TOBACCO GROWERS MEETING TO BE HELD IN LEXINGTON

At a meeting of the Tobacco Growers held in Carrollton, Ky., Saturday, July 24, 1920, the meeting was largely attended, over 500 growers present, 7 counties being well represented. At this meeting it was decided to call a mass meeting at Lexington, Ky., for Wednesday, Aug. 4, 1920, of all the counties in the Burley District for the purpose of fully discussing the tobacco situation and the advisability of curtailing its production and planting a large acreage of corn, wheat and other foodstuffs. We urgently request that all the counties in the district send a delegation to this meeting, as this is a vital one to every producer and nothing can be accomplished only through cooperation of all growers of tobacco.

If you are interested in such a movement and for the betterment of your county, meet us in Lexington, Aug. 4.

C. M. DEAN, Chairman

LETTER FROM JAS. C. OGDEN

Batang, April 27, 1920

My dear parents:—A few days ago we received your letter telling of Grace's wedding. We were somewhat surprised, but we wish them the best.

We have just had ward telling of Mrs. Shelton's release and departure for U. S. very sick. You will likely hear about them sooner than we. He had a rough time. Mrs. Shelton advises us to leave here by another route. Our furlough is due in 1922, and we expect to leave here about October 1921, but we cannot determine exactly now. Our passport has come, good to June 1922, and our travel and passage money has been asked for. We have to do things a long time ahead out here. We hope to reach home early in 1922. We probably shall go via Tahiteiti and Shanghai. We had some experience in that route ourselves, from robbers and pirates, and we were both ill for a long time and I was almost crazy. We hope to be better off this time both physically and mentally.

We are aiming to put up a new school building before we leave Laoag, time and lumber is already bought, but we have not yet begun to build. Our school has grown beyond all expectations and a new building is a necessity. We have 17 in the Orphanage now, and the money is coming from U. S. yet. Some has been reported, but has not arrived. It is a long way to this place.

May we all stay well, and see one another again, in a happy reunion when we get home.

With tender love,

Pop.

WHY IS A NICKLE?

(Louisville Times)

The proprietor of a little fruit and candy store, much frequented by newsboys and persons on their way to a few pennies to spend, was interrupted from his afternoon musings yesterday by a small boy who tapped a nickel on the glass top of the candy counter.

"What's de price of them things?" queried the youth, pointing to a display of cakes of milk chocolate.

"Five cents," replied the candy man.

"What's them?" indicating a chocolate drop.

"Same price."

The boy turned away and started for the door, leaving his nickel on the counter.

"Here, you," called the confectioner, "you've forgotten your money."

"Aw, I changed my mind," replied the boy. "What de hell do I want with it? It won't buy nothing."

HIS CHOICE

By JESSIE DOUGLAS.

"You don't think she's pretty?" Kitty asked uncertainly. "What if eyes are blue?" she opened her own brown eyes to their widest and gazed at Mrs. Dorsey's gloomy, though friendly face. "Really, a faded blue, I think." And she added, now, have that girl painted?"

"That's all you know about it, then," Mrs. Dorsey answered smugly. "And Maude's features aren't a bit regular."

"I want to see this picture so much I couldn't find and she showed her friend what it was in the shabbiest smart little things—" he said almost to himself.

"Of course, if Harris wishes to see it, it's very well, but I think a good photo is at home; at least a gift of one should be the end of it."

Then she looked up at Willard Dorsey and said, "Guess you weren't I am." A simple thimble deep in the evening clouds caught his eye and he pointed to it and that Kitty was the prettiest thing in the world.

He watched Kitty's hands as they flew about the preparations, soft white hands with pink nail nests. She didn't wear rings, Shelton's release and departure for U. S. very sick. You will likely hear about them sooner than we. He had a rough time. Mrs. Shelton advises us to leave here by another route. Our furlough is due in 1922, and we expect to leave here about October 1921, but we cannot determine exactly now. Most Sleep or Die.

Quoth Sir Thomas Browne, "One-half our days we pass in the shadow of the earth and the brother of Death extendeth a third part of our time." Why should we give so many hours to sleep? For the purpose, we suppose, of giving the body rest. But during the sleep no physical or mental function is entirely at rest. We are not here why we must sleep, we only know we must sleep or die."

The Gland System.

The gulf stream theory is the result of the general vertical circulation of the ocean, bringing from the south the denser cold water which sinks below, while the warm water from the equatorial region rises and flows northward above the cold current; the deviation of these currents to the right, giving the surface current a northwesterly direction.

Evil Always in Hatred.

A man should not allow himself to hate even his enemies, because if you hate a man in this passion, as some authors state, it will rise of itself in others; if you love your enemies, you will restrict such a vicious habit of mind, as by degrees will break out upon those who are your friends, or those who are indifferent to you.—Plutarch.

The New Way To Put Iron in the Blood

The highest medical authorities have always taught that iron was the best tonic for the blood and all agree on its great medicinal value. The trouble is that iron in its natural state is not assimilated and cannot be relied upon. Quick Results Noted

The new way to restore iron to the blood—the surest and quickest way to get rid of malaria—is through Stuarts Iron Mineral. This is a natural form of soluble iron—it is not prepared artificially by chemists like most medicinal iron, but is found in Nature itself, combined with other highly beneficial medicinal agents. The story of the recovery of the new form of iron has been told most like a fairy tale and medical science has proved its wonderful value. Just ask your druggist for Stuarts Iron Mineral Tablets. The two drug stores in this city have agreed this year not to handle school books. Heretofore all of the school books have been handled by the drug stores and it is not known at present who will handle the books. The slight profit made on books, and the fact that many of them are sold on credit is said to be the cause of the failure of the drug stores to handle them.
