Sunday school was organized Sunday. A good crowd was present and took an interesting part in beginning our school. We urge everyone to be present every Sunday and help make the work here a success.

We are sorry so many were disappointed on account of Mrs. Brownlee not being well to be ready to hear him Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights and we hope longer.

Last week Mr. C. B. Whaley advertised in The Mercury classified column a pet yearling steer that had been lost for five or six weeks. The ad appeared Thursday. On Friday, he told us he had the ad out. He had found the steer. Yet there are doodle-wits who say it doesn't pay to advertise.

Look on the back page!

GOING UP!

This week we received the following notice from the house which supplies the paper on which the Mercury is printed:

"It has become impossible to longer maintain our present rates for ready print paper. News print paper has advanced to unheard of prices, and labor could have continued to advance until it is necessary to revise our rates. The enclosed card shows our prices, effective June 1."

Again we pay a great deal more for paper. It will be hard sledding. In hard many small papers are entirely passed out of existence, and unless the situation improves, many more will fall by the wayside. But we, in weather the storm by renewing your subscription promptly. The margin of profit is too small to write several hundred dollars worth of credit. Pay their subscription has expired. Watch the date on the margin of your paper. The first number is the month number, the last the year number. For instance, June being the sixth month, 6-29 following your name means that your subscription expired June 1 1929.

COL. DAN MORGAN SMITH TO BE HERE SATURDAY NIGHT

Col. Dan Morgan Smith, commander of the famous "Blackhawk" division of the first battalion of the 358th Infantry, 90th Division, will speak at the Methodist church in this city next Saturday afternoon, May 29, at 8 o'clock under the auspices of the Anti-Saloon League of America. Admission free.

Before entering the military service, Colonel Smith was a lecturer of national reputation, having been the third highest paid chautauqua lecturer in the United States. At the outbreak of the war he enlisted in the Regular Army as a private soldier, but was soon promoted to the rank of Second Lieutenant at an Officer's Training School. He was several months overseas and in 1918 was made major in command of the first battalion of the 358th. Going into action with 1,220 men, the battalion was relieved by one-hundred men in three days. Col. Smith was twice wounded.

His lecture is intensely interesting and it is hoped that a large audience will be present to hear him.

JURY MONEY

Although I received an interest bearing warrant from the State for the jury service, I have arranged to pay the jurors, who will receive their checks by calling at the office of the undersigned.

THE BRYSON FARM AGENCY

Dr. Bryson

Well we had the Lexington "motorcade" with us on Tuesday and they sure did a fine bunch of fellows, too. The spirit in which they came out on these trips is deserving of admiration. Their acquaintance, better feeling between the citizens of the State and those of Lexington, of course, their particular function is to "boost Lexington" but not a kick and a knock, it's a fine proposition. Lexington is a great and growing City, one of the best in Kentucky, and Nicholas county people, caught of sight in the grain in the splendid, energetic, pulsing city so near to us. At the same time, would it not be well if Carlisle and every other town in Kentucky, would adopt the same spirit of energy, push, GO AFTER BUSINESS, that these Lexington fellows are showing before their town? THE BRYSON FARM AGENCY says and believes that this is decidedly a good proposition. CARLISLE and NICHOLAS COUNTY FIRST and go as far as you can, and after that loose good loose like and region that are near to us. Everybody in Nicholas county ought, first, patronize their neighborhood stores, as a matter of reciprocity then, then come to Carlisle; if Carlisle or some neighboring town don't "fill your order" then go to Lexington instead of sending to Sears, Roebuck or some other mail order house from whom you never, if you live a thousand years, will get a single penny. BOOST, BOOST, BOOST for Nicholas county, Carlisle and her YOUR NEIGHBOR.

But, let's talk farms: We have good tenable farms of all sizes and to suit pockets of our friends and we are right now to do it again and do it right. If we know you, you know us, and we shouldn't we immediately should you whom we have not met. We want to know we should and here are a number of reasons:

To serve of land ALL IN BIG FAT, GRASS, and not a foot of land in each farm, possession at once if you want it, a little off the top, if you want it, we wants to sell, therefore $40.00 per acre will buy it. Now we are actually and really offering you GOOD MONEY MONEY on this good small farm; it's not a question of price, but dollars per acre. Better hurry.

Here's a farm of 65 acres and not a full or a hollow on it, but does have one of the best houses in Nicholas county, in Fayette county just beyond the city limits, and therefore (how's that for location?) with a good barn, fences in good heart and apparently worth $500.00 per acre and we think we can get by with about $22,000.00, give you terms and you will be a good tenant already on the place. Now, boys, this is certainly "down the long green grower;" we saw a farm of land and not a foot of land and a half from this without a stick of improvements and for $600.00 per acre. This is THE ONE BIG CHANCE for somebody and we want some of our good Nicholas county friends to get it. Go with us to see it and if you don't agree with us as to the value, we'll buy it. SOMEBODY ought to buy this nice place at once.

And here's another, 78 acres, 5 mile Carlisle, pike, 6-room house, 2 barns, close to Hinkston where the best lang in the world is, and this farm can be had right now with a good tenant for $175.00 per acre.

A MERCILESS JUDGE

One Who Shows No Favor

A merciless judge is Father Time. Before him the weak and the wasting go to the wall. Only the truth can stand. The years the following statement from a Carlisle resident has withstood this element of all tests.

John W. Myers, blacksmith, Turner Ave., says: "My kidneys were weak and irregular in action and the secretions contained sediment. My back ached and I had pains through my kidneys. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and I have had no more kidney trouble.

Over four years later, Mr. Myers said: "I don't have the trouble with my kidneys I used to, but at times I find it necessary to resort to Doan's Kidney Pills. I find a box or so, which I get at Tureman & Son's Drug Store always give me the same good results."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Myers had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

The Treasury Department sent The Democrat an advertisement about Liberty Bonds to be run free and asked that, if possible, we "box it." We boxed it and scored a knock-out in the first round.

BEAUTY IS REFLECTED IN HEALTH

"GOOD-LOOKING" MEANS THE OPPOSITE OF SICK-LOOKING

It's A Matter Of Red Blood Cells

Pepto-Mangan Makes Rich, Big Blood, —Builds Up People Who Lack Vitality

If your body is sound and you blood is rich and red, your acts and thoughts will be quick and strong.

Let your blood get weak, and your food won't nourish you nor your sleep refresh you.

Too much hard work, an illness, or mental strain can impoverish your blood, and Pepto-Mangan is needed to help bring it back to healthy, normal condition.

Knowing this, doctors for years have recommended Gude's Pepto-Mangan because of its blood-building action, tonic properties.

Pepto-Mangan is a simple and harmless tonic, yet such a prom-r builder of red blood, that its action has spread all over the country. Today every druggist sells it as a thousands of men and women use it as a restorative whenever they or their children seem to feel below par.

Pepto-Mangan agrees with the most delicate stomach, and is swallowed in either liquid or tablet form.

Be sure the name "Gude's" is on the package when you buy Pepto-Mangan. Ask the druggist for "Gude's." "Gude's" is not on the package, it is not Pepto-Mangan.—Adv.

FIELDS MAY BE CHAIRMAN

Should Congressman William J. Fields, of this district, be reelected this year, he would be in line for the Chairmanship of the House Committee on Military Affairs of the next Congress, in case the Democrats are in control of that body.

H. H. Dent, of Alabama, who was chairman of the House Military Affairs Committee in the Congress now has been ranking Democratic member of the committee in the present Congress, has been defeated for renomination. Mr. Fields is the next Democrat on the committee and under the system of seniority would become the first Democrat on the committee as chairman in the event the Democrats control the next House.

HARTMANN Wardrobe TRUNK

You are at home the instant your HARTMANN arrives. Whether your sojourn is an hour or weeks, the HARTMANN opens to you your complete wardrobe—instantly accessible—delightfully immaculate. We can say with the confidence of experience that you will find in no other trunk the exclusive conveniences, compact arrangement and sturdy structure which we can show you in HARTMANN Wardrobe Trunks.

Thirty-eight styles to select from. Prices $46.50 to $238.50

Among the many HARTMANN features are:

Top Master Lock
A lock of special HARTMANN design, found only in HARTMANN trunks. Very few keys made in packing your trunk. Safety combination is a trunk in well protected.

Hartmann Cushion Top
Has a two-fold purpose—First, to rest on top of hangers, holding them firmly in position, and second, to prevent wrinkling of the garments.

Bottom Keyless Lock
At the right of the hangers is a ringed rod which extends to the bottom. Easily pull upon it releases the lower lock. No keys.

Steel Collar Band
More than a steel collar extends around three sides and supports the entire top. Important feature as the weight of all hangers and garments is supported by this collar.

Drawer Locking Bar
Prevents jarring of small articles from drawers of your trunk when it is open.

Electric Iron Device
HARTMANN Wardrobes have an especially fitted compartment to carry your electric iron. The device is so constructed that you can leave your electric iron securely in place.

Drawer Compartments
The two upper drawers are for your small articles and lighter wearing apparel. They will hold a good many articles folded to the shape of the drawer. The center drawer is divided into compartments. The one to the right is for waistline and may be used for general purposes or for shirtwaists. The one to the left is for two-piece dresses and can be used separately or can be converted into one large compartment for women's hats.

Shoe Box
The shoe box will accommodate four pairs of high shoes of all sorts of golf or other shoes.

Send for Catalog for detailed description of Hartmann Wardrobe Trunks. We Prepay Express Charges on all out-of-town orders. Mail orders promptly filled.

"That Telephone is in Trouble—"

The "inside plant" of the telephone exchange is made up of delicate and intricate apparatus—and no such apparatus is entirely "trouble-less."

The signal that operates the switchboard when you call might "turn out" at any time—then you would "Central." The fuse in your line on the "main frame" might blow out—due to your telephone "Get busy."

Switchboard cords are small 3-cable cables of many tiny wires; several of the little wires frequently snap from constant handling, then your connection "runs dead."

The apparatus is sensitive to extremes of heat or cold, dust or moisture. It is constantly watched and tested, but no precaution can eliminate all the trouble—there are just a few samples of the things that happen.

Considering all the electrical apparatus and connections involved in a telephone call, it is not surprising that things occasionally go wrong!

CARLISLE MERCURY.

VOL. LIII. CARLISLE, NICHOLAS COUNTY, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, MAY 27, 1926. NUMBER 21

WORK TWO MONTHS IN YEAR

Colony of Spiders May Be Thought to Have an Easy Time, But They Don't.

In Honolulu, N. J., in a large mirror-like incrustation of factory, there is a colony of 200 workmen who never receive a penny of wages, who are perfectly contented. They toil from early in the morning until late at night, and during the whole of the summer in a house fly or two is taken away from the shop. They are spiders, black, large, energetic spiders—but they comprise probably the most indispensable part of the entire working force. It is their duty to keep the flies down to the number that is used for cream bait during the two months of the year when they work. They produce thousands of pounds of the almost invisible but indestructible silk.

The spider colony works only during August and September, and neither before nor after. The second morning in the month, but it is positively a serious matter. For the purpose of urging the little workmen to their task a fine is imposed for every hour's absence from their unusual duties, and employers to work whenever they show signs of wishing to rest.

Counting the spiders really means inventing them. The girl plants one on her hand and puts or taps it until it has thrown out a thread, when she puts the end of its thread behind. Before the spider can reach the ground she has quickly attached the thread to a wire which is fastened to the ceiling over her hands. As the spider struggles to reach the ground she continues to wind, and in that way sometimes gets several hundred feet of thread from a single spider.

GOT REAL "DIGGER" WELCOME

General Braithwaite's Popularity in Australia Thoroughly Attested by a Recent Happening.

General Braithwaite occupies a unique place in the heart of the Australian soldier who fought in the great war, and there are also a hundred stories to tell of the good-natured "digger" and his affection for his commander-in-chief. On the front being a democratic army, officers and men were on the most friendly terms, when he reached Melbourne with the aboard but of the "digger's" and then received the general shouldering through heavy rain to an improvised platform. Perhaps the greatest acknowledgment of the general's thanks came from a digger in the Antrim. The general was one of the assembled soldiers in Victoria that when he arrived in western Australia the first thing he received was a cablegram from the men of the battalion. Twenty-eight battalion, "It showed a great, big digger heart and not to be forgiven," said General Birdwood, "and I shall never forget it." Before he sailed from Australia the same old man-thumbed digger remarked: "The other half is here in Melbourne."

Wonderful Swinging Monument.

Gently swaying to and fro, a huge granite monolith forming a unique and real monument has been discovered in the mountains of eastern Australia, north of Yaton City, Cuba. It is believed to be the only "swinging stone" in the world.

The rock is more than 100 feet high and in the course of many years has become free from all connection with earth formation except at the base, which is about 12 feet wide. To counter the granite column is about 50 feet in thickness and tapers off at the summit practically the same as at the base.

The entire shaft moves probably from two to three feet at the apex, and the swing is constant under the pressure of the wind. The base of the shaft rests in a small hollow about three feet in depth, and the underlying granite formation has been entirely disconnected.

Strong Wind at High Altitude.

Altitude flights by army aviators have shown the existence at a height of 25,000 feet or more above the earth, of a strong west wind, whose velocity is estimated at perhaps 175 miles per hour. These flights also have proved that there is not a continuous reduction in temperature as altitude increases. The flights lately tested a phenomenal, which is explained by the considerable arbitrary and economical value of the military purposes. one will be to increase greatly the speed of airplanes, as it is evident that a considerable arbitrary and economical value of the military purposes. one will be to increase greatly the speed of airplanes, as it is evident that a supercharger will enable bombing airplanes or engines carrying passengers to climb over the highest mountains in the world, and thereby enjoy low powered and low priced engines.

Surprised a Stranger.

My girl chum always rode out on the train at night with the baggage to see that it was safely put on board, as I was walking to the train one night I thought I saw him sitting on a seat. I took the bunch of flowers I had for him and walked along there to surprise him, said: "What are you riding on this car for? I can't imagine why you have such embarrassing moment occurred when I found myself looking down into the surprised face of an entirely strange man.—Herman Bingham.

Hours of Labor.

"You seem tired."

"A bit overtaxed," admitted the student of economics. "I have been reading 8 h in the morning and working 8 h in the afternoon and studying 8 h at night on a series of speeches to prove that an hour's work a day is enough for any man."—Boys' Thought.

Not what you happened to myself today, but what has happened to others through me—that should be my thought.

TOUCHING TRIBUTE TO SALVATION ARMY

Kentucky Marine, Now Sleeping at Chateau Thierry, Sent Beautiful Message Home to Loved Ones.

Our dark night, shortly after the American marines had received their first baptism of blood at Chateau Thierry, a Kentucky boy, Gilbert Thierry, of Fernfield, sat crouched in a dug-out writing a letter home. In the letter he told one of his dearest friends and former teachers, Fred George Colvin, now State Superintendent of Public Instruction of Kentucky, the terrible ordeal through which he had passed unscathed.

In the paragraph of that letter, now a precious and treasured memorial, the young marine spoke told of the great work that had been done during those trying hours by the various salvage agencies. "But greatest of them all," he wrote, "and greatest and best of them all, God bless them forever, is the Salvation Army."

The body of Gilbert Young, the Kentucky boy, lies today at the Chateau Thierry beneath the lilies of France, and his message, penned on the battlefield, goes nurturing on in tone with the great work the Salvation Army is doing to accomplish now that swords have been beaten into plowshares and spears into pruning hooks.

The sacrifice of Gilbert Young and the tribute he paid the Salvation Army lassies who gave their lives for their country's cause in the great crusade, exerts a heart in the great Blue Cross army at the same time and inspires the Salvation Army when money is needed for the Annual Home Service Appeal campaign May 10 to 20. The Salvation Army lassie in France stands ready to help wherever there is a need.

URGE KENTUCKIANS ON IN BIG DRIVE

State Conference Held to Arouse Interest in Salvation Army Home Service Appeal, May 10 to 20.

In preparation for the final drive in the Salvation Army's Second Home Service Appeal, May 10 to 20, in Kentucky and other states east of the Mississippi river, a conference of workers was held in Louisville on Wednesday.

Judge Henry R. Barker, of Louisville, the state chairman, presided and the toastmaster was Ben S. Winkler, of Louisville. Judge Barker and former national president of the Young Men's Hebrew Association, Governor Edwin P. Morrow, honorary state chairman, could not be present but sent a telegram giving his hearty endorsement and urging Kentuckians to leave no stone unturned to put Kentucky in the forefront of states in contributions. Governor James S. Cox of Ohio was also received from attending and sent a telegram of endorsement.

Prominent workers from all parts of the state pledged themselves to do their best. Fred George Colvin, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and Miss Mazie Worthington Smith of Louisville, Hon. W. P. Lindsay, Marvin H. Kash, Alvin T. Hert, Dr. E. L. Powell, Dr. E. Y. Mullins and Dr. Charles W. Welch.

FRIENDLY HOME FOR WOMEN IS HELPED

Salvation Army Does Fine Work in Louisville Institution For Women and Girls.

The Susan Speed Davis Friendly Home for Women in Louisville is conducted and operated by the Salvation Army and is helped by the money raised in the Home Service Appeal, May 10 to 20, by the Salvation Army, May 10 to 20.

Four times as many women in Louisville have been cared for in the home the past year and during the year to date. The home has been carried on in the face of trying difficulties. It has been a haven for many needed and relieved the Home, and in spite of this many women and girls have been cared for and young women were cared for there during the past month. Only 10 per cent of those cared for are over 18 years of age and many are under 14.

The Susan Speed Davis Home gives a welcome to all unfortunate girls and women, no matter from what part of Kentucky they come.

Character in Jewish Folklore.

"Lilith" is a female demon of Jewish folklore. The name means "night monster." In Rabbinical literature Lilith became the wife of Adam, but fled away from him and becomes a demon.

As Clean Cut as a Thoroughbred

The chances are that the design of the "2" Engine results in as clean cut, neat looking appearance, a form engine, graceful lines—as you have ever developed—may also have Tremendous power and fuel-wrestler where weight is needed. Every ounce is put to work where weight is hardest, and every ounce is used where extra weight counts. Ask the Fairbanks-Morse engineer about the Z. He knows the story of power-saving, economy, dependability, and economy. Unit of power—and economy. Delivers a steady flow of power—and economy. Delivers a steady flow of power—and economy.
