WAR SAVINGS STAMPS DURING LIBERTY LOAN CAMPAIGN

To Members for Savings Organization
State of Kentucky:

At the request for the opening of the Third Liberty Loan campaign today, I deem it advisable to explain to all for the benefit of those who have not yet subscribed, that it is the desire to be considered investors and assist in making the loan complete.

Subscriptions for the first place, there should be an alerting down statement in the mind of the fair investigators. Decently speaking, I can see no reason why the two campaigns should not be carried on together. Our efforts should be directed toward the sale of millions of dollars of securities that of millions of people in the United States who have not yet subscribed to the Liberty Loans, and to accomplish this we must organize in every city, town and community throughout the State. Every man, woman and child should be interested for a single day, and I am sure that the response will be generous. Let us make it a matter of pride to contribute to the comfort of our boys who are fighting to the safety of our homes and to the safeguarding every form of civilization. Let us not leave during the period of the war, for the fundamental principles of Liberty and for lasting security is to be found in the love of Liberty, and the willingness of the people to make any sacrifice necessary to maintain it. Let us not forget that the accomplishment by the smallest and regular purchase of Thrift Stamps will buy the things dearer, the constant efforts of all workers in the factories, mines and on the farms, and will produce a force of civilization and patriotism that will cause it unquestionably easy to sell both portions of the Liberty Loan without interfering with the sale of Liberty Bonds.

During the History Loan in Oxford in 1917, the sales of Liberty Bonds and Thrift Stamps were made simultaneously, and both the campaigns were successful. I am confident that by putting the Loan up to the thousand million sterling mark.

Yours very truly,

Governor.

A CARD TO THE PUBLIC.

The undersigned Board of Tax Revisors for Nicholas County, having completed the work assigned them by the said statute in the year 1918, and having the lands as directed by the Fiscal Court, the undersigned, being $100,000, beg to make the following.

We have endeavored to do justice to all parties, but one of arduous labor. We may have made some mistakes in fixing values, but the fact that we are human we feel should be considered in our favor. We have no apologies to the taxpayer, but merely say to him we were just performing an unfriendly duty placed upon us by the State Board of Supervisors, and we have endeavored to discharge its approving before us and showed a disposition to assist us in every way possible. Only a very few exceptions. We heartily commend our taxpayers as a class for their prompt and evident desire to assist us, and thanks for the more consideration and courtesy shown us, so even those we valued the taxpayer raise seemed in full fully understood. Only a few appeals were made, and we feel so satisfied with the results.

We earnestly trust that we have by no over costs on the good taxpayers, but if we have we regret it and will be glad to have the matter corrected.

Signed:

J. L. CLARK,
T. B. HENRY,

COUNTY SCHOOL NEWS.

A large per cent. of the teachers who are contemplating teaching next year have not yet secured schools. The real cause is the fact that we have not attended, or have not attended enough, the County Board of Education. All cases are requisite time. Those attending should be sure to come Friday morning, and after you have secured a school, attend to your business and go home.

Quite a number of schools have not been advertised. Come to the County Trustees examination on the 11th and 12th of this month, and if you have a school to offer, be present and bring it along.

IN MEMORIAM

At her home near Little Rock, Ky., on the morning of April 25, 1918, of pneumonia, Mrs. Narcia Lenore Steele, aged 24 years and 2 months. She was well and pleasing with the Allwise Master, who has taken her spirit home and enter her into that land of perpetual light away from this world of sorrow and pain. Her husband, mother and other relatives left to mourn her departure, but while we sorrow as those who have no hope, we realize that we have a precious one in the tree, for she is now a part of the family to enter into that eternity only be had the way for others, as her life was an example worthy of all to follow. The bereaved husband her so she did not truly say, she had a smile for every boy, a kind for every person, a consolation for every grief, an encouragement for every one in need, and no distress, no cares or sorrow for her, hope. A ship at his eternal shore and she has gone to rest. Her memory will be cherished in all of her acquaintances, and while we sorrow not as those on the lose, like the morning star she has gone before to shine in a brighter clime. Her life was fairer than the fairest flower of May. She lived to brighten and to angels when they welcomed her home to shine in heaven to receive her. Mrs. Steele was a member of the Christian church at Little Rock, Ky., and form a path by which to follow; and where where mother will be waiting to welcome us.

When we shall be called to be united with the Christian church at Shiloh. The faithful pastor, Rev. Mr. Bowden kindly labor in your Master's vineyard, and when we shall be called home we may be with you. We always have desire to be remembered in your prayers. Also we desire to say to our children that we all fear death and dread the grave.

Well, our country has, Harold F. C., went away Monday morning. We are proud of him and glad to be doing our share, and feel sure that he will do his duty. We have our boy, for Effie, would be glad to have him.

Most of the farmers have their corn crop in and the rest will be in soon. Only thing that we don't like is the way the weeds are growing, and we are going to have a big crop of weed burners if our farmers don't keep down the weeds.

Willing to have sustained, it is a good time to sow clover seed. Don't get to the last minute, for then we are so much other work to do that we don't get it sown. Sow it the first of February or earlier.

Mr. Ben Hall has a fine crop of early beloved could ever be found. Mr. Hall has a fine crop of Irish potatoes, some large and beautiful ones, and some small ones. Mr. Hall says he has a fine crop of potatoes in the ships of old dirt. He has a fine crop of potatoes in the ground. The potatoes are fine. Mr. Hall says he has a fine crop of potatoes in the ground. Another of 172 acres, same district, nothing better anywhere, $100 per acre.

Another, by Wade Patrick, 106 acres, fine bluegrass, a beautiful home, another better place for the money.

Another, 100 acres, on Licking River, 3 miles from Carlisle, fine stock farm, large new barn, north side of river, $100 per acre. Will be sold before October, and $165 will buy it NOW.

Mother

will find her greatest comfort in good eyesight, when reading and sewing, if she wears our glasses and pastime. To enjoy this blessing to full extent bring her here and have an accurate examination of her eyes. You may be surprised to find she has forgotten the advantages of good vision.
