WORLD'S EVENTS IN SHORT FORM

BEST OF THE NEWS BOILED DOWN TO LIMIT.

ARRANGED FOR BUSY PEOPLE

Notes Covering Most Important Happenings of the World Digested in Briefest and Most Succinct Form for Quick Consumption.

European War News

A Paris dispatch says Henry Morgenthau, chief interpreter of Scrobrechnev, 30, an occupied Germany southwest of Treves, has been removed from office by order of Marshal Foch.

• • •

"Peace Peace Notes"

"Peace by Easter or bust" is the current slogan at Paris, meaning that the allies must agree and summon the German delegates by April 20. Two weeks more are required for putting them and revising the entire treaty, it is said.

• • •

Personal

Isaac Van Doozin, grand master of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows in Minnesota, died at Rochester, Minn. He was underwent an operation there.

• • •

Robert David Lewis, vice president of the Liggett & Myers Tobacco company, died at a hospital at St. Louis following an operation for appendicitis. He was seventy-two years old.

Washington

Large numbers of drafted men who have been looking forward to early demobilization are doomed to disappointment. Many are to be kept in service for the full period allowed by law, which in four months after peace has been declared. The war department at Washington desires to keep these men in service until a sufficient navy gumber of enlistments have been made to meet the present relief plan of increasing the regular army to 500,000 men.

• • •

Regulations limiting General Pershing's authority over court-martial proceedings abroad, to which the general objected, have been revoked by Washington.

• • •

Money circulating in the United States this month is sufficient to give every man, woman and child $54.06, an increase of 40 cents over the per capita circulation in March, according to a Washington dispatch.

• • •

A Washington dispatch says production of the Liberty airplane engines for the army reached a total of 20,478, final deliveries having been made by the manufacturers during the week ending March 15.

• • •

Reconsideration by congress of all antiwar legislation is recommended by the American Legion, composed of United States ex-Washington as the result of a referendum vote of its affiliated trade and commercial organizations.

• • •

The war risk bureau now is issuing checks for allotments, allowances, insurance and compensation in the same months that they fall due. An announcement was made at Washington that 1,067,000 checks were mailed in March, representing $20,149,323.66. Checks for 1,000,000 in amounts totaling $17,000,000 had been paid out.

• • •

No advices have reached the war department at Washington from the Archangel section during the week to shape reflecting the serious situation of the American and British forces in north Russia pictured in reports published in Sunday papers.

Foreign

Premier Lloyd George is confined to his Paris home with a severe chill.

• • •

Six hundred British-American soldiers arrived at Dublin, Ireland, on the steamer Anglia, preparatory to visit their land during the war.

• • •

A meeting of returned soldiers held in the Sydney Domain, Sydney, Sydney, Australia, 10,000 volunteers were enrolled as an army to fight Bolshevism.

• • •

King Albert, returning from a conference with the allied peace delegates in Paris, arrived in Brussels by airplane, according to advices at London.

• • •

A London says the private secretary of Wayne is to be fostered as a memorial to the late president, to be known as "Power of Right" and "The Warrior Bride."

• • •

A London dispatch says four hundred airplanes are now supplying food and clothing to the Poles and Russians from British bases on the extreme Archangel front. Seven commissioners are now assisting in the latest reports from that area.

• • •

An Archangel dispatch says the Russian official report on the fighting of the 3rd Northern Dvinsky Division shows that the bolshevik lost 700 dead and wounded in addition to the 300 prisoners taken by the allied forces.

• • •

The military authorities at Berlin began forming the Empress Augusta regiment, which will become infantry, cavalry and artillery in time of peace, it was announced. Only loyal officers, by self announcement, are to be engaged to instruct it into a nur of the national defense force.

• • •

A Kovno "battalion of death," consisting of 250 men, fully armed, has crossed the Tuneskaug river from Mancheric into Kovno, pledged and to prevent until Kovno is free, a cable dispatch says.

Window Dazzlingly.

"La decolleta en fenestre" or window decolletage, is one of the new terms in afternoon frocks. A bodice so constructed shows an oval opening in the front, quite three inches below the collar bone, and on each side of the neck. The one or three inches above the shoulders

A Sign.

James Parkey, gray cloth gown beaded in with black carneul, has very pretty a without fullness in the

MILITARY DEFEAT HAS WROUGHT NO CHANGE OF HEART IN GERMANY

Dr. Alonzo Taylor Investigates Conditions in Land of Hun—Same Old Gang in Government Offices—Take Attitude That They Are Much Abused Nation—Believe Themselves Guilty of No Misdeeds.

By LLOYD ALLEN,
Western Newspaper Union Staff Correspondent.

(Copyright, 1919, by Western Newspaper Union.)

Paris.—That Germany has undergone no change of heart as a result of her military defeat is the opinion of Dr. Alonzo Taylor has just brought to Paris after three weeks in Germany, where he inspected the food supply, the morale of new conditions briefly, and made a remarkably concise survey of the political and economic situation.

Probably no one in America was better fitted to size up Germany than Doctor Taylor.

While American was neutral, during those first months of the great war, Taylor was traveling through the length and breadth of Germany, inspecting the allied prison camps. He gained, during those months, a knowledge of German psychology that few men in the war, on intimate knowledge of German life and German official procedure, German intrigue, German lies, German cruelty, and came to know all about the condition of economic Germany.

You would never pick Taylor out of a crowd as one of our leading Americans, because he does not look like a professor, a diplomat—and yet he is all of these things.

When he hurried out of Mr. Hoover's office in the Hotel de Crillon on his return from Germany, Taylor was in a hurry to get back to his work in the heart of his task with a group of American newspaper men that had assembled to learn the truth about Germany. He actually talked one hour and forty-five minutes. He answered half a hundred questions.

"Same Old Gang."

"They've got the same old gang in the government offices at Berlin that we knew before and during the war," said Taylor. "Some kind of a revolution actually started in Germany before the armistice was signed, but the time being that revolution is being effected by the conservative element of the country, the aristocratic and monarchic working smoothly. In order to prevent some kind of a solid front of the allies when the time comes to settle the peace terms. While the government is shaping itself the old civil servants are being kept in the government offices. The men in control do not intend taking matters into their own hands in order to avoid the complete example of the failure of the Russian government that took matters into its own hands. The conservative machine. The Germans in control will allow Germany's economic life to fail to govern like the Russian government did.

"As soon as peace is declared, I predict the Germans will start out setting their internal difficulties, and will be expected to introduce many social-ist reforms—possibly the most radical of many of the leading industries. Such as the large factory plants, and the coal and potash and iron mines.

"The Germans have no intention of letting their industrial difficulties, and