EXTRACT OF PURE HERBS

"I was almost despondent and just would be lost, if you had suffered as I had with stomach trouble for the past five years and had taken all kinds of medicine and tried to find relief but finally I had to give up hope," said Mrs. Flora Headrix, 223 East Madison street, Louisville.

"And I was forced to stay in bed, for over five weeks straight, with pain that were almost unbearable. I took all kinds of medicine and treatments but nothing helped me one bit. I was so weak and nervous that I was weak and nervous that I could scarcely walk up my mind that something had to be done, as life became a burden to me. When I saw Herb sap advertised, I sent for a sample, drank the first night and a new nightmare of me, because I was not conscious of me for more than half the time. I felt so much better that I got up and got my breakfast and felt so much better that I got up and got my breakfast and felt finally I had to give up hope," said Mrs. Flora Headrix, 223 East Madison street, Louisville.

FERT AND PERTINENT

(Cynthiana Democrat.)

The Chicago White Sox seem to be slightly mixed.

Honors are even between the presidential candidates in one respect at least—each has been in a railroad wreck. Fortunately neither was hurt.

One of Gov. Morrow's promises' promises in the campaign last fall was to reduce taxes. All whose taxes are lower this year than they were last year should endorse the Republican administration with their vows.

The other day a Kansas woman handed a man, who had been ordering her some courtesy, a nickel, re marking: "Thank you very much; take this and buy yourself a good cigar." But the women won't get the benefit of this joke until they learn to smoke.

One marked difference between big city merchants and small town merchants is this: When business is dull the big city merchants advertise more vigorously than ever in order to increase trade, when business is dull on a small town the merchant cuts down his advertisements. Perhaps that's one reason so many small towns stay small towns.

1929 WHEAT CROP ONLY HALF NORMAL YIELD

According to Government reports, the 1929 wheat crop in Kentucky was only about half as large as either the 1928 or 1927 crop, but this fact should not discourage farmers in the growing of wheat. If we apply ourselves to proper agricultural methods, learn to grow more wheat per acre, says F. G. Holden, plant pathologist, Agricultural Extension department, International Harvester Company.

No doubt, some people think this country should go out of the wheat growing business, but we might as well say that Kentucky should quit growing tobacco.

Kentucky always will and always should grow tobacco. Kentucky always will and always should grow wheat. It will be a mistake to think of cutting another crop because both play an important part in the agricultural prosperity of the state.

Undoubtedly the reason had much to do with the reduced yield of wheat this year. Possibly it was more to blame than the lack of it must be admitted that wheat growing has not always been profitable.

During the war the abnormal demand for wheat caused the farmer to and kept it up and it was sometimes the case that wheat was planted on poor land. The tendency to farm to best ground was plentiful in Kentucky and other states where the best wheat ground and give only moderate yields.

Now that the war is over and the demand for wheat is normal the growing of wheat and tobacco will soon change back to the old order of things. Wheat will be grown on the best land and tobacco on the poorer land. The future prosperity of the state, with an labor and profit will depend on proper use of the land.

Wheat is a crop for the land. Pumped through the body by the heart, it nourishes the muscles and tissues. It forms the brain—the center of the eye and face. That's why people look so pale and lifeless when blood is impoverished. The body is starved because it is being supplied with weak fuel. The blood has not enough red corpuscles. You would not only starve the body with no nourishment in it, but you would give it the fuel that supplies sustenance to your entire body to suffer. Have good blood and prove the quality and keep it at its best.

If you look pale and feel weak, if you have lost your enthusiasm and energy, if your blood is impoverished, poisons, your system is being fed with a poor grade of blood. That is the time to go around. If you are not at your best, get at the source of your trouble right away. Put an end to half living. Take that ideal tonic Peptic-Manga. Be sure to ask for "Uncle's Peptic-Manga." It comes in convenient tablet form and in liquid. One has the same medicinal value as the other. There is only one genuine Peptic-Manga, and the name "Uncle's" is on the package. Adv.

DOES YOUR BACK ACHE?

It's usually a sign of sick kidneys. Doctors say backache often comes when poisonous passages weaken or are frequent. Don't wait for more serious troubles. Begin using Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this Carlisle man's testimony.

J. E. L. Curtis, blacksmith, 260 E. Main street says: "My work calls for constant bending over, which affected my kidneys and caused a dull pain in my backache. My bladder was disordered and the kidney secretions were too frequent in passage. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, produced from Tuxwan & Son, and got quick relief."

PERMANENT BENEFIT

Over eight years later, Mr. Curtis added: "I still think Doan's Kidney Pills are the best kidney medicine since I gave my last statement recommending Doan's Kidney Pills. I consider the cure permanent."

WHITES MUST VOTE IN NEGRO HOMES

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 10.—Realizing that their hope for a majority in Louisville depends on the judicious polling of the negro vote, the Republican Election Commission of Louisville has made two distinct moves to insure a full negro vote and to keep the whites away from the polls.

The registration here in Louisville recently showed that the majority of white voters are Democratic, for it took twenty thousand registered negroes to give the Republicans a majority of two thousand in Louisville.

To make sure that the negro vote will be one hundred per cent voted, and that as many whites will be kept away from the polls as possible, the Republican machine has adopted the following plans:

1. Making the precinct boundaries so extensive that there is no chance for half the white voters residing within them to cast their ballots.

2. Placing the voting booths in the barbers and business houses of negroes.

There are nine negro voting booths in the Tenth Ward and these are the ones the Republican machine was inspired by the well-known dictator to have placed in the negro homes and stores to cast their votes.

The law provides that precincts shall be established as near the voters as possible, but one of the precincts established by a Republican judge is located in the middle of a 2,500 voter district. This is in effect a disfranchisement of half of the voters in the district as they will not cast their votes on election day.

After spending two days on the witness stand Judge John L. Tarvin, former state chairman, succeeded in getting practically what Republican leaders wanted in the election. No matter what transpires he does," he said, "I am sure Democrats will get a majority of votes cast, but the question is one of figures. If the plans of Democrats are able to defeat the Republican machine in the Tenth Ward, the majority will be forty thousand. I am confident that Democrats will carry every negro ward which was supposed to be in the record for Republicans. I assure you that they were not a party to the attempt to disfranchise the voters, and are asking for the people to hear for themselves."

Marshfield' Wastefulness.

Marquette Island, sought by Sir Douglas Mawson as a sanctuary for the Antarctic fauna, is rarely 400 square miles in area, lying 900 miles from Tasmania, in latitude 55 degrees south. Penguins of various species, sea elephants and seals enter here in vast numbers, but are being recklessly slaughtered for their oil. A flagstaff carried, lying on the island when it was discovered in 1810, has been exterminated by rats turned loose and allowed to run wild.

Put Romance Before Truth.

Inaccuracies in history and anecdotes with no foundation of fact may be blamed on some of the older historians. The men who first wrote of Colonial and Revolutionary times often tried to make their accounts romantic and picturesque by refining history to suit their themselves, because they did not see that the real facts were more romantic than their embellishments could be made them. Attachments to T[illegible] Homes—And Why We Object To Them

The rules of the telephone company prohibit the attachment of any device to the telephone or "cut in" on the line.

The general use of such attachments—as, for instance, special mouth-piece, hook-switch hooks, patent ear-pieces, receiver holders, special switches and other appliances—would so complicate the upkeep and operation of the telephones in the exchange that satisfactory service would be impossible.

In the interest of uniform and dependable service for all alike, therefore, we must adopt the policy of ourselves specifying and providing all equipment used on or connected with our lines. We cannot be responsible for the upkeep or operation of telephones or lines to which outside devices, not standard equipment, are attached.
