Pepto-Mangan Makes Red Blood

Sold By Druggists In Liquid and Tablet Form—Both The Same In Medicinal Quality

When your child loses color, acts and talks without spirit, and does not play like other children, act quickly.

If the condition is not a deep-seated disease but merely due to poor blood, give Pepto-Mangan. Gude's Pepto-Mangan is just the tonic for pale, thin children whose blood needs rebuilding. It is a pleasant-tasting, simple preparation of exactly the ingredients that increase and enrich the blood.

Beneficial results show almost at once in brighter eyes, rosier cheeks, a sprightly step, and the whole system made more vigorous.

Pepto-Mangan is obtainable in liquid or tablet form—both the same most convenient. Ipsin forms possess identical medicinal qualities.

There is but one genuine Pepto-Mangan and that is "Gude's." Ask your druggist for "Gude's" on the package. If it is not there, it is not Pepto-Mangan.—Adv.

COUNTY CLERKS TO ISSUE LICENSES DECEMBER 1ST.

County Clerks will start December 1, and not July 1, to issue automobile licenses. A misunderstanding of the law passed by the General Assembly has created the impression that after July 1 automobile licenses will be issued by County Clerks. The license will be issued by the Motor Vehicle Department until the first of December, when county clerks will take over the work.

The largest still ever taken in Kentucky was seized in Larue county last week and brought to Louisville by Federal agents. The capacity of the still is 1500 gallons. Seven hundred and fifty gallons of mash and eleven barrels of singings were destroyed.

William P. Steele, who is charged with killing Alonza Bledsoe in Whitley county on Christmas day, 1908, has been arrested in California and will be brought back to Whitley county for trial.

NO CHANCE TO COMPLAIN NOW SHE DECLARES

MISS VETTER HAS GAINED 25 POUNDS IN WEIGHT AND FEELS FINE ALL THE TIME—HIGHLY LAUDS TRUTONA

Louisville, Ky.—"I weighed 105 pounds when I began taking Trutona but I topped the scale at 130 pound after I had finished the treatment. And I feel as good all the time now that I don't even have a chance to complain." Miss Ruby Vetter, a well-known employe of Herman Straus & Son Co., has given the above statement to the street, Louisville, cast recently.

"I used to be a high strung nervous but I had to give up the position on account of my nerves," she continued. "I had the "flu" last spring and I felt my nerves in such shape that my stomach was so weak I couldn't digest the lightest of foods. I felt like less all the time and was subject to frequent headaches.

"Trutona had done my mother so much good that I decided to try it and am glad I did for it has helped me really better than I even expected. Down I had finished the third bottle of Trutona, I felt as strong as I ever did. And I'm still feeling that way. My nerves are strong and steady now and I'm taking another bottle. I'm also working at the department store every day now, too, and I feel as good all the time that I don't have a chance to complain."

I can say one should be sincere in this remarkable statement by Miss Vetter. It is not hard for Truto to be added to the ever-increasing volume of testimony accumulating in favor of Trutona. As a system builder and tonic, no greater for any other kind of reformer, pneumonia and the like, Trutona has proven to be a marvel.

CASE ENTIRE DAY

Entire Day In Hands of Specialists. And Price May Be Boosted To 50 Cents By Canning Time.

Very little relief is seen in the sugar situation here and from present indications it will be much higher. The following item, taken from Sunday's Lexington Herald, explains the situation:

"The approaching canning season for small fruits and the scarcity of sugar may send the price of that commodity to 50 cents a pound in the opinion of local wholesale and retail men. Many reasons are advanced as to the cause of the unprecedented rise in the price of sugar and its scarcity, but the one most generally given is, omit all the sugar in the world is in the hands of speculators. Sugar is at present selling for 30 and 35 cents a pound with no immediate relief in sight.

"Local dealers are growing uneasy over the prospects of canning any strawberries and like fruit as the season approaches. It is reported that the supply of such fruit will be the least in recent years, but the scarcity of sugar and the prohibitive price at which it is being offered will be liable to cause a shortage in this year's jam and preserve supply. No relief is offered, however, in the use of syrup as a substitute for pure cane sugar. Whether this will greatly relieve the situation is a question, for the use of syrups in this respect has never gone very much in favor and many housewives eschew its use altogether.

Wholesalers are free to state that there is no more pronounced scarcity of sugar in China which is being sold at 50 cents a pound. Refineries, which used to have been leased to speculators, are now refusing to accept any more and holding it for still higher prices. Wholesalers refuse to sell sugar except when a speculator in Cuba had offered a limited lot of his at a certain price on the wharfs at a very reasonable figure in order to make room for still more. This man also stated that one of the reasons for high prices was the scarcity of sugar in cane bins, and that the wholesalers in the more city. This practice is due to the shortage of sugar and the desire of the wholesale dealers to supply their customers, thereby causing them to pay the vendor a cent profit per pound on the sugar left. There has been no his knowledge, he said, been any such re-sale in Lexington.

Another reason given for the current price is that European buyers have purchased all the supply of sugar on the open market. Statements were made at the first of the year that Europe would buy no sugar this year because of its price, but there has already been more sugar shipped to the continent this year than during the entire year of 1919.

NEW-COINS ARE BEING PLANNED BY CONGRESS

Washington, May 8—Three inch coins that I costs will be these days except to keep a nickel company, but Congress is planning to have the Government coin 2-cent pieces along with several varieties of 2-cent pieces commemorative of various events.

The Senate has passed a bill providing for the coinage of 2-cent silver pieces bearing the likeness of Thomas Jefferson.

Several bills providing new half dollars have passed the House and are now pending in the Senate. One authorizes the coinage of 50-cent pieces in commemoration of the 300th anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrims; another the 100th anniversary of the admission of Maine into the Union, and another the 100th anniversary of the admission of Alabama.

The bills call for 200,000 coins commemorating the anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrims, and 100,000 commemorating the anniversary of the birth of each of the two States.

A new pike from the Cynthiana pike to the Gunlick pike, in Harrison county is being surveyed. The road will be known as the "Hell Pike." One of the members of the Harrison Court of Grant county declared he was in favor of withholding an appropriation until a more suitable name is found.

SCHOOLBOY HANGS FROM ROPE SWING

(Tuesdays Lexington Herald)

Playing with a rope swing in the yard of the home of his playmates, Jessie and Lorraine Hayes, at the corner of North Limestone and Fifth streets, George William Atchinson, 14 years old, a student in the Henry Junior high school, accidently hanged himself Monday night shortly after 5 o'clock.

The boy was found with the rope around his neck, his feet doubled up so that they did not reach the ground, by young Adrian Jameson and Jessie and Lorraine Hayes, when they came out of the house, where they had gone, and started to play with the rope swing. The body was still warm. Death was due to strangulation, as the boy's neck was not broken.

He and Lorraine Hayes, 10 years old, were playing alone in the yard, the little girl told police, young Jameson and Jessie Hayes, 15 years old, having gone into the house for a few minutes. The boy, in the rope swing, which hung from a limb scarcely higher than his head, called out playfully, "I'm going to hang myself."

The girl ran into the house and told the others, and when they came out the boy was hanging with the rope around his neck. Efforts to revive him were without avail.

LIFE SETENCE FOR MARKSBERRY

Former Pastor Found Guilty Murder At Brooksville By Jury After One Hour's Deliberation

The closing episode in one of the most sensational murder trials in the history of Kentucky was ended at Brooksville last Friday when Thomas Marksberry, former pastor and prominent farmer was found guilty of the murder of Jesse Glenn, his life-long friend, by a jury in the Bracken Circuit Court. His punishment was fixed at life in the penitentiary. The case was called for trial at Brooksville on Wednesday, May 5, but it required several days to select a jury. A venire of over 200 men from surrounding counties was selected for jury service. When the sentence was read Marksberry broke down and wept for an hour. This was the first time he had let his composure since the trial began. On several occasions he stated that he would rather go to the chair knowing that he was innocent than to spend the remainder of his life behind prison walls away from his wife and children. Since his affect Marksberry had protested his innocence and however, still maintained that he was innocent.

Immediately after the verdict was rendered the prisoner was taken to the Covington jail where he has been for safekeeping since his arrest. The company of Lafayette guards, which had been used to Brooksville during the trial, accompanied him to Covington. It was feared that if the jury failed to find the guilty verdict a lynching would take place, and the guards were there as a precaution. Large crowds attended the trial, and a rope was stretched at the edge of the court house lawn and kept away all persons who were not serving on the jury.

The murder of Glenn was one of the most brutal in the annals of crime in Kentucky. The last seen of Glenn living was by Mrs. Glenn at the Nicholas county election last year. Failing to return home within a reasonable time, Mrs. Glenn notified her father, he resulting in the finding of his torso and a part of his clothing, near the Marksberry home and on the farm. Marksberry was arrested shortly and was convicted on purely circumstantial evidence. The history of the case is familiar to newspaper readers, and a recital of the crime is not necessary.

Immediately after the trial Marksberry's attorneys made a motion for a new trial.

PRODUCE REVIEW

(Prepared by Swift & Co.)

With the approach of warm weather, the United States Department of Agriculture is urging farmers to produce all rifle eggs for consumption during the summer and that eggs of this character are worth from three money and with a number of other instructions for increased production and better quality. From 175 to 200 hens to a flock, dry place, away from flies?

Is it best to market at least twice each week?

I insist that they be bought on a quality graded basis?"

Egge values show but little change from last week's quotations, the effect of warm weather not discriminated against in the larger markets and at some discount. It is important that eggs be gathered often and protected frequently.

The movement of live poultry from the farmers is increasing although receipts are still short of current requirements and prices are well sustained.

Many communities are now preparing for the yearly "Poultry and Egg Week" which has now become an annual event in most states. It should be remembered that receipts are necessary for egg production and that the summer months adds to the keeping qualities and results in better prices.

Receipts of cream show some increase during the week, due to better weather conditions, but prices are lower values on butter in the principal markets of the country. Conditions seem to indicate somewhat lower prices as production increases.

The Southern Fluid Dairy last Thursday rejected all bids for the construction of the Paris & Flat Rock pike, a distance of 11 miles; the lowest bid for pentestone asphalt being $240,000. The county road department will build the road.

The forty-eighth Henderson district convention of Sunday schools of the week, indorsed 'unification of the North and South branches of the Methodist Church.

PAUL JONES WINS DERBY

Paul Jones, owned by Bal Parr, of Baltimore, won the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs last Saturday. Paul Jones was the fine gelding ever to win this classic race, and was considered all outsider. From the start of the race he led the field and beat his nearest contender, On Watch, by a head. The race carried a purse of $50,000 to the winner.

The Carlisle High School base ball team scored another victory Monday when they defeated the Cynthiana High at Cynthiana by the score of 13 to 1. About three weeks ago C. H. S. defeated Cynthiana at Carlisle and the Cynthiana boys were unable to turn the trick Monday.

The features of the game was the all fancy hitting of the local boys. The following is a detailed account of the game by innings:

First Inning

Carlisle—Curry fanned; Tilton flied to center; Jackson singled and took second on a passed ball; Jackson was out at first by L. Cox. No runs.

Cynthiana—Cox walked; Moses knocked his composure since the trial began. It was feared that if the jury failed to find the guilty verdict a lynching would take place, and the guards were there as a precaution. Large crowds attended the trial, and a rope was stretched at the edge of the court house lawn and kept away all persons who were not serving on the jury.

The murder of Glenn was one of the most brutal in the annals of crime in Kentucky. The last seen of Glenn living was by Mrs. Glenn at the Nicholas county election last year. Failing to return home within a reasonable time, Mrs. Glenn notified her father, he resulting in the finding of his torso and a part of his clothing, near the Marksberry home and on the farm. Marksberry was arrested shortly and was convicted on purely circumstantial evidence. The history of the case is familiar to newspaper readers, and a recital of the crime is not necessary.

Immediately after the trial Marksberry's attorneys made a motion for a new trial.

PRODUCE REVIEW

(Prepared by Swift & Co.)

With the approach of warm weather, the United States Department of Agriculture is urging farmers to produce all rifle eggs for consumption during the summer and that eggs of this character are worth from three money and with a number of other instructions for increased production and better quality. From 175 to 200 hens to a flock, dry place, away from flies?

Is it best to market at least twice each week?

I insist that they be bought on a quality graded basis?"

Egge values show but little change from last week's quotations, the effect of warm weather not discriminated against in the larger markets and at some discount. It is important that eggs be gathered often and protected frequently.

The movement of live poultry from the farmers is increasing although receipts are still short of current requirements and prices are well sustained.

Many communities are now preparing for the yearly "Poultry and Egg Week" which has now become an annual event in most states. It should be remembered that receipts are necessary for egg production and that the summer months adds to the keeping qualities and results in better prices.

Receipts of cream show some increase during the week, due to better weather conditions, but prices are lower values on butter in the principal markets of the country. Conditions seem to indicate somewhat lower prices as production increases.

The Southern Fluid Dairy last Thursday rejected all bids for the construction of the Paris & Flat Rock pike, a distance of 11 miles; the lowest bid for pentestone asphalt being $240,000. The county road department will build the road.

The forty-eighth Henderson district convention of Sunday schools of the week, indorsed 'unification of the North and South branches of the Methodist Church.

LIFE SETENCE FOR MARKSBERRY

Former Pastor Found Guilty Murder At Brooksville By Jury After One Hour's Deliberation

The closing episode in one of the most sensational murder trials in the history of Kentucky was ended at Brooksville last Friday when Thomas Marksberry, former pastor and prominent farmer was found guilty of the murder of Jesse Glenn, his life-long friend, by a jury in the Bracken Circuit Court. His punishment was fixed at life in the penitentiary. The case was called for trial at Brooksville on Wednesday, May 5, but it required several days to select a jury. A venire of over 200 men from surrounding counties was selected for jury service. When the sentence was read Marksberry broke down and wept for an hour. This was the first time he had let his composure since the trial began. On several occasions he stated that he would rather go to the chair knowing that he was innocent than to spend the remainder of his life behind prison walls away from his wife and children. Since his affect Marksberry had protested his innocence and however, still maintained that he was innocent.

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE BEGINS

Nicholas County Asked To Give $1,500 To The Cause. Drive Lasts Only Short Time

To the People of Nicholas County: Dear Friends:

This week marks the beginning of the Salvation Army drive. "Tis the first time in the history of this wonderful God-sent organization that they have asked the American people for individual help. But if this great organization is to succeed and, grow it must have help. There is so much work for them to do that they cannot obtain money to do this work by the old time handsome method. So they are asking we of Nicholas county to give them in this drive the small sum of $1,500 to help them "Carry On."

Will you not do your bit? If you do not think they are worthy ask any one that was "over there." He will tell you how, without any financial backing this army worked, suffered, and some even died that others might live.

Read here what Vice President Marshall has to say of their work.

My visit to Arizona at this time, so full of good news, is not one of pleasure. It raises from the sad and monotonous experience that we have had in our family—not without hope and not without compensations. Some 20 months ago, 1,000 years ago, "Buffer little Thomas" went to some Mc, and finished them not, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

I said to myself while here I would say nothing on any public question, but I find myself unable to keep silent so well if by any word of mine I could contribute to the success of the faithful to the little ones still on earth.

I have said for years in the seats of the mighty, and I have mentioned the fact in the senate and in every Saturday Evening Post, with a clear and decided judgment, to survey the world and tried to do so on the eve of the drive to present the matter to Disciples congregations.

Central Christian Church here pledged $15,000 of the $15,000 asked before the start of the drive.

Dr. Carpenter on Saturday that reports coming in from other sections of the state showed that the general drive was progressing satisfactorily. Lexington has raised $60,000; Richmond, Kansas, $50,000; Kansas City Missouri, $30,000; State of Kansas $100,000. Virginia churches generally report great starts on this week.
