CHANDLER SIX

Famous For Its Marvelous Motor

Chandler Leads Because of Its Real Worth

IT is easy to boast and make claims and to so magnify mere incidents that they may appear as mighty events. It is easy to paint in the colors of exaggeration.

Chandler advertising has never carried boasts or unfounded assertions to the public. It has never extolled some single performance as final evidence of superiority.

The Chandler Six is so distinctly the leader among medium-priced high-grade cars because of its own worthiness, which for sales purposes does not need the support of exaggeration.

Chandler worthiness comes primarily, of course, from its' great channels, light, strong and enduring, featured by this famous Chandler motor developed throughout seven years of constant manufacture with no change of type of design, but with refinements and developments which have kept it long strides ahead of any other six.

This isn't a claim. It's a fact, and over sixty thousand Chandler owners would tell you so if you could ask them.

Six handsome bodies, splendidly built and finished, are mounted on the one standard Chandler chassis.

Other cars of some similarity are listed at hundreds of dollars more

AUTOMOBILE STATISTICS

Unofficial figures compiled from various sources tell a wonderful and amazing story of the automobile industry in 1919.

Ninety manufacturers of passenger automobiles and 179 builders of motor trucks, tractors, aeroplanes, employing 250,000 produced about 2,000,000 passenger cars and 300,142 trucks, valued at $1,807,695,829 in the last 12 months.

A small group of automobile tire manufacturers produced more than 30,000,000 tires and tubes made in 1919, with the other tire companies featured by 213 small companies, of the entire total The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company made nearly 7,000,000 tires, or 20 per cent. In 1920 it is estimated that 40,000,000 tires will be produced and the same company will produce about 25 per cent.

Automobile exports last year were of startling total. The value of motor vehicles and parts sent abroad to 81 countries was $146,551,417 of which 62,624 were passenger cars valued at $61,248,048; 27,518 were motor commercial vehicles worth $35,272,419. The value of parts exported was $42,016,642.

It is estimated that there were in 1919, 62,000 gasoline stations, garages and repair shops in the United States, of which 7,000 were new every month. Of the total, 2,000 were truck dealers, 36,427 were dealers in cars, 16,000 were repair shops.

Farmers were the largest users of motor trucks, owning 70 per cent more than manufacturers and 15 per cent more than dealers. It is estimated that 40 per cent of the car output was sold to farmers last year.

The 7,000,000 motor vehicles in use in the United States, of which 700,000 are motor trucks, represent $10,500,000,000 revenue to states from license fees.

Interesting figure that there are 19.96 persons for every motor car in every automobile and two cars in the country for every motor mile.

Lovers of horse flesh will view with sadness the fact that 3,600,000 horses were killed in the last year, a total greater than the same time it is estimated that 15,000,000 horses will be released for farm work by the use of trucks.

Iowa and Nebraska have the greatest number of automobiles per capita, Iowa leading with 1 to 4.21 and Nebraska 1 to 4.23. Tennessee had the country in motor cars, 1 to 22.

Famous Forest at Arden.

In one Forest of Arden, near London, Eng., the ancient custom of still observed of holding a May day procession, in which persons clad in the porches surrounding the forest take part. The recipient of the award is read in the shade of one of the "goodly oaks," which still marred its purpose. Little by little civilization is encroaching on the Forest of Arden, hundreds have cut through its trees, which once were so heavy as boon as numerous that a squirrel could travel all over the forest without touching foot to the ground.

THE NORTHERN STATES HAVE A DOPTED THE 56-IN. AUTO-TRACK WAGON

Over 100,000 Standardized Auto-Track Wagons Have Been Sold

THIS ALONE TELLS THE STORY OF THE FUTURE

During the war our Government asked the wagon manufacturers of the United States to conserve wagon-building material and labor from the forest to the finished product by doing away with all unnecessary styles and sizes of wagons. So the leading manufacturers got together and decided that the best way to do this would be to make a standardized wagon. The 56-inch auto-track wagon of today is the result.

This wagon was found to be so much better than any of the old-track wagons, like the old-time horse, that now the principal manufacturers are making nothing but this type. It runs lighter, pulls easier, and rides better than the wide-track wide-track travel in the new universal 56-in ch ruts that we find wherever users are automobiles—which is everywhere.

Today there have been sold between 10 5,000 and 150,000 standardized auto-track wagons, such as the Columbus, in the United States—and the number is increasing every day. Some manufacturers and dealers who were overstocked with wide-track wagons when the new ones were still selling for now out-of-date wide-track wagons, but there are not many farmers buying them because the farmer of today is just as up-to-date as anyone else and he is too good a seller to a dealer sell him out-of-date goods, and for which reason may be very short to get in just a few years.

That's why we sell the COLUMBUS STANDARDIZED AUTO-TRACK WAGON. We know it's the wagon that every progressive farmer in this community will want. The COLUMBUS has a number of patented and exclusive features that will interest you. LET US SHOW THEM TO YOU.

COMMUNITY SHOCKED OVER DEATH OF PROF. CARTER

On last Friday morning news was received in this city of the death of Prof. Carter had died in the hospital at Pineville that morning, the verification of this sad intelligence soon followed as relatives were forced to realize the necessity of this sad event.

Prof. Carter was stricken with influenza about two weeks ago and was at once removed to the hospital where he was compelled to take his bed. His condition was considered very low, and he failed to ward off pneumonia, which developed into a very serious character Thursday and little hope then was entertained for his recovery. A change came Friday morning about 8 o'clock.

Mr. Carter was born in Fleming county in August, 1887, and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Carter. He attended the public school at Fairview, Fleming county, and was graduated from the high school at Sharpsburg, where his parents moved to this county. For several years he was engaged in the pursuit of the public school, he taught for several terms at Fairview, and during the period he was teaching, he attended the Kentucky State Normal School at Richmond during the summer months and was graduated from that school. For four years he was Principal of the Bethel public and high school, and for a number of years Principal of the Carlisle High School and for the past two years he was also connected with the Department of the Carlisle school, succeeding R. Dean Hughes. Mr. Carter during the past summer has attended the Kentucky University at Lexington in the interest of his death carrying on his work in the Carlisle school. He was a member of the Christian church and was to be at the head of Carlisle's Sunday School Sunday. He was one of the best efforts of his mind which occasioned his death. He was a member of the educational institution.

Mr. Carter a few days ago he was united in marriage to Miss Mary Belle Hamilton, daughter of Mr. F. M. Hamilton of Carlisle, and Miss Mary Belle Hamilton, who was also a teacher in the Carlisle school, succeeding R. Dean Hughes and Mrs. William Donaldson, who resigned to accept a position in the Carlisle school.

It is not the purpose or the writer to attempt to write the life history of Mr. Carter. His life was lived in our midst and his many deeds of kindness are known here. However, his courtesy, his courtesy, his kindness, his gentleness and his peculiar charm of personality in his unswerving loyalty to his friends were characteristics that will be remembered and endeared him to all with whom he came in contact. His influence and affection he will, warm hearted, sympathetic, and his friends were legion. He was a man of the highest type of manhood and ideals to share in their rejoicing. It is sad indeed that Carter, one in the prime of manhood, one full of life and vigor, one who was a blessing to the people of his county. It can be said that he was a man who was universally loved by any farm, never knew the taste of bitterness or envy, never knew the taste of bitterness or envy.

Mr. Carter was a member of the Christian Church and Christian Church and Superintendent of the Sunday School at the time of his death. He was also a member of the Masonic fraternity, and was Chapter No. 17, R. A. M., Commandery No. 37, K. T., Knights Templar, and Marie Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star. He was also Worthy Master of the local Boy Scout Troop. He was a member of the Carlisle Country Club, and was an active participant in all its social affairs.

The funeral services were conducted at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton on Sycamore street Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, pastor of the Christian Church, assisted by Rev. Ben Lander, pastor of the Carlisle Presbyterian church. Interment was made in Battle Grove cemetery. The services were also held. The attendance was large, and the floral offerings were many and beautiful, and the large number of Masons were present in a body. Members of the Boy Scout Troop was an enthusiastic member of the Sunday School.

Mr. Carter is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Belle Carter, and one brother, Mr. George D. Carter, Jr., of Fleming county, and a host of friends.

At the close of three days session Mrs. Wilson, Carlisle was chosen as the next meeting place for the conference in 1921. Mrs. Bingman, of Burgin, was re-elected president of the conference for the eleventh consecutive year.

KENTUCKY MUST GET BUSY TO GET FEDERAL AID

Washington, March 18—A warning that Kentucky must get busy or "lose out" if the state does not want to lose the benefit of federal aid in the construction of roads is contained in a letter from Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the bureau of public roads, has just sent to Joe S. Hogge, commissioner of Public Roads for the state. The letter says:

"The situation in your state is far behind the filing of federal aid projects. Kentucky should have at least 100 miles more rapidly from the first July a considerable portion of the 1919 fund will be forfeited and will be forfeited by that state and subject to reclassification. This year is willing and anxious to do all that it can to assist in the construction of roads, but we cannot do more than it will assure you that every possible aid that can be rendered to it by this bureau will be given and a rapid progress will be made in the future and will work to prevent any delays that may occur."

In connection, I would call your attention to the fact that progressive counties in Kentucky have $1,562,365.53 must be signed by both the county judge and the chairman of the state highway department previous to May 1, 1920, or the money will revert to the federal treasury and be distributed by early June."

KENTUCKY CROP REPORTS

Farm land values in Kentucky as a whole have increased approximately 10 per cent during the past year, according to the March agricultural report of the Kentucky Department of Agriculture, Labor and Statistics. In the same time farm labor has increased 25 per cent and farm products have increased approximately 20 per cent.

The increase in Kentucky has been due largely to the prosperity of the farmers during the past year, according to wild speculation and inflation in the prices of farm land, the report states.

Good plow lands and improved farms have increased from $5 to $10 per acre, according to the report. Unimproved farm land, but also good timber land, has increased from $2 to $5 per acre.

On January 1, 1919, good plow land in Kentucky, considering all parts of the state, was worth $61.00 per acre; the average value January 1, 1920, was $80.00 at present; poor plow land was worth $41.00 to $70.00; average value January 1, 1920, was $55.00 to $60.00; and the average of all land was worth $37.00 January 1, 1919, and $52.00 January 1, 1920. Timber land increase between January 1, 1919, and January 1, 1920, from $20.00 to $30.00 per acre, the report says.

Wages for farm labor have increased from $1.20 to $2.00 per day in Kentucky but throughout the country as a whole the increase has been from $1.26 to $2.76; average price of corn January 1, 1919, was $1.07 per bushel; January 1, 1920, $1.50; wheat $2.07 January 1, 1919, and $2.24; January 1, 1920.

Kentucky has established the chief industry of the state is not to be found in agriculture, but in coal mining, which employs one case of a similar nature in medical history.

PRODUCE REVIEW

(Prepared by Swift & Co.)

Chicago, March 18—Receipts of poultry and eggs have been increasing. The demand is fairly good for all kinds, especially fancy fowls. There is no demand for the increasing egg production, and prices are declining under the heavy receipts. The demand is chiefly for live fowls, and prices are unchanged from last week.

In the United States as a whole there will be 1,000,000 more acres of winter wheat sown. Higher prices are ruling this week than last, but the tendency is downward.

Improved poultry market is quite and the demand is fairly for storage of fowls.

Today there have been sold between 10 5,000 and 150,000 standardized auto-track wagons, such as the Columbus, in the United States—and the number is increasing every day. Some manufacturers and dealer a who were overstocked with wide-track wagons when the new ones were still selling for now out-of-date wide-track wagons, but there are not many farmers buying them because the farmer of today is just as up-to-date as anyone else and he is too good a seller to a dealer sell him out-of-date goods, and for which reason may be very short to get in just a few years.

That's why we sell the COLUMBUS STANDARDIZED AUTO-TRACK WAGON. We know it's the wagon that every progressive farmer in this community will want. The COLUMBUS has a number of patented and exclusive features that will interest you. LET US SHOW THEM TO YOU.

KENTUCKY CROP REPORTS

Farm land values in Kentucky as a whole have increased approximately 10 per cent during the past year, according to the March agricultural report of the Kentucky Department of Agriculture, Labor and Statistics. In the same time farm labor has increased 25 per cent and farm products have increased approximately 20 per cent.

The increase in Kentucky has been due largely to the prosperity of the farmers during the past year, according to wild speculation and inflation in the prices of farm land, the report states.

Good plow lands and improved farms have increased from $5 to $10 per acre, according to the report. Unimproved farm land, but also good timber land, has increased from $2 to $5 per acre.

On January 1, 1919, good plow land in Kentucky, considering all parts of the state, was worth $61.00 per acre; the average value January 1, 1920, was $80.00 at present; poor plow land was worth $41.00 to $70.00; average value January 1, 1920, was $55.00 to $60.00; and the average of all land was worth $37.00 January 1, 1919, and $52.00 January 1, 1920. Timber land increase between January 1, 1919, and January 1, 1920, from $20.00 to $30.00 per acre, the report says.

Wages for farm labor have increased from $1.20 to $2.00 per day in Kentucky but throughout the country as a whole the increase has been from $1.26 to $2.76; average price of corn January 1, 1919, was $1.07 per bushel; January 1, 1920, $1.50; wheat $2.07 January 1, 1919, and $2.24; January 1, 1920.

Kentucky has established the chief industry of the state is not to be found in agriculture, but in coal mining, which employs one case of a similar nature in medical history.

PRODUCE REVIEW

(Prepared by Swift & Co.)

Chicago, March 18—Receipts of poultry and eggs have been increasing. The demand is fairly good for all kinds, especially fancy fowls. There is no demand for the increasing egg production, and prices are declining under the heavy receipts. The demand is chiefly for live fowls, and prices are unchanged from last week.

In the United States as a whole there will be 1,000,000 more acres of winter wheat sown. Higher prices are ruling this week than last, but the tendency is downward.

Improved poultry market is quite and the demand is fairly for storage of fowls.

DRUM DESTROYED IN HOT WATER TAKES SMUT OUT OF WHEAT

Wheat smut may be eradicated by the newest treatment, and the only difficulty is the labor or tackling the job, according to a county agent has successfully simplified the process by arranging a steam outfit which will clean all the grain of smut in a few minutes. It is claimed that it can be lowered into a water tank, the grain soaked for a time in cold water, the wheat is placed in the steam drum and heated to 132 degrees F. Then it is lifted out and dumped into cold water, where it is cooled in a few minutes. After partial drying, the wheat is ready to be sown in the drill. The apparatus is illustrated in Farmers' Bulletin 1,207 of the Agricultural Mechanics Magazine.
