Did you notice the mail order houses when reducing prices EXCLUDED THE HARDWARE LINE? Do you know that the majority of stove manufacturers raised their prices less than 30 days ago? TOBACCO GROWERS MEETING

About 200 Farmers Met at the Court House Monday Afternoon and Form Permanent Organization

About 200 farmers met at the court house Monday afternoon and formed a permanent organization to be known as the Nicholas county branch of the Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association. The meeting was called for the purpose of the meeting, which was for the purpose of organizing the farmers of Nicholas county so they can demand a fair price for their crop next season. It was stated that the organization offered the farmers at the present time, in his opinion, is the Burley Tobacco Growers Association, "From now on" Myers said, "we are for low prices, and "and if low newly formed organization does not help us we are lost." Myers stated that many growers who had taken him representative of the price of the dues. "If the Burley Tobacco Association is not worth five dollars a year to any landlord and $2.50 a year to any tenant, then is not worth anything, and there is no use of us farmers going on the use of us holding any more meetings."

Wyatt M. Imiss, temporary chairman of the meeting, made a short address, telling of market conditions, and asked the organization to elect a permanent secretary.

C. H. Landrum made a motion that a vote be taken to ascertain whether, or not it meant for the farmers to be organized, stated that on the Winchester, Ky., market, where the growers had a strong organization, tobacco has been selling $10 per hundred for the same grade as tobacco in the State. He stated that he was strictly in favor of the Co-operative association.

H. B. Weaver stated that he did not, think it was a question of whether "a farmers of Nicholas county should organize, but whether they are going to organize. "We all know the condition of the market, and we all know that the association proposes to do," said Mr. Weaver. "Are we going to let a committee of Kentucky farmers set prices for our crops or children. They do not expect much, and with very little expenditure of money and time, the Kentucky farmers can get a fair price for their crops. I for one am going to help the association to the limit of my ability, of a sustained agriculture in this country is imperative."

Critz of "Daddy" From Seven Children Win Father Pardon

After the father was sent to the penitentiary the mother, a frail woman, prevailed food for her children by taking in washing. Conductor Bingham of the C. & O. railroad became interested in the case and came to Frankfort today with the children and her seven children to intercede with the governor. Governor invited all of them into his private office and sent for Harris. The children cried and laughed when they saw their "daddy" and the heart of Governor Morrow was touched.

"I may be blamed for granting this pardon," he said, "but God knows these children need their father and I am going to pardon him."

Railroad officials and officers of the prosecution also joined in the request for the pardon.

AMERICAN FARMERS FACING CRISIS SAYS MEREDITH

Washington, Dec. 10—America, faces a situation due to falling prices or farm products which should be dealt with as a national problem Secretary Edwin T. Meredith, declared in his first annual report, made public today. On November 1, prices were 23 per cent below those prevailing at planting time, the Secretary of Agriculture said, adding:

"There is perhaps no single solution for the situation with which we are now facing, but there are steps which can and should be taken to place our agriculture on a more satisfactory basis and to stabilize the business of farming, not in the interest of the farmers alone but in the interest of the nation as a whole. A wider agricultural thought with regard to the importance, the absolute necessity, of a sustained agriculture in this country is imperative."

Important recommendations in the report of Secretary Meredith are:

Studies in the cost of marketing as the difference between the proportion of price received by the producer, and the proportion received by various marketing agencies can be accurately ascertained.

Extension and development of cooperative marketing work.

Establishment of a world market reporting service to make promptly available comprehensive and dependable information on supply, demand, supply, prices of, and demand for agricultural commodities in various parts of the world.

The consolidation of the Bureau of Markets and the Bureau of Crop Estimates for the sake of economy and greater efficiency.

Continuation and expansion of the studies of the cost of producing farm products.

Thorough going scientific study of the whole problem of farm labor.

The making of every feasible effort to aid the farmer in obtaining necessary personal credit.

Broader studies of the methods employed an results obtained by farmers in producing their crops economically and co-operative action.

XMAS PAGEANT CITY SCHOOL

Pupils of High School and Seventh and Eighth Grades to Give Pageant for Penny Lunch Fund

On Tuesday evening, December 21, at 8 p. m., at the city school auditorium, the pupils of the high school and seventh and eighth grades will present a pageant entitled "The Christmas Story." In short, the story of the story is this: six readings from "Ben Hur" each followed by a tableau depicting one of the scenes relative to the advent of the Christ Child. Appropriate songs will accompany each scene. It is timed to occupy one and one half hours.

The school is expecting a crowded house to witness this pageant. Seats will be placed on sale at the school auditorium Saturday morning, December 16. All seats will be sold at 25 cents each. The proceeds from this entertainment will go for purchasing equipment for the penny lunch which the school hopes to install as soon as they can secure the necessary funds. Come out and there by help them make this valuable addition to our school.

On Thursday afternoon, at 1:45 p. m., the first six grades will give a Christmas pageant in the school auditorium. After this program, school will be dismissed for the holidays. School work will be resumed Monday, January 8.

CARLISLE IN GALA ATTIRE FOR HOLIDAY SEASON

Only eight more days remain until Christmas, and Carlisle presents a most appearance for the holiday season. The merchants of the city report an unusually large sale of Christmas goods, despite the fact that the scene prosperity is reported to be scarce.

The Mercury is this week publishing a holiday shopper's section, carrying the advertisements of the leading merchants of Carlisle. This year, as never before, we urge our readers to trade at home. In the stores of Carlisle you can find anything for a Xmas gift for any member of the family, and at prices as reasonable as can be had in any city. If you have any one helping horse industry, by not helping to build up the town, so make your motto "buy at home."

While we are upon the subject of Christmas gifts its happiness that by many places, let us not forget the Christian spirit. Remember that, as any other place, there are some unfortunate children. They do not expect much, and with very little expenditure much stockings could be filled, bringing to them "the thrill that comes once, in a life time." If you want to enjoy a happy Christmas, select some worthy little boy or girl when you know will not be visited by Santa Claus, see this old gentleman and help him to make them happy. The cost will be small, and you will be repaid when you see the beam of happiness on your little friend's or neighbor's face Christmas morning. Make it a real Christmas for him or her.

PERT AND PEDTINENT

(Cynthiana Democrat)

Nobody can afford to overlook the kiddies at Christmas.

A medical student on examination defined Pyorrhea as "gum drops."

The Colorado educator who declared that "Christmas kills all sense of proportion" is the poor fish!

Quite natural that at the Harrison, County Retailers Society's banquet another, Monday night, Dr. C. Garr, of Lexington, should be much in evidence.

Motion pictures often carry a great moral. For instance, "Why Change Your Wife" teaches that there are two things which cause most of the unhappiness of married life—the husband and the wife.

LOWEST PRICE IN TWO YEARS

Winston-Salem Tobacco Market Closes For Holidays With Lowest Prices Paid On Market For Two Years

The Mercury is in receipt of a copy of the Winston-Salem, N. C., Journal under the date of Saturday, December 9, sent up by R. A. Atkinson. The report of the tobacco market looks very discouraging to farmers, the price having been lower than any reached on that market for two years. The paper has the following account:

The lowest average of the season attended the closing of the warehouses for the Christmas holidays, a total of 878,264 pounds being sold for $85,- 295.62 an average price of $14.44 per hundred pounds. This is the lowest level that the local tobacco market has reached during the past two years and came as no surprise to those who are familiar with the leaf tobacco situation.

"The great drop in the average yesterday may be partly attributed to the large amount of common tobacco offered for sale. Many planters at yesterday's sales—Total pounds, amount of tobacco on hand and if 878,264. BUYERS' METHODS TO BLAME

Purchasing Methods of Buyers Partly to Blame for Drop in Tobacco Prices Says Committee's Report

A Washington dispatch has an account of the report made by the Federal Trade Commission to Congress on the investigation of the tobacco situation. The investigation was made in pursuance to a resolution of Congress introduced by Congressman W. J. Fields, of this district. The resolution called for "the facts relating to alleged violations of anti-trust acts by corporations or individuals in connection with the decline in prices of loose leaf and other manufactured tobacco during the years 1919 and 1939; to ascertain the causes of such decline and to ascertain the prices of manufactured tobacco compared with those of loose leaf tobacco."

The Federal trade Commission made a voluminous report in Congress, the document covering over 500 pages.

The decline in prices is attributable to a combination of three factors, which may be stated as:

1. The financing of foreign purchases, due to unfavorable exchange rates, and the restrictive or economic conditions resulting in unfavorable financial conditions.

2. An increase in quantity of low grades for domestic consumption of the same conditions and falling foreign markets.

3. "C" Purchasing methods of large buyers."

WEED ACREAGE TO DEPEND ON PRICE

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 13—That tobacco manufacturers have it within their power to "kill the goose that laid the golden egg" then buy it back ing a poor price for the 1939 crop and then, if they should so desire, secure themselves a steady and sufficient supply of the finest burley tobacco in the world, is indicated in the report of the burley district committee immediately following its meeting in Paynthe Carolinas.

The reports received also indicated that the loss of weight reported in other counties is developing generally throughout the district and that there not much, if any, more than a normal crop in the hands of the growers will be marketed this year. What is to with the low grades continues the problem of men working for a fair price for this year's market and it is a real Christmas for low or best
