Happenings of the World Tersely Told

Personal

James A. Tawney, former congressman of the First Minnesota district, and at one time chairman of the congressional committee, died today at Excelsior Springs, Mo. Mr. Tawney was sixty-four years old.

Washington

With authorization for a new three-year building program stimulated by the fund for naval aviation reduced to $75,000,000, the 1920 naval appropriation bill, totaling $890,000,000, passed the house at Washington.

Epaulets, corded hats, gold-covered boots and highly ornamented special full dress coats heretofore worn by naval officers on special occasions are abolished under an order issued by Secretary Daniels at Washington.

All American vessels which crossed to the Mexican side at eleven o'clock Sunday morning have returned to the American side, a report received at Washington headquarters at El Paso, Tex., stated.

Five armed bandits held up the West Cleveland (O.) mail truck and escaped in a stolen automobile with currency estimated at $50,000, one of the officers of the stood guard over six customers and five clerks.

Foreign

A Copenhagen dispatch says that in connection with a fight between anti-conscription in Vienna Sunday, eight persons were killed and 46 injured. The trouble began when 6,000 demonstrators attempted to obtain the release from prison of communist leaders arrested Saturday.

A Paris dispatch says the strike called by the federation of mines workers effect Monday. Fourteen thousand the mining region indicated that it was general in scope.

A British squadron is bombarding the bolshevik house at Kronstadt with long guns, according to a report published in the Swedish newspaper Aftonbladet.

Sir Jan Hissey, a captain in the British royal air force, and his navigator, Lieut. Arthur W. Brown, an American, goes the honor of having made the first non-stop flight across the Atlantic, from Newfoundland to Ireland. The Daily Mail's $50,000 prize is theirs. Forty minutes after eight o'clock Sunday morning they big Vickers-Vimy biplane landed on the beach near Clifden, Galway. They made the flight in 16 hours and 12 minutes.

Serious anarchist and bolshevik disorders broke out in Zurich, Switzerland, according to a Berne dispatch. A number of casualties are reported. Red flags appeared in the streets and telegraph lines appear to have been tampered with.

A Rome dispatch says the disorders which began in Sarda on Thursday continued because of a lack of sufficient forces to check the rioters which were packing the shops and disarming huts, show and provisions flight and left, showing particular preference for cheese, olive oil and wine.

An account of the mutiny of seamen of the French Black sea fleet which broke out in April was told in the chamber of deputies in Paris by Deputy Emile Goude, a socialist. During the trouble a red flag had been run up on the battleship France.

Gen. Estevez Castro of the French army, is reported in Prague in going to Slovakia in connection with a military situation there. He formerly commanded the French troops in Siberia.

The council of four in Paris decreed on both of the sections to the recognition of the text of the treaty, which will be entirely rewritten, except of the territory excluded American issues dealing the protocol, the security of the United States, and Italian issues concerning the Adriatic. The Adriatic question will be settled by direct negotiations between commission to Fiume and Jugo-Slavia, Count Sforza negotiating for Italy and Trumbic for Jugo-Slavia. Eighteen persons are killed and 15 others are missing.

Organized labor went on record in favor of the recognition of Ireland as a republic and in favor of the exemption of 2½ per cent bonds of the Liberty loan issue from taxation not and the federal prohibition of the manufacture of beer, at the convention, in Cincinnati Federation of Labor at the close of the week's session.

Striking longshoremen returned to their work Sunday when the pleasure and the Warrior river near Tuscaloosa, Ala., have been preserved.

Secretary Wilson of the department of labor, addressing the convention of the International Association of Labor at Atlantic City, N. J., counseled organized labor that the government will not participate in a blockade against Germany in the event of the refusal of Germany to sign the peace treaty.

Hundreds of Russians who refused to contribute to a fund of $1,000,000 imposed on the city of Odessa by the bolshevik were forced to "walk the plank" from a pier formerly owned by the czar, according to August Jonquet, representative in southern Russia of the International Harvester company, who arrived in New York.

Two hundred Western government troops were killed when the train on which they were traveling to Chihuahua was wrecked by sinking of the attack north of Agua Caliente, Mex., fell.

FEMININE FRIPPERIES

Black, net and gold passementerie are reported for evening toilettes.

The spring wear are hats made on the lines of the Napoleonic period.

Fur is designed to be worn with especially partial to ostrich.

The new jersey frocks come in all the fashionable colors.

The gold silk bags are very popular and expensive than those of last spring.

The fall of Kronstadt, the naval base of Petrograd, is imminent, according to reports received by the Swedish circles at Helsingfors from Reval, the capital of Esthonia.

The resolutions adopted by the American senate on the Irish question have been formally transmitted to the peace conference, delegates representing Irish societies at Paris have been informed.

A Milan dispatch says Italian newspapers have begun a campaign against Britain, and especially against Premier Lloyd George. This campaign is said to be inspired by Italian circles in the radical and socialist camps. The press laments the situation Italy finds herself in today, surrounded by enemies on all sides and deserted by her friends."

Domestic

The corn belt of the world has been invaded by the army worm, one of the greatest destroyers of crops, the past week ago the worm was found at Peru. Today there are many fields of corn and grain in central Illinois that are being destroyed by worms, according to the Associated press.

It is probable that no officer in any of the allied navies played a more important part in the direction of the naval part of the war, after April, 1917, than did Admiral Mayo, the commander of the Atlantic fleet. It is also certain that no prominent officer appeared fewer times in the public print than did Admiral Mayo. The other day an officer of the fleet, who was close to Admiral Mayo during the war, and who knows the story of the admiral's war activities, told it for the first time.

"I guess it's all right," said the officer, "now that the ships of the navy are home and admiral Sims are wearing peacefully and calmly in the security of yards and docks, that the experiences abroad are coming in with the drift of conversation on earth and on the quarter deck. It is all over now, official reports have been made, the censor's rightening grip has been loosened on the war correspondents and even non bound down by the truthful rules of 'Propaganda' is about to open a vent.

"So all of the sea travel that came to roaring offices of the United States navy department, and the admiral's staff, and the admiral himself, was dropped by the wayside. After the armistice, the troops along the Atlantic coast, the naval aviation photographers of the work the bombing squadrons, the submarine chasers, the destroyers dropped by the wayside. And so