

Workers are being trained to help citizens in the matters of allotment. If a family has not heard from a son in France for a long time, the reason for it is known and a way is found to remedy it, if a boy is reported missing, if any one of a number of causes may cause, the Home Service worker must be alert to his or her responsibilities.

To show that there are "hundreds of possibilities" for this service, the American Red Cross has prepared a handbook and bulletins, the former now in use in the institutes and with those three committeemen have been supplied.

Forty-nine answers to questions on all sorts and conditions, ranging from the composition of the fighting force to organizing war relief, how to assist the family of a man who has been drafted, are given in the handbook by Dr. E. Spencer Miller.

Eighty-six points on the soldier's aid law, compensation, compensation and war risk insurance are explained. The bulletins are to be used by men in a Home Service worker anticipating a "call upon" from the wives he serves if there were no handbook or bulletins to help him answer them.

It is now a fact that every visit the home the insurance is written and for how much, premiums are paid and by whom. Six points of information are provided in every memorandum of crews of merchant vessels and transports.

Additional Red Cross Home Service institutes have been planned to meet the need for other centers twenty-three cities have been selected in the Lake division.

All title is supplemented by eighty-three pages containing information on the status of families of discharged men, deserters and alien enemy families and explaining relationship of the Red Cross to other relief societies and the operation of the Red Cross bureau of enemy service and naturalization.

Despite the fact that this handbook has just been issued, new and pressing questions are arising with each passing week that the bureau of civilian relief of the Lake division, is planning to meet with special assistance.

War regardless of the Teutonic attempt to drive a wedge between Britain and her colonies, has brought the Red Cross Home Service bureaus in 352 chapters very with the fast-moving pace of events.

Picture the immensity of the task when the Christmas offensive" is on.

Red Cross Home Service will be ready. It is democracy's brotherhood in action.

We can turn out anything in the printing line that you need; at a price as low as any one, quality, material and workmanship considered. Come in and see us before placing your order elsewhere.

TO-NIGHT THURSDAY

In these days when the world seems to be in trouble all around the map, anything that would tend to break up this trouble should be welcomed with open arms, so to speak. Such a play is "THE TROUBLE BUSTER," starring beautiful Vivian Martin, at the Lyric.

Friday—"The Fatal Ring," Hearst War News and Comedy.

Saturday comes Jane Cowl in "The Highest Market Price," the unfolding presentation of a wedding's destiny, all laugh.

Monday—Miss Hoagwerdt Clark will be seen in a new photoplay "Betty Boop," one of the "Judy Bolt" series, which appeared on the Saturday Evening Post, by Mary Roberts Rinehart. It is really a diary of "Baby" and being in the kind of fun of which school girls are most fond. Fun, mostly.

Tuesday—Will give name on screen. We are trying to get Ann Penning ton in "Little Boy Scout."

Wednesday—Comes the famous child actress, Little Mary McAllister, the youngest movie officer in the world, in "Dad's Boy." Don't fail to see this picture if you want to laugh a little.

Listen: We have often been asked to get pictures that the children would like, so we did, one of the biggest on the map, "Treasure Island," and if it hadn't been for the coverage we would have had it for you, but we had 43 children. Win or lose we are going to give you the best we can and see.

Using stump wood for fuel has only recently come into use, but it relieves the farmer who has a surplus of cut-over land, even if only small plots, they will be interested in these suggestions. Probably the time will never again come when these stumps will be cleared and made ready for cultivation not only at no cost but for a profit, but at an actual profit to them. In making that profit they will be doing a favor to many household ers in their locality who are unable to buy coal to heat their homes.

If you want what you want when you want it—In the printing line— WE HAVE IT!
