

Happenings of the World Tensely Told

Washington

President Wilson's speech at the Senate today was the most significant event of the week. He declared that the United States would not be drawn into the European war unless it was clearly demonstrated that the Allies were fighting for a just and noble cause. This speech was a landmark in American history, as it marked the beginning of a new era of American isolationism.

Domestic

Several domestic events were noted, including the signing of a new labor law by the President. This law was designed to improve working conditions and reduce the number of strikes. It was widely praised by labor unions and the general public.

How Millions of Men In War are Moved, Fed

Work of U. S. in France Exp. All History of Military Feats.

QUICK SERVICE IS THE RULE

By CHARLES WHEELER
The American food supply is being strained to its limits. The Government has taken emergency measures to ensure that the food needs of the soldiers in France are met. The military commissaries are working tirelessly to get food to the front as quickly as possible. The success of the war depends on the health and strength of the fighting men.

Personal

Several personal notices were included in this section. These included announcements of marriages, deaths, and other private matters. The notices provided a glimpse into the lives of individuals affected by the war.

Foreign

News from various foreign countries was reported. This included the progress of the war in Europe, the situation in the Middle East, and the political climate in other parts of the world. The reports provided readers with a broader perspective on the global impact of the conflict.

European War News

The situation in Europe remained tense. The Allies were making gains in several key areas, while the Central Powers were struggling. The war was expected to continue for some time longer. The impact of the war on the civilian population was also discussed, highlighting the hardships faced by those living in the affected regions.

ASTROIDE PLAN EJECTED DOWN: RODES TO EARTH

ASTROIDE PLAN EJECTED DOWN: RODES TO EARTH

The plan to eject the astroide was rejected. The military officials decided that the risk was too high. The astroide was a small satellite that was launched into orbit. It was intended to provide communication and surveillance capabilities. However, the plan was abandoned due to concerns about its safety and effectiveness.

Service Men Granted

The service men were granted certain benefits. These included increased pay and improved living conditions. The Government recognized the sacrifices and hardships that the service men had endured. These benefits were intended to provide some relief and support for the men and their families.

YANKEE AUTO TRUCKS ARRIVE IN ITALY

Yankee auto trucks arrived in Italy. These trucks were part of a military aid package provided by the United States to the Allies. The trucks were used for transporting supplies and equipment. Their arrival was a significant boost for the Italian military and the civilian population.

WOMEN CHAINED TO GUNS

Women were now chained to guns. This was a common sight on the battlefield. The women served as machine gunners, providing vital support to the fighting men. Their bravery and skill were highly respected. The image of women in combat was a significant departure from traditional gender roles.

GERMANY FEARS A MILITARY DISASTER

GERMANY FEARS A MILITARY DISASTER

Germany was beginning to show signs of weakness. The military losses were mounting, and the economy was in a state of collapse. The German people were losing faith in their leadership. The Allies were aware of these developments and were preparing to exploit the German vulnerabilities. The situation was dire for the Third Reich.

Don't Go From Bad to Worse!

Advertisement for Cuticura Soap. The advertisement emphasized the benefits of the soap for various skin conditions. It claimed that Cuticura was a gentle yet effective cleanser that could be used by people of all ages. The ad included a list of ailments it could treat, such as eczema, psoriasis, and dandruff.

WATER BAKER & CO.

Advertisement for Baker's Cocoa. The advertisement promoted the cocoa as a healthy and delicious beverage. It claimed that Baker's Cocoa was made from the finest cocoa beans and was free of any harmful additives. The ad encouraged consumers to try the product for themselves.

WOMAN WORKS 15 HOURS A DAY

WOMAN WORKS 15 HOURS A DAY

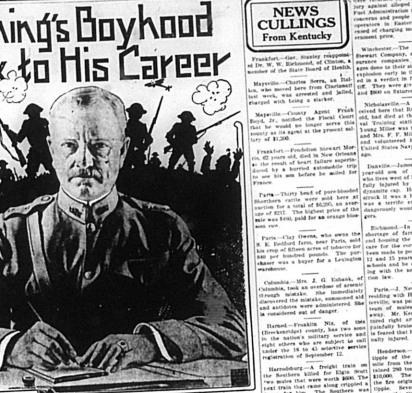

The story of a woman working 15 hours a day. She was a factory worker who was essential to the war effort. Her long hours and hard work were a testament to the dedication of women in industry. The story highlighted the challenges women faced in the workplace and the need for better labor protections.

Commander of America's Armies in France

General John D. Pershing was named Commander of America's Armies in France. This was a significant honor and a recognition of his leadership during the war. Pershing led the American Expeditionary Force with skill and courage, earning the respect of his troops and the admiration of the Allies.

ADVENT OF THE MONARCH

The advent of the monarch was a significant event. It marked the beginning of a new era of leadership and governance. The monarch's arrival was met with great fanfare and anticipation. The people were hopeful for a better future under the monarch's rule. The event was a symbol of national unity and pride.

Commander of America's Armies in France Early Gave Evidence of Courage and Power of Will

Pershing's Boyhood Index to His Career

The boyhood of General Pershing was a story of courage and determination. He was born into a military family and showed a natural talent for leadership. His early experiences on the battlefield shaped his character and prepared him for the challenges of a military career. His boyhood adventures were a reflection of the values that guided him throughout his life.

NEWS CULLINGS From Kentucky

Local news from Kentucky. This section provided updates on regional events, including political news, local sports, and community activities. The news covered a wide range of topics and offered readers a detailed look at what was happening in their part of the state.

Helping the Meat and Milk Supply

Efforts to improve the meat and milk supply. The Government was implementing various programs to increase production and ensure that the population had access to fresh food. These programs included providing technical assistance to farmers and subsidizing the production of certain commodities. The goal was to support the war effort by ensuring the health and well-being of the civilian population.

PROPER HOUSING DURING WINTER

Information on proper housing during winter. The article provided tips on how to prepare homes for the cold season. It discussed the importance of insulation, heating, and weatherproofing. The goal was to help people stay warm and safe during the winter months.

BOG RAISING IS PROFITABLE

News about bog raising being profitable. This was a unique industry in Kentucky that involved the cultivation of waterfowl. The article described the techniques used by bog raisers and the economic benefits of this activity. It highlighted the success of those who had dedicated themselves to this traditional industry.

DEMAND FOR MORE POOK

Increased demand for Pook brand products. The article reported on the popularity of Pook brand goods, which were known for their quality and value. The demand for these products had increased significantly since the start of the war. The article mentioned that Pook brand products were being sold in large quantities.

LIVE STOCK MARKET

Updates on the live stock market. The article provided information on the prices and trends of various livestock products. It discussed the factors that were influencing the market, such as supply and demand. The article was a valuable resource for farmers and others in the industry.

SAVE WHITE CORN FOR FEED

Advice on saving white corn for feed. The article provided guidance on how to best use white corn as a feed for livestock. It discussed the nutritional value of the corn and the best methods for storing and distributing it. The article aimed to help farmers maximize the efficiency of their feed programs.

THE KITCHEN CABINET
A complete kitchen cabinet with all the necessary fixtures and fittings. The cabinets were made of high-quality materials and were designed to be both functional and beautiful. They were available in a variety of styles and colors to suit different tastes and budgets.

Helping the Meat and Milk Supply
A campaign to support the production of meat and milk. The campaign encouraged consumers to purchase locally produced goods and to conserve resources. It was a way for citizens to contribute to the war effort and to support their communities.

PROPER HOUSING DURING WINTER
A guide to winterizing homes. The guide provided step-by-step instructions on how to prepare a home for the winter. It covered topics such as checking the furnace, adding insulation, and sealing leaks. The guide was intended to help people avoid the discomfort and expense of winter emergencies.

BOG RAISING IS PROFITABLE
An advertisement for bog raising equipment. The advertisement featured a variety of tools and supplies used in the bog raising industry. It promised that these products would help growers increase their productivity and profitability. The advertisement included contact information for the supplier.

DEMAND FOR MORE POOK
An advertisement for Pook brand products. The advertisement showcased a range of Pook brand goods, from clothing to household items. It emphasized the quality and durability of the products and encouraged consumers to buy Pook brand items. The advertisement included a list of items and prices.

LIVE STOCK MARKET
A daily market report for livestock. The report provided the latest prices for various types of livestock, including cattle, hogs, and sheep. It also included information on market trends and forecasts. The report was a key source of information for farmers and other industry professionals.

SAVE WHITE CORN FOR FEED
An advertisement for a corn feed supplement. The advertisement claimed that the supplement would improve the health and performance of livestock. It encouraged farmers to try the product and see the results for themselves. The advertisement included a list of benefits and contact information.

WATER BAKER & CO.
Advertisement for Baker's Cocoa. The advertisement featured a large image of a woman in a long dress, holding a cup of cocoa. The text emphasized the quality and taste of Baker's Cocoa and encouraged consumers to buy the product. The advertisement included a list of retailers where the product was available.