CAN'T DO THE WORK

It's too much to try to work every day against a constant, dull backache or sudden darting pain in the small of the back. Be rid of it. Try Doan's Kidney Pills. Your neighbors recommend them. Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. H. C. Mann, 314 Dorsey St., Carlisle, says: "Some years ago I was in bad shape with my kidneys. For several days I was unable to do my housework as my back was lame and painful. I was as dizzy as could be and my limbs would cramp. The pain almost killed me. My kidneys didn't act regularly and every cold I contracted was sure to settle on my kidneys and make me worse. A friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I began taking them and it was no time before I got relief and two boxes cured me. I can recommend Doan's to anyone."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Mann had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

PROVED! FRIDAY! TO CARLISLE!

Big Audience at Orpheum Hears Edith McDonald Carpenter in EDISON Tone-Test

In a test of direct comparison, made Friday at the Orpheum Theatre, before a large audience, the New Edison scored a complete and convincing triumph.

Edith McDonald Carpenter, the famous soprano, sang in direct comparison with the Re-Creation of her voice by the New Edison. To every ear, there was no difference between her living voice and her Re-Created voice.

This is the most drastic phonograph test known. No other phonograph has ever sustained it. No other phonograph has even attempted it.

The New Edison's marvelous performance of Friday vindicates everything that has been said or claimed for its perfect realism.

Edith McDonald Carpenter stood on the stage next to a shapely Chippendale cabinet. She began to sing. Her golden notes soared over the auditorium, bringing all under its magic spell.

Halfway through her song, she suddenly stopped singing. The New Edison, at her side, took up her song, and continued it alone.

Singer and phonograph thus alternated, throughout the song.

The only way the audience could be sure which was singing, was by watching Miss Carpenter's lips; so exactly like the living voice was the Re-Created voice.

Charles Young, violinist, and Rienzi Thomas, pianist, made the same test of comparison with their instrumental selections. Again the same result; there was no difference between the Re-Created performance and the living performance.

Proof was piled upon proof! Evidence was massed on evidence! And the end of the concert found the audience absolutely and completely convinced, through its own personal experience, that there is no difference between an artist's living performance and its Re-Creation by the New Edison; that listening to the New Edison is, in literal truth, the same as listening to the living artists.

Only one question can still bother your mind. This question we now answer.

The instrument used in last Friday's test was not a special model. It was an Official Laboratory model, taken from regular stock. Every Official Laboratory Model in our stock is guaranteed to sustain the same test of direct comparison with living artists.

You can have an Official Laboratory Model in your home. You can own an instrument which will do everything done Friday in the test. Come in. Hear the Official Laboratory Model for yourself. Learn about our budget plan, which puts our Official Laboratory Models into your home for no more than you would "pay down" for a talking machine.

COMMENT

A WORD TO WOMEN VOTERS

Women seldom have to be urged to do their duty. It has been our observation that their sense of obligation is stronger than that of men in many instances. Consequently we believe a large number of women voters will be on hand Tuesday and vote. We realize that it is their duty to go to the polls and vote and we believe that they will need little urging. That they should do so, there can be no doubt. Women have been granted the right of suffrage, which carries with it the obligation to do their part in the matter of the selection of officials to administer our affairs, both national and local. If you are a member of a church society and are asked to cook some of the delectable food you are famous for, to be your contribution to a sale, you usually respond, do you not? If you belong to a club and it comes your turn to entertain, you always do, even if you have to feed the family soup, off the top of the kitchen floor heater, the day before, don't you? When you belong to a political party you lend political parties the best way we have of getting out the vote, don't you? We flaunt yet to get representation—despite the people in government—despite the efforts of some shrewd schemers to "take offices out of politics,") you are expected to contribute your part, your share of electioneering, as it were, by casting your vote for the candidate of your party you espouse. The Mercury does not admit that it is a back-bone creature. It believes that a partisanary may be carried too far; but it does believe that it is allegiant to the party with which one is affiliated, or else leaving that party. It has no patience with bolters.

Carrying the analogy of the social club a little further, let us suppose that certain rules were to be voted on. You desired one set of rules, your neighbor, belonging to the same club, another set. More members of the club took your neighbor's side than yours, and consequently his rules were adopted. Would you then refuse to "play" use your efforts to wreck the club? You would not. Then in the political party to which you belong, in whose affairs you have a voice, in every election you look out, "play the game."

The Democrats of Nicholas county nominated a splendid ticket; the nominees were their choice on the whole fairly. They are the men whom the majority of your party decided the majority rule is one of the cardinal principles of our democratic government. Then, there can be no doubt of the election of that ticket, but we owe it to the party with which you have become affiliated to help them by a record-breaking majority. Come to the polls next Tuesday (it will be literally a moment to execute that simple under the counter) and bring your husband with you, be sure he doesn't forget to vote.

And before you fold your ballot, put the quotes on Carl example of shrewd politics, sometimes as altruism, by voting No on both Amendments. You will find explanations in the third column, right hand side. The "No" is on the second line, under each.

Everybody has had a "week," every movement of note has been given a week, and now comes the turn of "getting," and how comes the turn of the worst than the worst of a free publicity (gladly, be it understood) to assist them a service. We, the country newspapers, are going to have a "week" of our own. From next Monday until Saturday night, it will be "To the Victor" be submitted for your inspection paper. If you are already a subscriber, send it to some friend. Our subscription staff about Home Town Paper, and it into your home for no more than you would "pay down" for a talking machine. of this issue.

If you do not favor putting the school system of Nicholas County in the hands of the Governor to be used as a political machine you will vote against Constitutional Amendment No. 1. And if you do not favor giving two per cent of the school funds of Nicholas county to some county in the mountains you will vote against Constitutional Amendment No. 2. If you do not go to polls the vote of Louisville negroes may get taken over an you. Watch your step! —Cynthiana Democrat

The Republican-Democratic movement is going to be a winner. Sign your tobacco and get a seat in the hand we you. Don't wait to see if the way is going to be won before taking your place in the ranks.

"It couldn't be done—but they did it!" Yours, Bel Likerdon, Earl!

CLARENCE SHEA MORTALLY WOUNDS MAN AT MAYSLICK

Dance At Maysleh Last Thursday Night Scene of Fatal Shooting. Victim Dies

Clarence Shae, well known young farmer, surrendered to the Mason county authorities last Saturday, after he had received information that a warrant had been issued for his arrest on a charge of killing Lee Carr, manager of a creamery at Maysville.

Shae, with a party of young people from the Ellisville neighborhood were attending a dance at Maysluck last Thursday night, and in an altercation with Carr, it is alleged he shot him. Carr was taken to the Maysville hospital, where he died Saturday morning as a result of his wounds.

The following account of the shooting is taken from last Friday's Maysville Bull-tin:

"The masquerade dance at Maysluck Thursday night broke up in a row and probably a fatal shooting about midnight.

The boys and girls had assembled for a pleasant time and everything was going fine when a disagreement between Lee Carr, manager of the Sunlight Dairy Co., and Shae, it is said by those who tapped Clyde Laughlin, of Ellisville, Nicholas county, was one of the dancers, on the shoulder, remarking: "Buddie, let me have your girl a while." Laughlin refused to comply with Carr's request and a few words were exchanged between the young men, when Carr, who is very short and is alleged to have struck Laughlin a terrific blow, sending him sprawling across the floor, getting his lower lip and tearing him in a direct condition for nearly an hour.

Carr left the dance hall after he struck young Laughlin, but returned later.

In the meantime, Laughlin's Nicholas county friends, who had become highly incensed at the rough treatment given their friend, were discussing the matter with Shae, in his appearance and was shot by one of the party, the bullet penetrating the right side of Carr's abdomen, inflicting what is thought to be a fatal wound.

The Yancey was called and attempted to dress the wound, but Carr refused to allow any one very drunk and abusive that the doctor was compelled to desist.

He was brought to this city at 4 o'clock this morning and taken to the Maysville general hospital where he was given attention. He stood the trip thought to be fatal. At 9 o'clock this morning his condition was reported.

Carr, who is about twenty-five years old, and a fine physical specimen of manhood, came to this city a few years ago from Ohio. He has been employed by the Sunlight creamery for several years, and is well known in this city and vicinity.

Shae's brother was in Maysleh this morning, but could learn nothing definite as to who did the shooting."

GETS QUICK JUSTICE

The long arm of the law reached out Sunday night and grabbed Chas. Mitchell, colored, of Mount Sterling, charging him with disturbing religious worship. Officers got on the job at a church meeting and interrupted the meeting by placing Mitchell under arrest, and taken before Police Judge John Hinton the next morning, and fined the festively-inclined negro $50 and costs. Mitchell was in default, yesterday morning and placed in the Police jail to serve out his fine, as described above.

CENTRE COLLEGE DEFEATS HARVARD SATURDAY 6 TO 0

The South was victorious at the stadium of Harvard College at Cambridge, Saturday.

Men from Centre College of Kentucky, "The Praying Colonels" and Harvard players of high degree, which fact is evidenced by the scores these aggregations piled up against the Crimson had not defeat on its own or any other field.

The victory belonged to the redoubtable "Bo" McMillin, backed by brilliant teams of an alert and aggressive team. A well kept defensive line helped.

McMillin, thwarted time after time, found his opportunity in the third period and broke thru the Harvard defense for a gain of 30 yards, passing field and evading the others for a touchdown. He was stopped.

It was a brilliant piece of foot ball work, calling into play all the elements of early interference, straight arm evasions, change of pace, slanting passes and forward dash. For yards at a time McMillin raced within inches of the edge of the playing field but always made, and his touchdown was unquestioned.

The failure of Bartlett to complete his touchdown with a goal left the margin of victory McMillin's alone. It was his day.

BOY ACCIDENTALLY SHOOTS HIMSELF WHILE HUNTING

Harrison Fryman, aged 18 years, of near Pleasant Valley, accidentally shot himself in the abdomen with a shot gun last Saturday morning about 10 o'clock while hunting rabbits with a friend. He was taken to the Good Samaritan hospital at Lexington Saturday night, accompanied by Dr. E. T. Runyon, of Irving.

Immediately after reaching the hospital he was operated upon. It was found that the injury was a fresh one and the intestines were cut. Saturday night he was reported as resting well. His injuries are not thought to be serious.

REGULAR ELECTION TO BE HELD NEXT TUESDAY

While only two of the Democratic nominees for county offices have opposition from the Republican party, and two candidates for Magistrate have opposition, a heavy vote is expected to be polled at the election to be held next Tuesday.

The Democrats have afford to take a chance by staying away from the polls next Tuesday. While there is no danger of the party losing, it is hoped by the leaders that a heavy vote will be polled in the Party's favor.

The two school amendments will probably bring out a large vote, especially among the women. While the many expressions of opinion have been in favor of both the amendments, still the county is opposed to the amendments.

Following is the text of the two Constitutional Amendments to be voted upon:

AMENDMENT NO 1

Are you in favor of amending the State Constitution by striking out of Section 91, 92 and 93 the words, "Superintendent of Public Instruction," thereby leaving to the General Assembly the power to provide by law whether the said office shall be filled by election or appointment?

AMENDMENT NO. 2

Do you favor amending Section 186 of the State Constitution so that said Section when amended shall read as follows:

"All funds accruing to the school fund shall be used for the maintenance of the public schools of the State, and for no other purpose, and the General Assembly shall by general law apportion the same among the distribution and use of the public school funds for the current year: Provided, however, that not more than two per cent of the school fund shall be distributed other than upon the per capita basis."

Mrs Bird Woodward has announced as an independent candidate for jailer of Robertson county at the November election.

In a dispute over a division of wages, Spiral Smith, 38, shot and killed James Lankford, 60, at Windsor, Ky., last Saturday afternoon. Both were plumbers.

The Meeting Ground of Town and Country—The Home Town Paper

THAT great part of non-city America which we call the country is in reality the town and country. Sometimes the people of the farms have felt that the people of the towns did not understand their problems any more than did those of the big cities. But there is a new understanding. It has come with the Home Town Paper. It has chronicled the activities of the village and of the farm with equal fidelity. It has told of the visits of the village folk to the farm and of the farmer and his family, of the new power in the country and of the farmer's increasing wealth and higher standard of living. The latest census has called "a slice of life" of the people. That slice has been given. What better name could be given to the natural meeting for the homely, intimate news of the country than the Home Town Paper? Your town paper is your country newspaper is to have a "week" all its own. The Carlisle Mercury and other country newspapers have got together and decided that the week of November 7-12 is to be the week for your home town paper week" November 7-12. VERSAILLES TAKES LUCKY GAME FROM CARLISLE HI

Local Boys Lose Fast Ball Game At Versailles Last Friday In Last Two Minutes of Game.

With only one and one-half minutes to play, and thirty-five yards away from their opponent s goal line, Carlisle took a chance on the forward pass. S. Boston, Versailles right half, running at full speed to meet the play, had the good fortune to run into the ball meant for Fretwell. It hit so hard nearly miss it, and he kept on toward his goal, a clear field in front. Smith gave chase and after a hard run and tackle brought the runner down one yard from the goal line. Three more plays put it over.

Less than three quarters the fight ranged between the 20 yard lines. Carlisle was gaining slightly more ground than Versailles, but was losing it on the exchange of punts. Smith was unfortunate in getting several of his punts over the side line, very little in advance of the line of scrimmage. When he did get them straightened he was not able to run them back very far, and the ball would be run back ten to twenty yards.

Near the end of the fourth quarter Carlisle, mainly through the line plunging of Smith, worked the ball to Versailles' 10 yard line, but lacked the "old pep" to put it over. On the fourth down, with six yards to go, Byrne was called in to try a drop kick, but it will never left the ground. Versailles made two first downs before the forward pass, which Smith intercepted, Carlisle then making the first forward pass, which was intercepted and run back to the one yard line, as described above.

Versailles made two unsuccessful plays on the line, then on a fake play Captain Edgar trotted around left end for the only score, and Carlisle, had lost on one of the worst breaks of the season. Score, Versailles missed the goal.

Versailles has a strong player, both on the offensive and defensive, in W. Boston, right half back. He, with Capt. Edgar, made practically all of the Versailles gains, and it was actually W. Boston who broke Carlisle's plays. Willis also played a good game.

Per-Carlisle Capt. Smith played a stellar game. Smith has played many good games, but his game at Versailles last Friday was by far the best he has ever done. It was a grand sight to watch him go through the Versailles interference and bring down his man. When hitting the line he simply drove the Versailles team back and with the exception of a few plays would bring him down. Fisher put a few all Versailles plays around behind. Wagoner, in his first time in a football game, did good work at Fretwell, of course, was there with the goods, and Smith and Byrne were sure and hard. Great little half back.

THE OLD HOME TOWN PAPER

(Arthur Krock in Louisville Times)

Kind reader, did you ever live down in the South Fork? Do you ever follow the front car-pet to Winlock's on Saturday night? Do you ever go to a better man or woman for having Dred Scott. The immediate causes relate to a wrongful particular to the writer of these lines. An old-fashioned southern country chore most of his childhood was spent and where his first and firmest impressions of life were gained. But they in general are notes redolent of country life in this State, and to the reader they will probably bring back the grandfather's axiom.

There was always a courthouse in the center of the town square, shaded by big maples and elms and beeches, and around it, in County Court Day or election time, the country horses and mules that moved the country's commerce were hitched to the fences and rings of the court-house fence. Just across the court-house yard, between the old hotel on one end and the grandfather's store on the other, was the office of the country newspaper. Its editor was more than "Col." Like the hotel and the store it was a pioneer, and to watch the type-setter at his case and the editor at his desk, separated by the printer was the defiant and the editor was the conservative of politics.

Good days. Bright days. They're not come now. But many other little boys and girls have been through them since then, and many more are necessarily inhaling them now. They are the sons and daughters of the Old Home Town paper week" to remind you like many of us that it would be pleasant to read of the old town and the old names again. Forum of the Old Home Town paper week" to remind you like many of us that it would be pleasant to read of the old town and the old names again. Forum of gally W. Boston who broke Carlisle's plays. POOL SUCSESS TO ADD 20 MILLIONS TO CROP PRICE

Is Declaration Of Aaron Sapiro In Address Last Week. Party of Redrying Facilities, He Says

That the success of the Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association marketing pool will add twenty million dollars to the 1921 tobacco crop in Kentucky and that the grower who reduces outside the pool may find himself in the condition of the outsiders in the prune pool in California, enjoined a market and compelled to take half prize for his tonnage, was the declaration of Aaron Sapiro, of California, in his addresses made to tobacco growers in Kentucky last week.

"It is not just that I am asking you to sign the contract," said Mr. Sapiro "but the boys and girls of Kentucky, who are the sons of Kentucky, who are asking you simply to give them a chance to obtain a decent standard of living for Kentucky."

Answering statements made by opponents of the pool that the organization will have no redrying facilities, he said that Vice Chairman James C. Howe had received offers from as far away as Winston-Salem, N. C., from men who wanted to locate in order to pool the tobacco and that contracts to handle the association's holdings had been asked for.

"I haven't done a thing in California that you can't do in Kentucky and you will put enough in the pool," he said. "I have never seen a finer bunch of men than you have working for the cooperative organization here in Kentucky. In California, they did not want to finance the beginning of an organization as Kentucky has done, when it is said that the tobacco crop of Kentucky is one of the most non-speculative crops in the country, and that they may not be interested in it. Now, I have never met finer men than Judge Bryan Howe, Will Simms, J. C. Howe, Ralph Barker or Mr. Collins, who recently left.

If you men were like that one in every county in Kentucky, I tell you you are going to sail that contract on the floor in five days. Why, there is the Democratic ticket.

FORTY FOUR CARS AGO

(Items taken from the files of The Carlisle Mercury forty-four years ago.)

The surface-worker of W. H. Sisco of this county, is county-wise 19—, 19— years, to the mother of 19— children, two sixty-five grandchildren, fifty-four great grandchildren. A few returns are not all in yet."

"Those who are in the habit of taking a drink should not go into the rear of the St. Cloud hotel Council chamber and visit the spittoon. The council has abated the public square. The alley has become very offensive. Parties in charge, and all who are concerned are requested to take notice, or run the risk of having their bodies cut.

"Uncle Jack Rodney, a young gentleman who recently took unto himself a wife, was in the city on Tuesday to play the hand of Sheriff Hilloh against his property. It is extremely discouraging to a man of eighty-five who is doing all he can to get a start in the world to find the well at one door and the sheriff at the other."

DEMOCRATIC CHAIRMEN URGE PARTY SUPPORT

I. B. Ross and Mrs. B. F. Reynolds Request Democrats To Come To Polls and Keep Big Majority

I. B. Ross, chairman of the Democratic campaign committee, and Mrs. B. F. Reynolds, chairman of the women's division of the campaign committee, in a card to the voters of the county, urge them to come to the polls next Tuesday and keep the lead which the Democratic have in the county. Following is the card:

To The Democratic Voters of Nicholas County.

Ladies & Gentlemen:—

Next Tuesday is regular election day for the election of your County officers for the ensuing four years. Last August you participated in the Primary wherein the nominees were named to be voted for on next Tuesday.

By your voting in the Primary, you evidenced the fact that you were a Democrat; and you further evidenced the fact that it was your desire and earnest wish to vote for the Democratic nominees at the regular election following the Primary.

Some of you failed to name the successful nominee; but by your vote in the Primary, and stating that you were a Democrat, and voting for the nominees on the Democratic ticket, you indicated that your desire was to support the nominee of the Democratic Party.

Some people think, and especially among the opposing party, that because some of you failed to name the nomination of the parties for whom you voted, it will be only a matter of course to go to you and ask you to vote against the Democratic candidate, but that you will freely and gladly violate the implied promise, and your party fealty. To say the least, it is a reflection upon you and your integrity to ask you to scratch the nominee of your party. I think it is a waste of time for them to do so. We have too much confidence in the Democratic of Nicholas County, as a man and woman, to think for a moment that you would knowingly vote against your Democratic principles, thus violating the faith and pledge yourself in a position to be unable to vote the Democratic ticket at the next February.

Everyone of you come out to the polls next Tuesday; vote the straight Democratic ticket! Ladies, especially should come out, because you assisted in naming the nominees, therefore, it is your duty to support them.
