ROSE HILL

The Salwell Charge Sunday School Circuit Institute was held at Rose Hill church October 29. It was well attended by an enthusiastic crowd of Sunday school workers and teachers every church in the charge being well represented with the exception of Oakland Mills. The devotional exercises were led by George Ellridge. After the devotional exercise, the welcome address was delivered by the pastor, Rev. W. P. Davis. Rev. Davis is placed particular emphasis on the hospitality of the good people of Rose Hill.

After the welcome address, a talk on the Sunday school as a soul saving institution was delivered by Miss Clara Shaw. This was followed by an address on the "Crying Need," by Rev. E. H. Cranson, of the Maysville M. E. church. A s eg. "Ft Pays to Serve Jesus," was sung Mrs. W. P. Davis and Miss Mary Bishop.

The relationship of the S. S. to the Epworth League was discussed by Mrs. W. P. Davis in a plain and practical way.

Next came the beautiful lunch, which was prepared by the good women of Rose Hill and elsewhere. Everyone ate heartily and there was enough left to feed many more.

The devotional exercises in the afternoon were led by U. G. Mattox, superintendent of the Rose Hill Sunday school. Dependence of the church on the Sunday school was discussed by Mrs. W. E. Maxwell. Mrs. Maxwell is one of the most able ministers in the conference and the Carlisle congregation did better than had the conference sent them a "finished sermon." Mrs. Cranson then summed up the entire program by saying all over that it is a waste of time if we do not put it to practical use.

WHY?

Send your suits, overcoats and other wearing apparel out of your home town—Carlisle, in order to have them dry cleaned when equally as good work is being done at The Real Deal Shop on Main St., in the Hall building. I have just installed a Cartisan steam press which is the last word in pressers. Men's suits and overcoats dry cleaned and pressed for only $1.00 up. All work while including the dyeing of short waists, will be properly done and delivered at your home. Ladies dyeing and fine work will have the closest attention. Give us a trial, at the same time encourage a home enterprise.

To The Voters Of The City Of Carlisle

We the undersigned candidates for Mayor and Councilmen, subject to your action on Tuesday, Nov. 5th, take this manner of soliciting your suffrage for the ticket as a whole. If elected, do hereby pledge our best efforts in service to you and the city of Carlisle.

There do not appear at this time to be many vital issues involved. The question of lowering the present tax rate, which is the maximum and cannot in a direct way be increased. One-fourth of all revenues received by direct taxation must be set aside as a sinking fund to redeem the outstanding Water Works Bonds. The other three-fourths has not for a number of years been sufficient to meet current expenses, interest on indebtedness and upkeep of streets and alleys.

Lack of funds has been the sole reason for bad streets. No manner of economizing will meet all of this deficiency.

Be it known that the present administration was up against these facts last winter and spring and held numerous conferences toward devising ways and means for increasing revenues. Nearby towns and cities were appealed to for plans. The final result being, license to transact business was increased on Insurance Companies, Milk Stations and a few others, the balance of the plan abandoned for the time being and temporary relief was secured by a signed agreement by many tax payers to pay in July 1st, rather than at the time limit.

The present indebtedness of the city, exclusive of bond issue, is $12,560. It seems to us that after the revenues will more than take care of expenditures, it would be good and sane financing to reduce the indebtedness rather than the tax rate.

In view of the foregoing facts, we deem it a fallacy to even hold out as a possibility a reduced tax rate, as a means of gaining your suffrage.

We are for maintaining a clean, well regulated city, upholding and enforcing all existing ordinances and passage of others when needed. With these brief statements we ask your support.

ONWARD, TOBACCO GROWERS
(Courier Journal)

A bundle of sticks fastened tightly together was the symbol of the old Roman Empire, which was the greatest and most powerful state that had existed up to that time. Some one gave the world beauty and philosophy. John's offering was religion. Rome gave the world an example of the efficacy of organization. Even now practically Rome's only contribution to architecture, symbolized as powerful as the factors the dependence of one unit upon another and the strength which the group derived from the adherence of units to each other.

The burley co-operative marketing plan is nothing more than an organization by which the farmers of the State group themselves into a bundle of sticks, not only for protection, but for the ability to attack for all what each man individually cannot accomplish for himself. To be selling difficult to understand about the marketing plan. It is a mobilization of forces, a gathering of men with common interests and identical aims, a highly effective army as distinguished from a scattered and ineffective force each man fighting for himself against an organized enemy and receiving no help from his neighbors.

In combination lies the success of the co-operative plan must go over the top. Enrollment in the campaign for 75,000,000 pounds of tobacco must be pledged to make success the measure of the movement. If on November 15, the burley association has not the pledges for 175,000,000 pounds of tobacco, it will have failed to achieve the success it has achieved the progress of one hundred years will finally end right. It will mean that the State has opened the door to the knock of opportunity and that the farmers have done themselves and their progeny a great wrong.

It cannot be truthfully said that Kentucky is unacquainted with the co-operative movement, will have done a half day's work will have taken a tremendous and uncertain leap. To take advantage of a privilege that two decades of years old and concert it into capital is a heavy handicap to overcome. Particularly in this true when it is remembered that the principle of organization is right now in successful operation in the State in other lines, not only with respect to governmental but in relation to agricultural activities. Kentucky is the recognized leader of successful farmers in many parts of the land. Individual farmers have for 100,000,000 pounds of Kentucky staple product already to their credit. The burley association answered the challenge to double its tobacco acreage in order to progress. Those pledges are a great triumph for those who are instituting and undersold.

No argument for them necessary to insure the success of the co-operative movement. It is a business proposition which is designed to bring prosperity to the State and to contribute to its stability.

It is there to take or leave.

If taken the Kentucky farmer will not rob a year's hard work in the fields to receive whatever price the tobacco buyer may see fit to offer for his crop.

He and his neighbors, forming a phalanx, will be sure to get the solid phalanx, will be sure to get the best price obtainable. If there is a yearly drudgery in the tobacco fields will continue to be a drudgery and one cannot grasp the meaning of the movement and the unending opportunity for its consummation.

Don't write calmed when you can get a vegetable compound that will act on the liver and will be sure to make you sick. Take WALLACE'S LIVERALIC.

RENEWED TESTIMONY

No one in Carlisle who suffers backache, headaches, or distressing kidney ills can afford to ignore this Carlisle man's twice told story. Its confirmed testimony that Carlisle resident can afford.

John J. Alexander, prop. barroom on S. Main St., Carlisle, says: "I had an attack of kidney trouble several some years ago and as I had always found Doan's Kidney Pills effective I used them. I was troubled with a dull pain across the small of my back. It took almost two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills to relieve me. I used them at Tarbett's Drug Store and Doan's Kidney Pills Drug Store to cure me of kidney trouble. I feel perfectly well now. My statement given November 14, 1916.)

On November 15, 1920 Mr. Alexander says: "The cure I made of Doan's Kidney Pills was permanent. I haven't had the slightest sign of kidney trouble and Doan's Pills are alright and I gladly recommend them."

Why a "Home Town Paper Week?"

Subscribe for your Home town paper week, which has been set for November 7-12, has not been developed into a great national campaign because the "poor editor needs the money" but because there are many things more head than there is today that the home paper can do for the local, substantial things of small town and country life. Every home town which the home paper does thereby has a greater interest in the prosperity and community spirit of its people, as through the pertest of carry and discontent which is noticeable everywhere.

"Give Me a Chance To Think!"

All right.

That chance will be during the week of November 7th to 12th.

During that week take a little time and go over in your mind the many things your home town paper has done—is doing—will continue to do—for your home town.

Think about it seriously.

Think whether or not you have stood loyally by at all times when the community's champion has needed financial and moral support.

Think whether or not you have always done your duty by the town's best friend.

Think how much better your home town paper could do if each citizen were as loyal to it as it is to them.

Think how some one far away who would enjoy the weekly visit from the old home town paper, then hand in a subscription for that far-away friend.

If you are not now a subscriber, be one.

TITTA RUFFO

The World's Greatest Baritone in Concert November 7, Third of the Artist Concert Series at Woodland Auditorium, Lexington; Assisted by Rudolph Reuben, Russian Violinist and Accompanist.

Titta Ruffo, the world's greatest baritone and the third of the Artist Series at Woodland Auditorium, Lexington, November 7. His life for the artistic is inherent as his voice for the dramatic. He was born for the painters it his product. His voice is a heritage of distinction, and his brother a well known composer.

Titta Ruffo, with his remarkable voice from his Mother, a noticable lack of temperamental traits, his voice is remarkable in every sense of the word. It is a voice of marvelous power, sweet quality and power, with a range that extends into the upper tenor registers. In resonance and beauty of timbre, His Master voice is having delighted with the clarity and softness of a soprano. His voice is a natural organ, and he sings the astonishing cadenzas of a violinist with an authority and assurance and facile accomplishment that literally astounds his many admirers.

His personal characteristics are many and admirable. He is respected to a dominant modesty which shows itself in his every act. It is said that he insists in all the artists in the cast sharing in the applause which is meant for himself. His big moments are always regale in the operas "Hamlet," "Tosca," "Scarpia," as Athanael in "Thais," "Tonio Gerard," as Nelusko in "L'Africaine," "Christofore Colombo," and as Rigoletto in "Il Demonio."

The Ruffo concert is the third of the Artist Concert Series, and the second attraction to be presented. Individual seats may be secured at the Lexington College of Music, and at the Lexington Drug Co., Thurlee Lobby, Friday, November 4. Order tickets by mail or phone 4200. Good seats at all prices from $1.10 to $3.30.

The leaders and thousands of prominent men and women in both the Democratic and Republican parties throughout the state recommend it. Editors, educational workers urge it.

It is not a question of politics.

All the progressive men and women in both parties agree that it is the thing to do—LET'S DO IT.

A Million School Children In Kentucky Cry Out To You

Our existing educational system is old, obsolete and overshadowed inefficient by the manner in which our political system compels its administration. Progress has outgrown it. Other states have made the change and improved their educational systems 100 per cent by it. Kentucky children deserve no less.

This Advertisement is paid for by Patriotic Democratic and Republican men and women of Kentucky who want the school children of Kentucky to enjoy the benefits of an educational system equal to other states.
