CHARLES LEWIS WATSON

Several weeks ago when news reached this community that Charles Watson was critically ill in a Chicago hospital, and that an operation would be necessary in order to try to prolong his life, the hearts of all who knew him were deeply grieved at hearing of his condition, for he was very picture of health when last he visited his sister, Mrs. W. J. Kennedy, of this city, during the past summer. Little did his most intimate friends dream of the serious condition of his health.

When the sad news of his death became known, a pall of sorrow fell over the entire community, for Mr. Watson was a man of unusual traits of character. His tender, loving affection for his sisters, his bright and cheerful disposition had won for him a host of friends here and in his home city, Chicago. He had never united with any church but always had a preference for the Baptist church, which church he attended in Chicago. He had been a good man all of his life and had tried to live by the Golden Rule. During his last illness when all had been done that man knew how to do, his pastor talked to him concerning his future and his reply was: "It is sweet to live, but I am not afraid to die; and if the Lord calls me I am prepared and want to go." Such a testimony should afford much comfort to bereaved loved ones.

Mr. Watson was born near Carlisle, Ky., 59 years ago, on the old Watson home place, situated on the Maysville pike. Early in life his mother died, leaving him in the care of his two sisters, Alice (Mrs. W. J. Kennedy) and Florence, (Mrs. Charles Lear,) who are left of a large family to mourn his death. The funeral services will be held by those who had known him best his loved ones, his nephews, his physician, his nurse and others, portrayed to the world a man of unusual character.

Funeral services were conducted from the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. W. J. Kennedy, Tuesday morning, Oct. 31st, at 10:30 o'clock, by the pastor, Rev. B. V. Bolton, assisted by Dr. M. T. Chandler, pastor of the Methodist Church. The many floral tributes and the sweet, appropriate music helped much to soothe the broken-hearted loved ones. After a brief service at the grave the body was laid to rest in the beautiful Carlisle cemetery.

The memory of this man shall ever be an inspiration to those who had come in contact with him. May the Comforter of all hearts ever comfort those who are left behind. And may their trusts be stayed in Him who on the great Resurrection morn will call together those who have trusted in Him, who with Jesus shall reign forever more.

WATSON—Chas. L. Watson, aged 59 years, died on Saturday, Oct. 16th, at Women's Hospital, Chicago. Mr. Donnard was born in Nicholas county being the son of Samuel and Lucy Watson, but had made his home in Chicago for the past thirty years. He married Miss Watson, who was a brother of Mrs. W. J. Kennedy, of this city, Mrs. C. B. Lear, of the county, and the late T. R. Watson also of this city, was a man of sterling character, possessing many fine traits of character which endeared him to those with whom he came in contact. Honorable in all of his dealings with his fellowmen and very tender with his loved ones, solicitous of the comfort of those around him, right loyal to his friends, he was a friendship to be treasured.

The sincere sympathy of his many friends is to be bestow during his illness here testimony to the esteem in which he was held by them.

During the few weeks illness his nephew, H. L. James, of Berea, Ky., was almost constantly at his bedside.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, Oct. 31th, from the residence of W. J. Kennedy conducted by the Rev. B. V. Bolton of the Baptist church assisted by Rev. Chandler, pastor of the Methodist church, after which he was laid to rest in the Carlisle cemetery.—Contributed.

HERB SAP MADE HIM FRISKY AS HE WAS YEARS AGO

Proved It by the Way He Gripped Me on Shaking Hands

By H. M. Hoskins

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 31.—Harrison, 1127 Goss avenue, old time resident of Louisville, told me in no more of my business how old he is. He's been taking Herb Sap, the great liver and stomach medicine, and I wanted to get some information about it.

"I'm very sorry," Harrison said, as he came to the door. "I've been taking Herb Sap for a month and I don't feel up to par yet. Just look at me!"

I did so, and must confess that my that he didn't look like the same person as when he came to the city and to see me a month before.

"As soon as I commenced," when I called to see him, "I couldn't eat enough to keep me alive. I couldn't eat a blessed thing, as I had no appetite. My stomach had gone completely back on me. I was full of pains in not only my back and limbs, but in every part of my body; I was all in like. I was weak as a rat and as nervous that my wife in every way from cold sweats. Last month I was down to 120 pounds, and hardly able to run down to work a job. I began to note a change though in 48 hours after taking Herb Sap and now after having finished the second bottle—well I just look at me. I feel rejuvenated and rat—well, I'm hungry all the time. I'm right on the job nearly every day, a new man physically, with new ambition, new hope and new power of sustained effort. Herb Sap is surely a wonderful tonic. It proved a blessing to me."

Herb Sap is now obtainable here at The Pioneer Drug Store or any reliable dealer in this vicinity. Tar Salve druggist, no matter where located, can get it for you.

PUT FIGHTING QUALITIES IN YOUR BLOOD

If You Are Pale and Weak, Without Ambition, You Need a Tonic

TRY TAKING PEPTO-MANGAN

Sick, Sad Blood Fights Off Disease and Keeps You Well and Enables You to Work With Pleasure

Serious sickness often comes when you least suspect it. You may feel a little over-tired. You haven't been exposed to contagion, yet all of a sudden you have a pain in your back and in for a case of sickness.

Your blood did not have fighting qualities. It was weak and thin. Your vitality and powers of resistance were low.

When you overdo you use up energy. Your blood is driven to do more than it can. It becomes clogged with poisons. The waste tissues do not clear. Disease germs get in your blood and you are sick.

Don't let yourself get run down. Take that good tonic, Pepto-Mangan. It makes rich, red blood that will resist and rout out disease germs.

Pepto-Mangan is widely and heartily endorsed by physicians. It is effective and safe to use. Comes in either liquid or tablet form. Both have the same effect.

Sold at any drug store. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan, "Gude's." Ask for it by name and be sure the full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," is on the package—Adv.

Society's Species of Insects.

The most conservative estimate places the number of species of insects at 3,000,000, while the most liberal estimate makes the number 10,000,000.

Dr. H. H. Butler says, "I use RAT-SNAP around my hospitals and they always show whether it is working or not. It does the work." RAT-SNAP kills rats, mice and roaches. I recommend it over poisons because they have to eat until there is a breed of rats, mice or roaches. Comes in three cakes. Three sizes, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by

TOBACCO WILL REMAIN LOW BELIEF OF MANUFACTURERS

Recent declines in leaf tobacco in Kentucky and eastern Burley Carolina prompt the belief among tobacco men that the peak of high prices for leaf has been passed, says the Wall Street Journal. They do not expect to see prices again climb to the unprecedented levels reached under the stimulus of war conditions. From the standpoint of manufacturers this is the most bullish development in five years.

There is no likelihood that decline in leaf will make it necessary for manufacturing companies to take a loss through depreciating inventories. Big manufacturers have broken away from the practice of carrying several years' supply of leaf. The leaf buying season has been short, stocks on hand are low, and the cost of leaf is only a small part of the cost of finished product. Consumers will not be asked to pay more for cigarettes, chewing and smoking tobacco because of lower leaf prices.
