LOCAL PEOPLE ENJOYING WINTER IN FLORIDA

Miami, Florida,
Temperature 75 in the shade.
Dear Mercury:—

Thinking perhaps the home folks might enjoy a letter from the Sunshine, and wishing until Henry had his first catch to report, I will write of only a few of the many things we found interesting. The first thing that struck us was the genuine hospitality which we found among the Miami folks. They are never too busy to be courteous and kind to inquiring strangers. We arrived here one week ago Thursday and every day has been full of sight seeing.

Miami is situated on the bay of Biscayne and you have to cross the bay to reach the main business part. In crossing we go across the causeway, which is rather wonderful to look at. It is built like a bridge, two thirds of which is of solid construction, one fair approach from either side is on piers. It is two miles and a half long, about 50 feet wide, a drive way on each side, and street car track in middle. One seems to be crossing the ocean on a bridge. This connects Miami City with the Miami beach and on the beach we found the Flamingo hotel, which we were privileged to look at; here are some of the palatial residences of millionaires, the gem among them all being Beach Island, a bank houses, parks etc., also one of the most complete aquariums in the United States, where every known variety of fish is shown and labelled.

Yesterday Henry Potts and Ishbelle King, with a guide, went out for deep sea fishing and I can truthfully say for once we had fish that he caught that we would not; they both caught 34, and one was a very beautiful and rare fish called the Parrot, blue and green striped, with a shading of rose, and weighed 24 pounds.

We drove out to the orange grove of an ex-Kentuckian and Nicholas county man, who has been here for more than 24 years, Mr. Mullins, of Fleming county, but was born in Kentucky very nigh to us. In walking through we kicked the oranges and grape fruit under our feet. How glad he have them for the children at our penny lunch at home; you can buy four or more fruit for thirty five cents a dozen and or, equal to one cent each.

We drove out to see the big Fire Fly Bradies under process of construction, and saw the air plane exhibition, one of the flyers was Mr. Bell Cody, nion of Buffalo Bill, and who certainly has his daring. She is a little woman and when she climbed up on top of the machine and stood there unsupported while the machine went higher and higher in the air, it took nerve to even stand and watch her.

In coming in from our fishing trip, which was on Cape Florida, we sailed around the edge of the coast and saw the homes of many well-to-do people, among them W. J. Bryan's, Miss Joyce, the movie star, the Deering estate, serving acres and acres, upon which is erected the home of the owner, Mr. James Deering, one of the Deering Harvester Co. partners. He has a old bachelor, 70 years of age, but has allowed his taste to be gratified along the line of our Hagerin estate in Kentucky, only on a more magnificent scale. This place covers thirteen million dollars. Visitors are allowed to drive through on certain days of the week and not stop. In the park is located every known variety of tree, shrub, fruit, ornamental, from all parts of the earth; also flowers. I saw growing bananas, cocoanuts, orange, grape fruit, lemons, tangerines and many other fruits that I am not familiar with.

I might go on and on, but I forget I'm presuming on your time and patience, so will not say more other than tell anyone it is worth saving up your pennies for after 25 years (which we did) to come South for a vacation, and then to feel that you have dear old Blue Grass Kentucky and a home in Carlisle to come back to.

All Harry's family, including Mrs. Pickrell, are well and enjoying their visit to the fullest.

Sincerely,
Anna K. Potts.

CAN'T DO THE WORK

Eli Sue says he can't do the work every day against a constant, dull backache and constant aching pain in the small of the back. Be rid of it. Try Doan's Kidney Pills. Even old neighbors recommend them. Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. H. C. Mann, 314 Dorsey St., Carlisle, says: "Some years ago I was in bad shape with my kidneys. For several days I was unable to get around to attend to my work because and painful. I was so dizzy when I stooped I had my limbs would cramp. The pain almost killed me. My back was so weak and lame that every cold I contracted was sure to settle on my kidneys and make me worse. A friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I got them and they did me more than anything I had ever taken. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

COMMENT

"All I saw the princess slipper fall the preacher to the brother As she stumbled on the stairs. Fresh old thing don't you get fly-Quoth the banker to the preacher "What you see is worth the price."—Boston News.

"I saw nothing of a slip, When I peeped beneath her hood Quoth the preacher sternside hood. "Sir," said I, "just let her slip-When she did, I understood— Trouble in the cars I said."

The Mercury takes pleasure in publishing the following communication, which we believe to be timely. We have long realized that the establishment of a Y. M. C. A. with gymnasium and reading room was a necessity, and we believe it is reasonable dream for a town the size of Carlisle. In addition to the settlement fund would pay a high rate of interest to good investors in the years to come. An "Eighty Club" would be a good name for one of some such institution, where men could meet and play games and congregate. He writes:

Fellow Mercury for the past few years there have been a number of Carlisle that a "Y. M. C. A." was a necessity for the young men of Carlisle, and it has at last been decided that the time is ripe for the establishment of such an institution. Y. M. C. A. buildings are a necessity for the moral and young men, in and out of town, in place of loafing around on the streets, in place of loafing around on the streets, in place of loafing around on the streets
