Important News Events of the World Summarized

European War News

Recapture by the Austrians of the important town of Soret, Albania, was announced by the war office at Vienna.

• • •

Italian airplanes recently dropped propaganda manifestos on Aprino, capital of Slavonia and Croatia, according to Austrian advices received at Berne.

• • •

There are persistent rumors from a German source, says the Amsterdam Telegraph, that a German battalion is being ordered to the front unanimously refused to go, whereupon every tenth man was shot.

• • •

The steamer Sirio of Piombino has been added to the list of submarine victims off the Canadian coast. Five of the Sirio's crew, New Foundlanders, perished when the submarine opened with its guns.

• • •

The supreme command in Finland has been dissolved by Premier Svinhufvud, the Kronen Zeitung of Vienna says, and General Mannerheim has been appointed to command the Finnish army.

• • •

Japanese troops are completing their concentration on the Tumut front, according to dispatches to London from Vladivostok. At Ekaterinsk, armed and supported by armoured cars attacked the bolshevik forces with a battery of heavy artillery fire and routed them.

• • •

General Diaz, Italian commander-in-chief, announced that the Austrians had withdrawn from the Asiago region, and that the Italians had occupied Asiago, Gallio and Foza.

• • •

Following the breaking off of negotiations between the Pacific Coast Shipbuilders' Association and the Metal Trades Council, and the appointment of the Emergency Fleet corporation, a strike was declared.

• • •

Mrs. Vladimir Korbatkin and four of her six children were burned to death when their home was destroyed by a fire at Martin's Ferry, O. It is believed the fire was of incendiary origin.

• • •

Fire in the Green River Distilling company at Owensboro, Ky., destroyed the plant and 43,000 barrels of whiskey. The whisky alone was valued at $1,- 840,000, and the loss to the government in taxes is $1,720,000.

• • •

The steamer George Hudson, in the coast fisheries service, struck on the rocks off North Isle, in the Bay of Fundy and sank. Three of her crew have been reported dead. The remainder of the crew are safe.

• • •

Six deaths were recorded in aviation accidents at flying fields in this country during the week that ended August 27, the war department announced. There were two fatality for every 1,000 hours of flying, or 297,000 miles of travel.

• • •

American submarine chaser No. 366, operating out of Philadelphia, was mistaken for a submarine by a merchant steamer off Five Island, N. Y., and went to the bottom. Seven members of the crew, including the commander and the executive officer, are missing.

• • •

Judge Julius M. Mayer of the United States district court of New York has issued a decision in which he declares the making of the Lusitania was the act, not of civilized warfare, but of the Huns. The decision amounts to a denial of the suit against the Cunard line approving the sinking of the Lusitania. Scores of persons who perished with the vessel were on May 7, 1915.

• • •

The fuel administration ruled on Thursday that no public agency should act in conditions by Secretary Baker and Dr. Ryan has been appointed second assistant secretary of war and director of the industrial section of the war department.

• • •

The new power bill bringing within the active regulation and control of the state public service commission all companies furnishing gas, electricity, a combined water-power plant, was signed by Governor Whitman unanimously for the bill. All efforts to change the bill to provide for separate classification of trouble under twenty-one failed, and the measure now goes to conference between the house and senate where the fight for some for actions controversy except the words no-fight.

• • •

An earnest warning against "combination and pressure" from pacifist propaganda and a declaration that peace must be dictated to and not accepted with Germany in place her in a position where she never again can disturb the world's peace were made in the house of commons by Premier Lloyd George, replying to resolutions of the foreign relations committee.

• • •

A home 165 suspending customs duties on American Red Cross imports was passed by the senate and sent to President Wilson for his signature.

• • •

Reports to the navy department of the sinking by a submarine of four fishing schooners off Point Pleatis, Newfoundland, give their names as the Maurice B. Adams, the C. M. Watson, the J. L. Finn-ty and the F. B. Watson.

• • •

Three American marines were killed and one wounded in a bloody fight with a band in the Sulu archipelago of Dutch Dominica on August 15, A report reaching another corps headquarters in Washington says many of the bandits were killed or captured.

U.S.—Teutonic War News

American airmen raided the great Austrian naval base of Pola, on the Adriatic, the Italian admiralty announced at Rome. During the fighting one airplane fell into the sea. Other airmen dived and rescued the pilot, then destroyed the damaged machine.

• • •

Six members of the crew are believed to have been drowned or killed by the torpedo explosion, and nine members of the crew and one member of the naval armed guard are still missing as the result of the sinking of the American steamer Lake Elon in the Mediterranean, says a navy department statement.

• • •

Fifty-five officers, noncommissioned officers and men of a certain American division were awarded the Legion of Honor, the military medal, the war cross, or distinguished service medal by General Pershing yesterday, according to the American army has held in France. Similar decorations have been awarded 72 others who are in a hospital. Most of the awards have been made for gallant conduct in the Marne battle.

• • •

"Too many toil the American people that their soldiers are admirable," Harold Ickes, a war correspondent in France, writes, "but nothing better than to go to their death. They ought to be reproached only when they are not fast—it is necessary to hold them back."

• • •

Sporting

Coincident with the clinching of the National league pennant by the Cubs at Chicago Saturday came the official announcement from the National commission that baseball will continue through the season of 1918. The announcement means that the Chicago fans will see the start of the big show.

• • •

Domestic

Fifty thousand unnaturalized male Germans live in the United States and are registered with police and other enforcements under alien regulations, the census bureau announced.

• • •

Following the breaking off of negotiations between the Pacific Coast Shipbuilders' association and the metal trades council, and the appointment of the Emergency Fleet corporation, a strike was declared.

• • •

Mrs. Vladimir Korbatkin and four of her six children were burned to death when their home was destroyed by a fire at Martin's Ferry, O. It is believed the fire was of incendiary origin.

• • •

Fire in the Green River Distilling company at Owensboro, Ky., destroyed the plant and 43,000 barrels of whiskey. The whisky alone was valued at $1,- 840,000, and the loss to the government in taxes is $1,720,000.

• • •

The steamer George Hudson, in the coast fisheries service, struck on the rocks off North Isle, in the Bay of Fundy and sank. Three of her crew have been reported dead. The remainder of the crew are safe.

• • •

Six deaths were recorded in aviation accidents at flying fields in this country during the week that ended August 27, the war department announced. There were two fatality for every 1,000 hours of flying, or 297,000 miles of travel.

• • •

American submarine chaser No. 366, operating out of Philadelphia, was mistaken for a submarine by a merchant steamer off Five Island, N. Y., and went to the bottom. Seven members of the crew, including the commander and the executive officer, are missing.

• • •

Judge Julius M. Mayer of the United States district court of New York has issued a decision in which he declares the making of the Lusitania was the act, not of civilized warfare, but of the Huns. The decision amounts to a denial of the suit against the Cunard line approving the sinking of the Lusitania. Scores of persons who perished with the vessel were on May 7, 1915.

• • •

The fuel administration ruled on Thursday that no public agency should act in conditions by Secretary Baker and Dr. Ryan has been appointed second assistant secretary of war and director of the industrial section of the war department.

• • •

The new power bill bringing within the active regulation and control of the state public service commission all companies furnishing gas, electricity, a combined water-power plant, was signed by Governor Whitman unanimously for the bill. All efforts to change the bill to provide for separate classification of trouble under twenty-one failed, and the measure now goes to conference between the house and senate where the fight for some for actions controversy except the words no-fight.

• • •

An earnest warning against "combination and pressure" from pacifist propaganda and a declaration that peace must be dictated to and not accepted with Germany to place her in a position where she never again can disturb the world's peace were made in the house of commons by Premier Lloyd George, replying to resolutions of the foreign relations committee.

• • •

A home 165 suspending customs duties on American Red Cross imports was passed by the senate and sent to President Wilson for his signature.

• • •

Reports to the navy department of the sinking by a submarine of four fishing schooners off Point Pleatis, Newfoundland, give their names as the Maurice B. Adams, the C. M. Watson, the J. L. Finn-ty and the F. B. Watson.

• • •

Three American marines were killed and one wounded in a bloody fight with a band in the Sulu archipelago of Dutch Dominica on August 15, A report reaching another corps headquarters in Washington says many of the bandits were killed or captured.

Vernon Smart and Dainty Maids.

Vernon may be made from any kind of cloth, but is usually seen in serge or some style of tweed suit or a gorgeous creation finished with a touch of fur. The Chinese brocades, in some cases these vests are in reality sleeveless coats, which slip on over the head and are to be worn with or without a jacket. An especially handsome tunic of this sort is one made from a soft crepe in a Paisley design, joined under the arms by narrow strips studded with buttons. Such a garment is unexceptionally for country clothes. It is smart, easily fashioned at home, and, in many respects practical.

Tags for the Little Chap.

For the little chap of the family there compare in tones of gray, blue, tan, dark blue or cream. Fancy cuffs and cuffs of white, or directly at the center front of the waist have an appliqued elephant, cat or dog, as he may to delight the heart of the small

YANK SOLDIERS COOL, WILLING AND DETERMINED

Our Doughboys Mean Business When They Take the First-Line Trenches.

THEIR EFFICIENCY EVIDENT

Veterans Before They Enter the Battle Front—Rifle Military Training If Not by Experience Many Men to Line Have Personal Grudge to Settle With Boches.

With the American Troops in Alsace-Lorraine—By the thin light of the moon the American soldiers in the sector of doughboys pouring out of the shelter trenches and scrambling over the dusty French road toward the trenches. They were the first contingent to go over with the newly organized second army which enables Europe's veterans to carry their hard tacks aloft on board of distances.

The stream seemed unending, as the United Press staff correspondent watched from a ruined village with sights, without failing to disclose any end. Platoon after platoon, company after company and scores of units in the stream halted in a ruined village. The men sprawled out in the dusty roadside for a brief rest.

Then they moved on, through the home side, and there, hidden from the view of the profession who have temporarily be-come soldiers, adopt the policy of fall-ing back to avoid fighting.

"I'm sorry, mister," he said. "I'm from Chicago a couple of thousand miles in New York, and have more than a million dollars in my own name, and a bank to back that I remember my plate in the army here. But I'll do it, some how."

You think you are in an interaction, or army when you visit some of the training camps in the United States, or the training camps from New York, Boots that its members know seventeen languages, and fifty nations are represented in the same time, when talking and listening to the men full of "pep" and confident, you are convinced.

But all of these interpreters are ar-dent Americans, and they have won their citizenship papers since they came to the United States.

Sure of Success.

The men are brimming over with confidence. All are sure of success.

Officers went through the crowd, giving last minute instructions, and seeing that every man was ready for any kind of machine-gun outfits and all that it needs. The men in charge of the machine-gun outfits and all that it needs. The men in charge of the trench dugouts, as these are called, were busy distributing hand grenades to France. Quaint and with, but deadly weapons, which will soon clear the trenches of the Germans when they were soldiers."

Not all of the men were raw recruits, however. Many of them have been in the trenches. All have been through the training camps and schools in France, and boulder their work-ing under fire of the enemy. They are for civilization.

There was no will enthusiasm nor any evidence of fear or even anxiety. Every man seemed to be in the best of spirits before making the last preparations for the attack. Many of them were engaged in writing letters to their homes, and every man was ready for the word of the command to go over the top.

Officers went through the crowd, giving last minute instructions, and seeing that every man was ready for any kind of machine-gun outfits and all that it needs. The men in charge of the machine-gun outfits and all that it needs. The men in charge of the trench dugouts, as these are called, were busy distributing hand grenades to France. Quaint and with, but deadly weapons, which will soon clear the trenches of the Germans when they were soldiers."

Not all of the men were raw recruits, however. Many of them have been in the trenches. All have been through the training camps and schools in France, and boulder their work-ing under fire of the enemy. They are for civilization.

There was no will enthusiasm nor any evidence of fear or even anxiety. Every man seemed to be in the best of spirits before making the last preparations for the attack. Many of them were engaged in writing letters to their homes, and every man was ready for the word of the command to go over the top.

All in Day's Work.

Speaking of the day the newly arrived Americans take to the trenches as all in day's work, says a veteran officer, who has just finished a complete tour of the front. The Americans will have to get into the trenches. I guess no one is glad of that. But these boys all figure they've got to be done, and they're here to lick Germans. They're the men to get the job done. They're stout, all right, but not beautiful, be-cause they're not fighting for beauty. I was standing by this version of a boy as he and his pals fell while out there facing No Man's Land for the first time. "We're not scared of the Ger-mans, and when they come over we show them. We're going to do our part, which is about all they can do, and before me, it's going to be a mighty good part."

The men in the fighting units adapt themselves to the new conditions as did the first Americans to go over. The sight it is "over the top" for parts of them, and a few days they are as thoroughly familiar with No Man's Land, the Hindenburg line and the rest of it. In the line of investigation and the machine-gun nests as the doughboys have back to avoid fighting.

"I'm sorry, mister," he said. "I'm from Chicago a couple of thousand miles in New York, and have more than a million dollars in my own name, and a bank to back that I remember my plate in the army here. But I'll do it, some how."

You think you are in an interaction, or army when you visit some of the training camps in the United States, or the training camps from New York. Boots that its members know seventeen languages, and fifty nations are represented in the same time, when talking and listening to the men full of "pep" and confident, you are convinced.

But all of these interpreters are ar-dent Americans, and they have won their citizenship papers since they came to the United States.

Sure of Success.

The men are brimming over with confidence. All are sure of success.

Officers went through the crowd, giving last minute instructions, and seeing that every man was ready for any kind of machine-gun outfits and all that it needs. The men in charge of the machine-gun outfits and all that it needs. The men in charge of the trench dugouts, as these are called, were busy distributing hand grenades to France. Quaint and with, but deadly weapons, which will soon clear the trenches of the Germans when they were soldiers."

Not all of the men were raw recruits, however. Many of them have been in the trenches. All have been through the training camps and schools in France, and boulder their work-ing under fire of the enemy. They are for civilization.

There was no will enthusiasm nor any evidence of fear or even anxiety. Every man seemed to be in the best of spirits before making the last preparations for the attack. Many of them were engaged in writing letters to their homes, and every man was ready for the word of the command to go over the top.

Foreign

The total number of persons arrested in Finland on account of the labor section in that country up to August 10 was 32,000, according to a dispatch received in Stockholm from Helsingfors.

• • •

Rebel forces have gained successes against the government troops near Assay, says a dispatch from Peking. The government troops in the province of Fukien, consequently, are said to have been placed in a dangerous position.

• • •

Germany has accepted all of Spain's conditions stipulated in the case of the sinking on submarine warfare in the Mediterranean sea, according to an announcement made by Premier Dato at Santander, the London Times learns. The German government agrees to the replacement of Spanish vessels sunk by U-boats in the future by German tonnage interned in Spain's ports.

Washington

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts was elected unanimously to be four leader by Republicans of the senate to succeed Senator, to succeed the late Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire.

• • •

Fleet Assistant Secretary of War Benedict Crowell was made director of air conditions by Secretary Baker and Dr. Ryan has been appointed second assistant secretary of war and director of industrial section of the war department.

• • •

The new power bill bringing within the active regulation and control of the state public service commission all companies furnishing gas, electricity, a combined water-power plant, was signed by Governor Whitman unanimously for the bill. All efforts to change the bill to provide for separate classification of trouble under twenty-one failed, and the measure now goes to conference between the house and senate where the fight for some for actions controversy except the words no-fight.

• • •

An earnest warning against "combination and pressure" from pacifist propaganda and a declaration that peace must be dictated to and not accepted with Germany to place her in a position where she never again can disturb the world's peace were made in the house of commons by Premier Lloyd George, replying to resolutions of the foreign relations committee.

• • •

A home 165 suspending customs duties on American Red Cross imports was passed by the senate and sent to President Wilson for his signature.

• • •

Reports to the navy department of the sinking by a submarine of four fishing schooners off Point Pleatis, Newfoundland, give their names as the Maurice B. Adams, the C. M. Watson, the J. L. Finn-ty and the F. B. Watson.

• • •

Three American marines were killed and one wounded in a bloody fight with a band in the Sulu archipelago of Dutch Dominica on August 15, A report reaching another corps headquarters in Washington says many of the bandits were killed or captured.

DAKOTA "PRAIRIE DOG" BECOMES "DEVIL DOG"

St. Paul, Minn.—"Say, pard, I'm a 'prairie dog' from North Dakota, and I'm proud of it, but I'm a 'devil dog' now, and I'm proud of that, too," said a relieving himself of his first "Hun" to Private Joseph A. Knickerbocker of Dogden, N. D., on his first place to him in the United States marine recruiting office here.

Knickerbocker passed an examination for the marines a few days ago at the navy in Parks Island, S. C., to the marine recruiting office here for assignment.

SOLVES FARM HELP PROBLEM

Ohio Farmer Hit on Plan of Cultivating and Planting Soil in One Trip.

Smithville, O.—The problem of farm help has been solved by Gus Sprogel, a farmer living near here.

Hitching three horses to a riding gang plough and to follow him over his 24-acre farm as he goes about with a seeding machine drawn by a cultivator. The drivetrain team has never made a slip, Sprogel says.

TURNS FORGER TO SAVE LIFE

Rejected Youth Says He Thought Commission of a Crime Would Help.

Minerie, Ind.—He determined to enter the army was Paul Love, age eighteen, that, according to his own story, he turned forger in the hope that a criminal record would make it easier to enter his country's service.

The youth, on being arrested after

Germans came over, and fifty of these "recruited boys" withstood the attack and stuck to their guns. The Germans who were still alive and able to run, scampered, disappearing in the rear.

All in Day's Work.

Speaking of the day the newly arrived Americans take to the trenches as all in day's work, says a veteran officer, who has just finished a complete tour of the front. The Americans will have to get into the trenches. I guess no one is glad of that. But these boys all figure they've got to be done, and they're here to lick Germans. They're the men to get the job done. They're stout, all right, but not beautiful, be-cause they're not fighting for beauty. I was standing by this version of a boy as he and his pals fell while out there facing No Man's Land for the first time. "We're not scared of the Ger-mans, and when they come over we show them. We're going to do our part, which is about all they can do, and before me, it's going to be a mighty good part."

The men in the fighting units adapt themselves to the new conditions as did the first Americans to go over. The sight it is "over the top" for parts of them, and a few days they are as thoroughly familiar with No Man's Land, the Hindenburg line and the rest of it. In the line of investigation and the machine-gun nests as the doughboys have back to avoid fighting.

"I'm sorry, mister," he said. "I'm from Chicago a couple of thousand miles in New York, and have more than a million dollars in my own name, and a bank to back that I remember my plate in the army here. But I'll do it, some how."

You think you are in an interaction, or army when you visit some of the training camps in the United States, or the training camps from New York. Boots that its members know seventeen languages, and fifty nations are represented in the same time, when talking and listening to the men full of "pep" and confident, you are convinced.

But all of these interpreters are ar-dent Americans, and they have won their citizenship papers since they came to the United States.

Sure of Success.

The men are brimming over with confidence. All are sure of success.

Officers went through the crowd, giving last minute instructions, and seeing that every man was ready for any kind of machine-gun outfits and all that it needs. The men in charge of the machine-gun outfits and all that it needs. The men in charge of the trench dugouts, as these are called, were busy distributing hand grenades to France. Quaint and with, but deadly weapons, which will soon clear the trenches of the Germans when they were soldiers."

Not all of the men were raw recruits, however. Many of them have been in the trenches. All have been through the training camps and schools in France, and boulder their work-ing under fire of the enemy. They are for civilization.

There was no will enthusiasm nor any evidence of fear or even anxiety. Every man seemed to be in the best of spirits before making the last preparations for the attack. Many of them were engaged in writing letters to their homes, and every man was ready for the word of the command to go over the top.

DUCHESS OF ATHOLL

The Duchess of Atholl, one of the first women to be elected, and the wife of the new duke of Atth-ll, who succeeds his father, has taken a prominent position in the Conservative party.

BROTHERS ARE RECONCILED

Enlistment in Marine Corps Ends Feud of More Than Two Years' Standing.

St. Louis.—Two brothers who have not spoken to each other for two years, although they lived in the same block and ate at the same table, become reconciled through their enlistment in the Marine Corps.

The boys are Dan and Angelo Tarantino of this city. Dan is twenty and Angelo eighteen. They fell out two years ago when Dan left the home in which his brother was playing.

Angelo joined the Marine corps. His brother learned of it and came to the recruiting office to see him. After re-cruiting sergeant there Dan decided to join the marines and he will be with his brother.

He enlisted two days later and the brothers are now at Parris Island, S. C., where they are again fast friends, and fully reconciled to the service.

HEART RIGHT SIDE, REJECTED

Patriot Who Tried Twice to Enlist Has Cardiac Organ in Right Breast.

Philadelphia.—Another freak of nature was announced recently, when Dr. John H. Bunting, member of the local board No. 22, refused to accept Joseph Kaufman for service in the army because his heart is on the right side, even though it was on his right. Nobody in twenty years of aid practice desperately to go. Some months ago he tried to enlist, but was turned down because he was under weight, on examination at that time he was the unaware of his cardiac peculiarity. Kaufman is a member of the crew including the Eagle Athletic club, which defeats before the draft board Director Lloyd made the discovery of the true location of his heart.

HAS FIVE BOYS IN WAR

Mrs. A. P. White Is the Champion War Mother of Tennessee.

Knoxville, Tenn.—The champion war mother of Tennessee is Mrs. A. P. White of Knoxville. Mrs. White is a native of Dixie, in Mon. A., and has lived in Knoxville for many years. She has five sons in the service; Virgil, Ezra B. White, Lieutenant John H. White, Corporal Jesse D. White, Cook Martin B. White and Private Edgar White.

"All my boys volunteered," the de-voted mother said proudly.

MAKING HAT CORDS FOR OUR FIGHTERS

The manufacturers of hat cords for the various branches of the United States army have their part carried on by women in factories in Chicago. This picture shows the machine wrapping twisted threads for hat cords.

DEEPEST LAKE IN COUNTRY

Large Body of Fresh Water in Ore-gon Depth of Which Cannot Be Sounded.

Portland, Ore.—A lake known as the "Deepest Lake in America" is found in the deepest lake in this country, and the deepest lake in the whole world. Located in a valley of the Cascade moun-tains in southern Oregon, it is known as Crater lake, this lake, which is fresh water, is surrounded by steep cliffs unless wide, in so deep that its depth cannot be measured. It is situated so far below the crest of the mountains that winds cannot reach it, and its surface is like a sheet of glass. It is sometimes called the "Lake of Mys-tery."

DEFENDS KAISER—HOSPITAL

Defenda Kaiser—Hospital.

St. Louis—Nick Jones, thirty-two, an Austrian, defended the kaiser in an altercation in a saloon here. He was taken to the City hospital with several cuts and bruises.

Enough Said.

"Father, I met a soldier bill a fly."

"Did you, son? That was a cruel thing for the soldier to do."

"But" thought about it a few min-utes, and I decided that he probably killed $10,000 with the killer she keeps in her room."

Father offered no further comment.

Typewriters for British.

Some 30,000 or 35,000 typewriting machines have been supplied to the British government departments at home and abroad.

SIBERIAN ENEMIES ROUTED BY JAPANESE

HEAVY MACHINE GUN FIRE FAILS TO STOP THEM AFTER THEY FIND MUTILATED BODIES.

Russian Volunteers Are Disarmed—The Japanese Report That the Allied Troops Are Advancing Steadily —Bolshevik Retires (Western Newspaper Union News Service.

Harbin, via Peking.—General Semenoff, the anti-Bolshevik leader, continues his advance toward Chita and has captured Dauria station and Karimskaya. The Bolsheviki have retreated in disorder.

Vladivostok.—The enemy in consid-erable numbers are now desperately along the Ussuri front. All the allied forces participated in the fighting re-cent the Americans. Upward of 300 of the enemy were killed. The Japanese bore the brunt of the fighting. They captured two armored trains and several field guns. According to a statement issued by the general staff, the allied troops have advanced to the battlefield, charged and routed the enemy in the face of heavy machine gun and rifle fire. The Japanese re-port that they have captured many guns and rifles. The Japanese re-port that they have captured many guns and rifles. The Japanese re-ported that they have captured many guns and rifles. The Japanese re-ported that they have captured many guns and rifles. The Japanese re-ported