SCHOOL MARMS ARE WANTED IN NICHOLAS

The Nicholas County Board of Education is up against it in securing a sufficient number of teachers to fill the vacancies caused by the recent election of teachers who held licenses, and there are a number in that county that are not supplied, with more than a month to go. There are four schools there that have been vacant for some time. Division B with nine schools there are four short and in Division C there are six short. Besides the ten schools, have been supplied with teachers. The members of the Board of Education have found it necessary to employ teachers who have no experience, also to apply through correspondence.

At the Myers Hall School one old teacher has been secured and Miss Mary Lee Hall will teach the primary work. There are still two vacancies at Myers, though Mrs. Taylor, County Superintendent, is trying to fill them.

The Mercury, the Board has an application for a school there.

Yesterday morning the Board closed a contract with Mrs. Sallie Parrish for the school at Pleasant Valley.

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF MEETINGS OF KENTUCKY COUNCIL OF DEFENSE

War Savings workers throughout Kentucky will take notice of the splendid move of the State Council of Defense in calling War Conferences to be held at county seats throughout the State, beginning immediately for the purpose of arousing the people to war conditions and entering their aid to the prosecution of the government and other valuable war activities.

Representatives of all war activities are urged and invited to participate in these Conferences and present their cause to those who are gathered together. These Conferences afford an especially good opportunity for the War Savings workers in every county. Our campaign for the present month of May, and in each month of the County Chairmen, and his organization must be active in every way with the representatives of the Council of Defense in getting up the meeting so it will count very materially in the success of the campaign. Get out and get ahead of us. Where there are conditions to be met in a county during this month of May, we will be willing to answer for our activity and where it is to be said afterward during the summer it will help to keep the interest of others as well as the other war activities, and will materially help in your follow up campaign to see that those who are pledging will pay up. Get out your pledge cards and keep on seeing and having Thrift Stamps sold.

A general program has been mapped out by the Kentucky Council of Defense, which doubtless will be varied in different communities as special speakers are secured for the occasion. The program is as follows:

10 a. m.—A mass meeting will be held and the program will consist of invocation, patriotic addresses, community singing, and speeches by noted patriots, thinkers and orators.

1 to 2 p. m.—The farmers, workers, relatives, and all members of the families of the soldier boys who are already in military service, and of those who will be called in the near future, and all citizens generally are urged to attend this meeting. A special speaker who is in touch with the war situation and who has a stirring message of encouragement to the soldiers' families and friends at home will be present to speak.

2:00 p. m. Forum Subject: The Different War Organizations

Representatives of the different war organizations included in the Conference will be present to speak on the following subjects: Red Cross, Women's Home Work, War Savings, Red Cross, Knights of Columbus, Y. M. C. A., Four Minute Men, Chambers of Commerce, Fraternal and Agricultural Organizations and all other patriotic activities, are urged to be present and participate in the Interchange of ideas. Representatives should report activities of their organization to be present.

3 to 4 p. m.—Representatives of the different patriotic activities will be given an opportunity to speak on the subject assigned to them, and to present the importance of making their organizations effective in their respective activities.

7 to 9 p. m.—A mass meeting will be held and the program will consist of invocation, addresses, community singing, patriotic music and speeches by leaders of every organization.

In presenting its program of exercises for the War Conference, the Council of Defense puts it this way:

There is but one patriotic business before the ninety-ninth people of the world today and that is the successful issue of the war. The successful initiation of vindicating perpetuating and defending human rights and liberties and of carrying the principles to victory.

You can help win the war by attending the county war conference and by taking part in the discussions and the activities of the hour that will be made. You can help win the war by using your influence to get your neighbors to attend from your community.

You can help in this thing that will serve to awaken the patriotism of the people and make the Conference and all patriotic meetings a success—by attending the meeting yourself and by getting your neighbors to attend. It is impossible to make a mass meeting or community meeting a success unless you understand that the county council and all other patriotic organizations will all be present and will be ready to participate in the meeting. You can help in the success of the program of the Conference and will be a part of it yourself. You can help win the war by getting out from time to time in every section of the county. Get the people together. Defend human rights and liberties and help in the work of consolidating the National Authority and War Songs to all county councils over the state.

Continuing, under the heading, "Will You Help?" the Council of Defense says that it is hoped that every county will be represented at the Conference and that it will be the duty of every loyal citizen to attend the Conference and help in the work in having the members of every home to attend.

The county can help by organizing itself into a war of publicity committee with a view of promoting every war effort, developing a positive patriotism and a practical community spirit, attending the war conferences and helping in the work.

The church can help by delivering a patriotic sermon on the crisis of the war and by emphasizing the principles of the war in relation to the duties and services giving publicity to it and urging the people to attend.

The press can help by rendering valuable service in publishing its news and editorial columns thereby giving publicity to the meeting and calling upon the people to attend.

The County Superintendent who is a member of the Advisory Committee of the Council of Defense, can help by scheduling information around the meetings and getting the agricultural organizations interested in the success of the meeting and in the work of the Conference.

The high schools of the county can help by practicing community and patriotic singing and speaking on the day of the Conference and participating in the work generally.

The different war organizations, including the Council of Defense, Food and Fuel Administration, Red Cross, Knights of Columbus, Y. M. C. A., Four Minute Men, Chamber of Commerce, Fraternal and Agricultural organizations, and all other patriotic activities, can help by supplying trained speakers to attend the Conference and assist each localities as they have in making the work of all of the different activities a success.

The Women's organizations of the County can help by putting their spare time and energy into the work in an endeavor to make the meeting productive of the highest results.

The Commercial Clubs and Chambers of Commerce can help to do effective work by assisting and informing the citizenship of their community concerning the seriousness of the war as well as ways and means of winning it by attending the Conference or meetings as may be arranged in connection therewith.

Throwing aside going over the county usually are most willing to render service by working by doubling.

The Four Minute Men can help by calling the attention of the people to the work of the Conference.

The city Scouts can help by advertising the meeting, by having demonstrations in connection with the meeting and by rendering valuable service therein. Also in putting up placards and distributing advertising matter.

The different choirs of the different churches, as well as all of the people of the county can help by getting together and practicing community singing with a view to making it one of the leading features of the Conference.

The Boy Scouts can help by rendering valuable service in advertising it and by getting the citizens of the county interested in it and its work.

Persons desiring further information concerning the War Conferences may address Publicity and Finance Committee, Kentucky Council of Defense, Bowling Green, Ky.
