CAUSE OF UNDUE TIRE WEAR

Few Owners Realize That Loose or Improperly Mounted Rims Are Hard on Tires.

It is generally understood nowadays that wheels which are out of alignment cause undue tire wear. Few owners, however, realize that rims which are loose or improperly mounted will have the same effect. Rims are frequently rapid tread wear. A loose rim generally makes its presence known by a thumping or squeaking sound. This is not always the case, however, as sometimes a small stone or some mud may get in between the rim and felloe so as to prevent noise. The rim appears to be tight, but in reality it is moving around sufficiently to wear out the tire.

Pulleys Out of Alignment.

In cases where the fan belt develops a trick of constantly coming off or breaking, the natural suspicion is that the pulleys are out of alignment.

KENTUCKY BOY HERO OF THE WAR

WONDERFUL EXPLOITS OF SERGEANT WILLIE SANDLIN WIN FOR HIM MANY MEDALS.

Quiet Mountain Boy Who Dared Every Danger at the Enemy in Battle, Modestly Returns to His Home With Medals of Honor in His Pocket.

Sergeant Willie Sandlin.

Sergeant Willie Sandlin, Company A, Allied Infantry, was one of the conspicuous heroes of the great war, yet his remarkable feat, probably aimed with many others, has not been given to the public. Returning from service a few weeks ago, wearing the highest medal for bravery that France has to award, and the highest medal that the United States has to award, he took off his coffers he reached New York and brought them home to his people. He had been told that the great military medal of France and the Congressional medal of honor would bring him much notice and publicity. The quiet mountain boy, who had dared every danger of the enemy, who had received war when duty called, nevertheless shrank from publicity and from medals, the telltale of his wonderful deeds. No magazine writer of the crossed his wonderful feat and given it to the world in advance of his return, he came quietly back to his Kentucky mountain home with those hard medals, which non usually die for, tucked away unconspicuously in his pocket.

Sergeant Sandlin's remarks to facts and incidents of minor importance, save they were the means of having the hero reach the right objective. Some consider that this modesty on the part of the hero is that of Sergeant York. The latter was awarded the congressional medal of honor and Sergeant Sandlin only ranks the Java of decorations. Both officers and privates have declared that Sergeant Sandlin's feat is the most daring of the war. Sergeant Sandlin's story is told in song and story. His quiet, modest home town welcomed him before he is accomplish what he set to do.

The poet singing of that other hero, Sergeant York, has said: "Glory be cried upon the world plaints of enemy Sergeant Sandlin has accomplished his own to get through, says."

"Glory be, Liberty," he cried, made way for Liberty and died."

Sergeant Sandlin's parents and his comrades, "Give me some more grenades. Then he made way for Liberty—and still lives!

Deplores Divorce Evil.

Madisonville, Ky.—Declaring the divorce evil is growing at the rate that more divorce cases on the present docket than there were in any county of the state, Judge Hanbery of the Second Circuit Judge Carl Henderson said, addressing the grand jury, that it was willing to cooperate with the bar and bench in any way to stem the tide of sorrow. Judge Henderson stated that he would not hear divorce cases until the State Legislature should be instructed to pass laws regulating and governing the granting of divorces.

Object To Vaccination.

Harrodsburg, Ky.—The refusal of several hundred citizens in this county to have their children vaccinated under order of the County Board of Health, cause the latter to have warrants sworn out for Deputy Sheriff Joe Sanders, of the Mackville district, and Dr. Robert A. Clash Ensues Between Caldwell and Glasser—Dismissal Ordered When Prosecutor Charges Members Exceeded Their Authority.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

Cincinnati.—Holding that the Hamilton County Grand Jury exceeded its authority in investigating the fatalities and made unfounded charges against Prosecuting Attorney Leslie A. Cappelle and his staff in a report made to Common Pleas Judge Caldwell, Judge E. T. Dixon, Common Pleas Judge John A. Caldwell, Presiding Judge of Common Pleas Court, discharged the grand jury. It was reported that County Prosecutor Cappelle that the matter was taken before Judge Dixon on the reading of a petition by Judge Dixon in which Judge Caldwell in discharging the grand jury Judge Dixon said for Foreman Louis Lasker, a Cincinnati druggist, the grand jury, and instructed Judge Caldwell and to get the grand jurors together and to discharge them. The money they might wish and to report to the court what they had done with it.

Judge Caldwell in discharging the grand jury said: "I have read the report and of a suit about the court house. I have also read the report of the grand jury, and I am sorry that the grand jurors have attempted to usurp the functions of the court. The grand jury is only a body of inquiry and investigation. It is only in cases in Criminal Division, as the jurist sees fit, that the grand jury has the right to be the Judge for that division for the court. The grand jury has no power until the beginning of the October term, 1919, and the grand jury has no power to be called by the court. The grand jury has no power to be called by the court.
