"NO BIGGER THAN A POSTAGE STAMP"

"Some of which are no bigger than a postage stamp," quoth Eddie Morrow from the raging stomp last Monday, referring to those smaller countries already members of the League of Nations. You might be sure of the groundlings, Eddie. You got your "hand" from the gallery, but do you realize just what you are preaching? It is nothing less than the theory Germany tries on us under the theory Germany tries on us under the sweeping world; the theory that might is right so that you are advocating, whether you mean it or not. Would you, Eddie, stand across the street and see a small boy abused by a husky bully and not help him? None of our quartet, you say? We don't believe it. You'd pitch in and help knock the eternal daylights out of the big fellow, wouldn't you? You think that well of you. Then how much better to have all the men agree that abusing of small boys by husky bruises must cease. Chances are such things would happen at all, if the big fellow knew what was coming to him if he started anything. We are living in the world, Eddie, as well as these United States. Look across the Atlantic and the survival of the fittest in order to get hurtake from the unthinking. Then look at the effort put at the Hardesburg line, and that it might forever prevent the horrors done today in France. Read what Mr. Wilson has said. It will do you good.

Those very weak nations are situated through the very tract of country —between Germany and Persia in which Germany had meant to conquer and dominate, and if the leaders of the world do not maintain their concert to sustain the independence and freedom of those peoples, Germany will yet have her will upon them, and we shall witness the very interesting spectacle of having spent millions upon millions of American treasure and, what is much more precious, hundreds of thousands of American lives, to do a futile thing, to do a thing which we will then aware to be undone at the leisure of those who are masters of intrigue, at the leisure of those who are masters in combining among influences to overcome right influences, of those who are masters of the very things that we hate and mean always to fight.—From PRESIDENT WILSON'S address at Indianapolis, Ind., September 4, 1919.

REVIVAL AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Dr. O. O. Green, of Richmond, Ky., will assist local pastor, Rev. J. T. Ison, of the Carlisle Baptist church, in a series of evangelistic services beginning next Sunday, Oct. 18th, at 7:30 o'clock.

It is fervently desired that a large audience be present to greet Dr. Green and that the entire town and all of the members of the church and all friends take special note this request and act accordingly.

Dr. Green comes highly recommended as a man of ability in the service of the Master. He is at present in a meeting with Dr. R. A. Jones, a former pastor of the Carlisle Baptist church.

A hearty invitation is extended to all to attend these special services for the winning of souls for Christ; and the upbuilding of those who are already His own. Come praying.

MARRIAGES

WOODWARD-BIGDON—Miss Ines Woodward, and Mr. George Bigdon, both of Fleming county, were married in the office of Judge Harry Kenny at the court house in this city on Thursday afternoon, Judge Kennedy officiating.

RITCHIE-RILEY—Miss Gertrude Ritchie and Mr. Russell Riley, prominent young people of the Morning Glory neighborhood, this county, were married at Paris last Saturday at the residence of the officiating minister, Rev. W. E. Ellis.

BERRY-BLACK—A marriage that will be of interest to many friends in Carlisle and Frankfort was solemnized in Lexington last Thursday morning at 11 o'clock at Christ Church Cathedral, when Miss Lucy Berry became the bride of Mr. Charles W. Black, Dean Robert K. Massie officiating. The bride was given away by her self-made brother, Mr. Ben Berry, of Frankfort, and was attended by Miss Mary Lee Bruce King as maid of honor and Miss Elizabeth Simpson, of Carlisle, as bridesmaid. Mr. Bedford Macklin, of Frankfort, was groomsman. Only members of the two families were present at the wedding. Mrs. Black is the youngest daughter of Mrs. J. C. B. Gillespie, of this county and is a native of this city, where she has many friends and where she has made her home in Lexington where she was a lovely attendant at the Rose-Ship store. She is one of our most beautiful and popular young ladies and has many friends here where she often visits since moving from here. Mr. Black is one of the well known Black family of Frankfort. He is a successful civil engineer, being a graduate of the University of Kentucky. He spent several months in Carlise when the State roads were being constructed here by the state engineer, and made many friends during his stay. Following Mr. Black's residence in Carlisle that the romance began. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left for a two weeks' trip in the east, after which they will return to West Virginia to make their home for the present.

DEATHS

SPARKS—Mrs. Elizabeth Sparks, aged 83 years, died at her home in Carlisle, this county, last Friday morning of senility. Her husband, John Sparks, preceded her to the grave some thirty years ago. In the passing of this venerable woman, the community loses one of its oldest and most highly esteemed citizens. The funeral services were held at the Ballard church on Saturday morning, conducted by Rev. S. L. Moore, of Moorefield, after which interment took place in the Dexterville grave yard. Surviving Mrs. Sparks are six children, three daughters, Mrs. Minnie B. King, Mrs. Sallie Burnett and Mrs. Alice Henderson, and three sons, Lon Sparks, O. W. Sparks and Homer Sparks, all of this county.
