WHICH

THIS WAGON	OR THIS WAGON
Built according to Government specifications to meet present and future road conditions	Built before autos were ever thought of
Built for many years to come, and to serve best under present conditions	Built to conform to road conditions of the past when the wagon was King of the Road
Built to work in harmony with the auto, reducing cost of its own upkeep and the upkeep of the auto	Built to satisfy a whim (a now out-of-date policy) that tries to ignore roads made by the auto
Saves horse flesh, pulls easy, travels faster, and lasts longer	Must in the end submit to automobile road dominance
Backed by your judgement, our Government, and the National Vehicle Association	That is trying to hold back the wheels of progress

WHICH DO YOU SAY?

The wide tread (60 in.) wagon will soon be placed in the discard either from choice or absolute necessity, even before it is half worn out. The states of Michigan and Texas have already passed laws that nothing but 56 in. tread vehicles are allowed on Public Highways.

OF THE ABNER HORD FARM OF 270 ACRES OF LAND IN HELENA PRECINCT TO SETTLE PARTNERSHIP

Wednesday, Oct. 8th

AT 1 O'CLOCK

In order to settle up a partnership, we will offer to the highest bidder what is known as the late Abner Hord farm, situated in Mason County, Kentucky, in Helena Precinct, about two and a half miles from Helena Station.

This farm contains 270 acres and has a good frontage on two turnpikes and can be offered in three or four tracts with our important value of any portion of the farm and it will therefore be offered that way and then as a whole. The improvements consist of a seven room frame house (new) two tobacco barns and stock barn. This farm has been in the Hord family for three generations and has been used for a stock farm and has never had to exceed fifteen acres of tobacco raised on it, annually, therefore it is in a high state of cultivation, some twenty acres woodland which has never been plowed. To the stranger who is not acquainted with the land will state that this is, and always has been considered one of the best farms, in the county, and there is perhaps as many acres of it ready for intensive cultivation as any farm of its size in the county. The land is gently rolling, and can be farmed with tractors and binders; and there is absolutely no waste land on the farm. The neighborhood is as good as the best, and on all four sides of this place you will find as good people as you have ever known in the county. Sale will be made on easy terms, with the privilege given the purchasers to pay cash if they so desire. Privilege to send this fall and full possession on or about March 1, 1920.

COMMENT

A Strike on the batter is the only kind of strike the police is not fed up on now.

No, the Cincinnati Red, are not Bolshevists. They don't believe in a division of the spoils.

Signs of the times: Abe Martin and Miss Tawney Apple in a "chicken dinner" automobile—coming and going.

Although the Mercury building is being given a coat of yellow paint, it will not be changed to a "yellow" journal in a "yellow" sheet.

One of our leather citizens asks why we can't have an agricultural fair in Carlisle. In the redemption fair we believe local merchants will back the movement.

This tactless, swede quits my goat—Mr. and home-head—————
When evening always in "pow-wow"
Oh, lawdy, lawdy!

Elsewhere in this issue we publish a card from R. Sam K. Veach in which he denounces a rumor which has been in circulation to the effect that the Democratic campaign in Kentucky has suffered a "slump" or whatever it may be termed, in regard to the Democratic nomination for Governor. Mercury has always regarded such rumors as absurd and has refused to publish them. With his strong circle of acquaintances in the county, we regard Mr. Veach as a safe prophet, and feel that Mr. Veach will be eminently successful in his campaign. We have always contended that the Mercury must lose its influence if it ever failed to print a true report and be honest in its views on home connection the support of her friends and readers. LOVE'S WAY

Once in my youth I read a book
About a guy who took
(The brawny dub!)
And laid his sweetheart cold;

And how he buried his fatty fat
Into the washer's hair;
And dragged her through
A rocky, lonely road
And flung her in his lair;

How then she laid his face, removed
Her
And kissed the Cave Man's lot;
And swore she's stick,
Through hell and high,
To her cute Romeo;

Then how they fixed the marriage "date"
At forty white bears' hides;
And how they dug
A honeymoon cave
Of the wild;

And how, when she would fractious be,
He'd
Whale her on the bean
With skillet, pot,
Or like as not,
A Stone Age soupfaucet;

And how she loved him more and more
The more she was abused;
And how
Though always somewhat bruised
She'd happy be.

Now I grow up believing I
Should find a woman "ethics,"
But more and more
That Stone Age Guy has right!

COMPROMISE EFFECTED IN BIG STEEL SUIT

A suit of considerable importance going to the courts of Mason county, involving, which has been pending in the Bourbon Circuit Court and the Court of Appeals, for several years, has been settled out of court by a compromise having been effected between the parties in the case.

About three years ago, it was alleged, Mr. Charles D. Stofer, of Paris, wrote a letter to a bonding company in New York, in which he made certain reflections on Mr. James McClure, cashier of the First National Bank, of Maysville. Mr. Stofer filed a suit for libel, and the case was finally carried to the Court of Appeals from the Bourbon Circuit Court. The case was appealed to the higher court. The Court of Appeals set aside the verdict and sent the case back to the Bourbon Circuit Court for a new trial. A compromise has been effected, it was stated, that will be satisfactory to all parties concerned.

If you want a good tobacco farm cheap, write or call on J. S. Weil, a Rigby National Bank, Rigby, Penn county, Ohio. 12-2-3t

GRAND JURY MAKES THE FOLLOWING REPORT

The Nicholas grand jury in session for the October term here adjourned on last Friday afternoon after having been in session for three days. The following is the report made by the jury:

"We the grand jury impaneled for the September term of the Nicholas Circuit Court respectfully report that we have been in session four days and have had a full and fair investigation.

"It has been called to the attention of the grand jury that some of the physicians of the county have not been fully complying with the provisions of the laws regarding reporting of cases of contagious and infectious diseases in their practice, and we recommend that the attention of the physicians be called to this matter.

"We are reliably informed and our personal knowledge leads us to believe that the roads in the county are and should be kept in the actual condition that would be more useful and prompt in the hauling of the crops to market, and we recommend that the attention of the proper authorities be called to this matter.

"We have examined the Fiscar and grand jury to the matter and in the discharge of our duties and find that the same is in a proper condition.

"We have examined the jail and find it in a clean and sanitary condition
