What Do You Want?

What do you want done with the railroads, the merit packers, immigration, farms for soldiers, national highways, the merchant marine, the tariff? "What do farmers generally want?" asks

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

Someone has got to get the farmers together, protect their interests, fight for their rights. Who will do it? Who can? The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN!

It is the big voice speaking for American farmers, bringing them together, so they can present a solid front when Congress asks "What do the farmers say?" It knows. And because it stands with and for and by the farmers, for, last and all the time, every farmer should read it every week.

That's where I come in. I sell THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN and I want to add your name to my list of progressive farmers in this county. Our dollar will bring you fifty-two big, helpful issues of the national farm weekly. If you don't get more than a dollar's worth, I'll refund your dollar!

NOTICE TO TELEPHONE USERS

By Act of Congress of the United States, bearing date of July 16th, 1918, the President was given possession, supervision, operation and control of all telegraph and Telephone Compa[nies] in the United States and such possession, supervision, operation and control was assumed by the President effective at midnight July 31st, 1918, by executive proclamation of the President and by direction of the Postmaster General. The Act of Congress referred to provided no appropriation to take care of any extra[s] which might occur in the operation of the property, and the continued high cost of materials as well as the necessity of [illegible] employees have made such deficits imminent. In order to forestall, if possible, the calamity which would be occasioned by the necessity of closing any of the telephone exchanges the Postmaster General has ordered that, effective May 1st, 1919, the following schedule of rates be placed in effect by this company.

CARLISLE EXCHANGE

Each Toll Booth[illegible]	$1.75 per month
Two party line Business	2.25 per month

Rural party line Residence	1.00 per month
Business Extension	1.00 per month
Residence Extension	.50 per month
Extension bells	.25 per month
Rural Business	2.25 per month

MOOREFIELD EXCHANGE

Main line Business	$2.50 per month
Two party line Business	2.00 per month
Main line Residence (City limits)	1.50 per month
Rural party line	1.50 per month
Business Extension	1.00 per month
Residence Extension	.50 per month
Extension bells	.25 per month

Statements will be rendered 25 cents higher than above rates but a discount of 25 cents will be allowed on all bills which are paid at the office of the company on or before the 15th day of each month.

In placing this new schedule of rates in effect we desire to acknowledge our deep appreciation of the cooperation and good will which has existed between this company and its patrons which feeling we trust will continue and further to assure our patrons that every effort will be exerted to provide and maintain a high standard of telephone service.

COMMENT

The Courier-Journal made a note of warning in connection with the recent Republican convention at Louisville, but it was not heeded. The Courier-Journal says: "The platform adopted by the convention is contained in the resolutions paragraphs of the editorial, when, in the opinion of the Courier-Journal, it says:

"It is headed by two men who will get votes. The Herald is a good Democratic paper, but it is not blind to the character and the meaning of the impression of a convention. Moreover, he is not to be misled by any official record, with a reasonably intelligent knowledge of the facts, by the cant of high-class words and undefined ability, would make an admirable Governor, and his election for the second place on the ticket shows the sense with which it was constructed. The other choices were made with the same wisdom."

The Democrats should not be in a hurry to take action with so many. They should see their way out and for them. Kentucky is a Democratic State. The Kentucky Democrats can be depended on to do their duty and deserve to defeat it. And to do that they must put their best foot forward. They must offer to the voters a ticket that will command confidence. They must not put forward candidates who in the minds of many voters forms that reveal to people [illegible] all, they will vote against it, and so winning in any other way."

NO HOPE FOR ANYBODY

(Cynthiana Democrat.)

"Kentucky's Only Hope," is the heading to the following editorial that appeared in a recent issue of the Woodford Sun, signed by the State's leading Democratic newspaper editor, A. M. Bowman:

"The professional politicians of Kentucky do not appear to be the people of Kentucky as having any rights—one and all look upon the people as a matter to be opened solely for the benefit of the politicians. Their only hope is to get the people to vote as the politicians bids them to for those to whom he has promised jobs and contracts. The people who were fools enough to vote for the ticket that was nominated at Louisville are being as absolutely negligible numbers.

I myself do not understand how the professional office-holders can have much respect for the people who are there, but, some upright and very honest people do, and they will continue here, and for that reason I will express the professional and totally self-seeking politicians what I think and what happens. The P. P. Ites are the upright and accepted men with a glance eye and ears: 'Did you vote for Stanley?' 'Ha! Ha!' 'Did you vote for Beckham?' 'Ha! Ha!' 'Did you vote for Goebel in 1899?' No, I thought not! Ha! Ha!'

"The people, overwhelmed by such contemptuous treatment, have turned their backs on the upright and convicted the professional politicians to the totally anti-democratic Congo.

"The professional politicians may for a time hold sway over the backs and backs, and they regard a public office which can be won only by fraud the utmost contempt, and ride over it with the utmost arrogance and scorn. They know that they are caught by fraud with all they have to do is to cry out that they voted for it—and in so doing if he was a democrat, and all will be well with them.

"This is peculiarly unfortunate in Kentucky, because the people of Kentucky are by nature and habit a law-abiding people. If we democrats do not [illegible] will rise in their might and demand that the results of the election be honestly ascertained, and that the will of the people be promptly complied with.

"The only hope to straighten out this State is to get the people to vote and not count as will appear with the returns of the election. If the returns are to be counted by the Democrats who have stolen been identified with the election, there is no hope for the people.

"No Hope for the Republican—may be the heading to this editorial from a second Democratic newspaper. The Journal respects the law and believes in abeyance it. It was enacted by the Democratic party and it is the duty of the Republicans to abide by it as well as the Democrats. The Republicans have no desire to take advantage of the provisions of the law to secure office, but they have given to the Democrats who have stolen the election, and some hope to the friends of Lexington, I say:
