SWIFT'S PRODUCE REVIEW

Poultry receipts have been heavy and lower prices have prevailed on both live and dressed stock in the leading markets. A large proportion of the movement consists of spring chickens of light weights, and it is evident there is large crop of poultry to be marketed.

Eggs receipts are much lighter and higher prices are being paid for good, fresh stock.

The market on butter is unchanged from the previous week. Receipts of cream are a little heavier than usual at this season, and the quality is not up to standard.

Investment in the quality of cream delivered to the creameries would be profitable.

LICENSE OF THREE PHYSICIANS REVOKED

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 4—In continuation of the campaign that it is waging against "pill peddling" physicians who are guilty of unethical practices, the State Board of Health this week announced that it had revoked the licenses of Dr. J. N. Pendleton and Dr. Samuel Pearlman and that it had summoned Dr. Joseph Pollock to appear before it to show cause why his license should not be revoked.

The two Pearlmans, who are brothers, have been practicing at opposite ends in Louisville, with a branch office in Bloomfield. Their licenses were revoked, according to Dr. A. T. McCormack, State Health Officer, because they had been guilty of literature which, he said, showed that they were guilty of unprofessional conduct of a character likely to deceive the public.

The charge against Dr. Thomas, who is a general practitioner, is that he is a habitual drunkard, and that his chronic and persistent addiction to drink has rendered him unqualified to follow his profession. He also is accused of unprofessional conduct of a character likely to deceive the public.

AT A MEETING OF THE BOARD

Of directors of the First National Bank last Thursday afternoon, Mr. Henry L. Gaither was selected as cashier of the institution, to become effective January 1, 1922. The bank will continue under the same management until then.

Mr. Carter will fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. T. H. Pickerell. Mr. Pickerell's daughter, Mrs. H. S. King, who is assistant cashier, has been in charge of the bank since her father's death.

Mr. Carter has been in the banking business in Carlisle for the past twenty years, starting as bookkeeper with the First National when it was first organized. It is understood that Judge Henry Carter will again be elected cashier of the Farmers Bank at the expiration of his term as County Judge on January 1. Judge Kennedy was cashier of the bank for several years prior to taking his present office.

GREAT ARTISTS COMING

Martinelli, successor to Caruso, leads prodigies, Barbe, World's Greatest baritone, follows.

The season of Superior concert series in Lexington has given the promoter the right to expect extra support for the new artists who are at the present time leading the leading prima donnas in the great metropolitan organization, the concert stage. With but three exceptions, Lexington has presented all the older great artists before the public, and this year's series introduces the very latest greatest singers and the pick of the world's greatest artists. It speaks well that the great Martinelli, tenor, Barbe, baritone, and Sodero, coloratura soprano, with the Chicago Grand Opera Company, come to Lexington and Central Kentucky at the height of their successes.

Sousa, Titta Ruffo, Kreisler and the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra returning to Lexington for the second season's engagements, and will be cordially received by admirers and personal friends.

Harold Bauer has never been heard in Lexington, but he is universally appreciated that without doubt the audience will be invaded for his reception. No artist has ever come before the public with better endorsements than Alberto Salvi, harpist, whose date has been set for Friday, January 13.

Season tickets and single tickets should be reserved immediately, by telephoning or writing to Miss Anna Hamilton Goff, Director Lexington College of Music. Martinelli, Bestaux, Barbe, Bauer and Kreisler are on the fourth annual artist concert series, which begins at Woodland auditorium Monday, October 10, with the Martinelli concert, when the successor to Caruso will be assisted by Kitty Beale, prima donna soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company.

WHEAT'S PRESENT AND FUTURE

(Wall Street Journal.)

Since the first of September there has been a sharp rise in the wheat market. Looking no further than this, the situation is brutally simple. The financial situation abroad is not good. The visible supply of bearer is rapidly increasing; the flour market is comparatively dead; and since the crop season opened on July 1, there has not been a week in which rumor has not suggested that foreign purchasers were not buying, indeed unless reading. These things have been the immediate price makers. But a longer view will show something different.

Bloomin lots of foreign buying can be easily disguised. In August the exports of wheat from the United States were, in round figures, 20,000,000 bushels, and of flour 1,672,000 barrels. This makes a total for the month of 68,946,000 bushels of wheat. Those who talk of lack of foreign demand might find Sidney or Crespi several months ago.

Edsel Mauldin, of near Reynoldsville, fell from a barn he was helping hanging tobacco last week and broke three ribs.

Mrs. Jones—To Mr. and Mrs. Austin Jones, of Alwell, a daughter—To Mr. and Mrs. Willie Barker, of Slate Valley, a daughter.

FLEMING

From 1500 to 1600 cattle were offered on the market at Flemingsburg court day. Best steers sold at around $7.

Chairman James Beasley reports that about 2,500,000 pounds of tobacco in Fleming county has been pledged to the co-operative marketing association.

Born—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burden, of Hawthorne, a son.

Married—Miss Pearl Hyslop, of Hillsboro, and Mr. Guy McKee, of Flemingsburg. Miss Gladys Cox, of Mt. Sterling, and Mr. Ernest Helphenstine, both of Wallingford.—Miss Irene Matthews, of Flemingsburg, to Mr. Charles Askins, of Wilmore, at Lexington.

Died—Mrs. Hannah Hall, aged 78 years.

With last year's carryover of 86,788,000 bushels, and the crop at the last official estimate of 754,000,000 bushels, we have a total supply in round numbers of 842,000,000 bushels. Allowing for a domestic consumption of 500,000,000 bushels and seed and carry-over, would leave about 250,000,000 bushels for export after July 1. This is a maximum because the final crop figure should show a loss of 16,000,000 bushels from the last official estimate. From this possible 250,000,000 bushels must be taken 100,000,000 bushels, leaving 150,000,000 bushels. Of the first two months of the new wheat on the other side of the ocean.

One trouble is that the farmers are not selling as they did a year ago, only by an opposite token. A year ago this week wheat was selling for $2.05 and world liquidation was in full swing. The primary movement of farmers and held their wheat for $3 a bushel. Foreigners have taken their cue very surprise in two months. Yet farmers are holding their wheat in the belief that it can be absorbed.

But the visible supply that the market has to take care of, and the farmers are holding more than they need. The invisible supply is another matter. That must be left in market receipts. Then will be the time to sell out to the exchanges depress prices until they get the farmers themselves are counting the situation in marketing of the bleak Canadian supply needlessly outweight the domestic.

THE WAY TO DO IT

If you test your little tooter and lay away your hats, within a week or two you will find that your hats were born. The man who tries to advertise by short and sudden jerks is the man who's always kicking because it never works.—Bushell's Review.

Mansuel Young, colored, was arrested in Mt. Sterling last week on a charge of stealing a horse from a farmer in the Indian Fields neighborhood and selling it. He was held over in the county jail in default of $600 bond to await the action of the grand jury.

Dr. E. C. Goldsmith pastor of the Mt. Sterling Baptist church for the past two years, has resigned and will the Shelbyville Baptist church.

Mrs. Lewis H. Kilpatrick, of Mt. Sterling, has a story, "Kentucky Vengeance," in the October issue of the Black Cat magazine.

Mrs. Wm. Wood and Mrs. William Ware, of the Spencer neighborhood, are sick.

LICENSE OF THREE PHYSICIANS REVOKED

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 4—In continuation of the campaign that it is waging against "pill peddling" physicians who are guilty of unethical practices, the State Board of Health this week announced that it had revoked the licenses of Dr. J. N. Pendleton and Dr. Samuel Pearlman and that it had summoned Dr. Joseph Pollock to appear before it to show cause why his license should not be revoked.

The two Pearlmans, who are brothers, have been practicing at opposite ends in Louisville, with a branch office in Bloomfield. Their licenses were revoked, according to Dr. A. T. McCormack, State Health Officer, because they had been guilty of literature which, he said, showed that they were guilty of unprofessional conduct of a character likely to deceive the public.

The charge against Dr. Thomas, who is a general practitioner, is that he is a habitual drunkard, and that his chronic and persistent addiction to drink has rendered him unqualified to follow his profession. He also is accused of unprofessional conduct of a character likely to deceive the public.

GREAT ARTISTS COMING

Martinelli, successor to Caruso, leads prodigies, Barbe, World's Greatest baritone, follows.

The season of Superior concert series in Lexington has given the promoter the right to expect extra support for the new artists who are at the present time leading the leading prima donnas in the great metropolitan organization, the concert stage. With but three exceptions, Lexington has presented all the older great artists before the public, and this year's series introduces the very latest greatest singers and the pick of the world's greatest artists. It speaks well that the great Martinelli, tenor, Barbe, baritone, and Sodero, coloratura soprano, with the Chicago Grand Opera Company, come to Lexington and Central Kentucky at the height of their successes.

Sousa, Titta Ruffo, Kreisler and the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra returning to Lexington for the second season's engagements, and will be cordially received by admirers and personal friends.

Harold Bauer has never been heard in Lexington, but he is universally appreciated that without doubt the audience will be invaded for his reception. No artist has ever come before the public with better endorsements than Alberto Salvi, harpist, whose date has been set for Friday, January 13.

Season tickets and single tickets should be reserved immediately, by telephoning or writing to Miss Anna Hamilton Goff, Director Lexington College of Music. Martinelli, Bestaux, Barbe, Bauer and Kreisler are on the fourth annual artist concert series, which begins at Woodland auditorium Monday, October 10, with the Martinelli concert, when the successor to Caruso will be assisted by Kitty Beale, prima donna soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company.
