TO OUR MOTHER

Nearing the close of our four-score years and just as the break of day was heralding the lucker morning, Mrs. Margaret Kerns, of East Union, was called into the presence of Him who had given her life, long years of usefulness and love, and patient endurance.

As in all cases, death was grim and silent, and gave no warning of its cold, pitiless touch and so suddenly it came that only those of the same children were present when the silver threads were broken and she lay white and still in her unconscious sleep of death. For more than a quarter of a century she had lived in the East Union community and had seen the lights and shadows, the joys and sorrows and the hopes and dreams that came and went in the busy years of life unfolding.

As an old saint of God she lived a life rich in experience. Filled with the patience of a long life's love, loyal to the old school of music and ever mindful that human life should be made fruitful and play its part in the path by the gone, she did not let age change her constitutional make-up. Her sympathy and helpfulness that made her dear to the world and which, intensified the love and cherished esteem of the friends for whom her life was a sparkling beacon and a ray of sunlight.

Standing by the lifeless form of our mother, we feel that we have a sacred heritage. In the hours of sickness she had stood by the couch of the afflicted, and when the hours of the hour-glass seemed to run low, it was with energy and the wonderful strength of age that she gave help and encouragement to those who were in the ministering touch of her willing hand. To us the association of years are wrapped around the love of mother and time with all its changes can not dim the memories we shall ever cherish. It is a sweet consolation to us that we feel that she has had been long, that she was prepared for all the elements of a Christian mother, that the last and hour was peaceful and that in death's long sleep she was life-like and beautiful.

Ever and anon the world stands by with its changes, its sorrows and its fashion upon the screen of memory the days, months and years that she stood alone in her love and faithful watch-care and her guiding hand led the way through the unbidden and sorrow and the light and darkness of life's checkered path. We are not alone realize that nations and individuals, the garnity of womanhood and the gold of a man's heart must build its hope and trust upon the basic rock of motherhood.

The Universe is a great stage upon which the drama of life is acted. It is good bye to loved mother today; it is our mother and tomorrow it may be yours, but not until the clear eye is cast and the grave receives her life-less form do we feel the crushing force of the fulfillment of God's Immortality.

Our mother full of years and full of honors is no longer the familiar light and folly of our Heritage home. In Carlisle's beautiful cemetery she lies, and interwoven with the floral wreaths of her long years are the memories that will bloom in our hearts and watered. At mother's grave we left the yesterdays of life sure of the old home, and when we turned our steps toward the setting sun we hope to have with us the memories and her brave, tender example.

OBITUARY

In loving remembrance of our dear father, John Stephens, who died April 4th, 1877, died August 30, 1919. His dear wife preceded him to the grave just 14 months ago. They were blessed with a long happy life, and lived to be married 58 years. He was a lifelong member of the Methodist Episcopal Church. He was the oldest of the 20 born church for 40 years. He preached Mason for 60 years. He loved his church, his relatives, and friends and his home life was a model for others. No wife ever had a truer companion. No children a more devoted father. Our hearts are often grieved and we feel the loss of our dear mother and father; and now that we must call out to the will of God, for He doeth all things well and we must be comforted by the thought of meeting her and to be due when we shall see his dear face and hear his sweet voice.

Sadly but not lonely,
Jessie Stephens and Jessie called dear papa away)

A loving father in true and kind.
No friend on earth like him we find.
For all of us he did his best.
May God grant him eternal rest.

TRY TAKING PEPTO MANGAN

It Isn't Sleep but Need, But a Good Tonic Does Real Good.

Everyone goes down occasionally. Sometimes it's weeks before you get your appetite back again. Sometimes it takes months before you're able to eat a full meal. You feel bad, but you're not sick enough to call a doctor. You're just run down, that's all. You're tired of hoping you could get back your old time health and strength. You're tired of trying to force yourself to eat when you have no appetite. You're tired of dragging around and forcing yourself to get up in the morning.

Good's Pepto-Mangan is a wonderful tonic for just such conditions as described. It supplies the iron and other nourishing elements that the blood has lost. It helps you get back your appetite. It helps you get back your health and strength. It helps you get back your old time pep and energy. It doesn't intoxicate, as some tonics do. It doesn't contain habit forming drugs. It is a pure, safe, reliable tonic for anyone who feels run down, tired out, half sick, half dead. Be sure to ask for Good's Pepto-Mangan in tablet form or the Liquid. Both forms are the same. Both are for sale by druggists everywhere.

Glad To Tell Her Friends of Vola-tonic

COULD HARDLY GET ABOUND SEVERE PAIN ACROSS BACK AND IRONING

"I am glad to tell my friends about Vola-tonic because it surely did a lot for me," writes Mrs. Lena Reiland, 431 Keller street, Cincinnati.

"I had a severe pain across my back and I have suffered with rheumatism and nervousness for a long time. I was so nervous the ironing was as hard as I could stand. I had taken a lot of medicine but it did not help me. I had very little appetite and my sleep was broken. I was so weak I could hardly do any work.

"After I had taken a small quantity of Vola-tonic I felt much stronger and my appetite was better. I am much stronger in every way.

"I am glad to tell my friends about Vola-tonic because it surely did a lot for me."

Vola-Tonic is what thousands of weakened, run down men and women need. It helps because it is a true tonic—it builds strength and health where it is needed.

Vola-Tonic is being specially introduced in Carlisle at Trueman & Son's Drug Store.—Adv.
