For the second, a minimum fine of $50 or two months in jail. For the third offense, the minimum fine is $100 and the registration of the truck is suspended for a period of not less than thirty days nor more than six months. Use of rubber tires worn to within one inch of the metal flange is prohibited. Trucks not exceeding two tons capacity are limited to a speed of twenty miles per hour, and trucks of more than two to fifteen miles. Under the new law 150 truck drivers were fined in one day.

PADERSWSKI COMING TO LEXINGTON IN JANUARY

Miss Anna Chandler Goff, director of the Lexington College of Music announced Wednesday that she had been able to secure a contract for the appearance of Mr. Ignace Paderewski in a concert in Woodland Auditorium Friday, January 26, at 8:15 p. m.

Mr. Paderewski played his first recital at Mechanic Hall, Boston, November 8, after an absence from the concert stage of six years. The critics agree that his art is unimpaired that he plays the old pentecost of his youthful tributes which gave him his unique place in the musical world.

"A refreshed Paderewski has returned to the concert stage than he was when Mr. H. T. Parker in the Boston Transcript, a Paderewski in the full exercise of the powers of his later years, newly and strangely recovered for one or another attribute of an early prime, newly and keenly whetting his early status of the calendar with the zest that his thirties not always knew."

The prices for the tickets to this concert will be $5.50, $3.50, $2.20 and are on sale now at the Lexington College of Music.

LOCAL CHURCH SUBSCRIBES LIBERALLY IN CAMPAIGN

One of the most remarkable records made by any Presbyterian church in the State has been made by the local Presbyterian church in the Statewide Presbyterian campaign for $1,000,000 for the denomination's schools in the State.

The local church, with a membership of only about 120 members, has subscribed $4,675.00 to date, an average of over $36 per member. The bulletin sent out by Presbyterian Theological Seminary of Louisville, giving the progress of the campaign in Carlisle is classed as one of the banner churches.

The Presbyterian Educational Movement in Kentucky will close at noon Tuesday, December 19th. This decision was reached at a meeting of the United Commission having charge of the work and reports received indicate absolute confidence in the goal of $1,000,000 being reached.

The Commission decided to fix Sunday, December 17th as Emergency Day in every Presbyterian Church in Kentucky. On this date special sermons will be held and every organization affiliated with the churches will be asked to pray for the success of the campaign.

The Commission at its meeting discussed not only the financial benefits accruing from this campaign but the spirit of church unity which has been brought about by the movement and the special committee has been appointed to take steps to follow up the various advantages which the church has obtained through this work. This committee will meet shortly and report at the next meeting to the Presbyterian of Kentucky.

Dan Paul, a white man, was arrested at the home of his brother-in-law Lee Ingber, Tuesday afternoon charged with assaulting Mrs. Sallie Tress, a 70 year old Lexington woman with a blunt instrument, as she was passing Monday night. Paul had been evicted from a residence of Mrs. True and had gone to get even.

TO BEGIN REGISTERING OF CROPS HERE NEXT TUESDAY

Beginning Tuesday, December 5, the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association will open for the purpose of registering deliveries of tobacco for the season 1922-23. The office will be open from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. Frank C. Taylor, acting manager, requests that poolers do not register for tobacco that is not in shape for the "season" the local warehouses will receive tobacco on Monday, December 11. Poolers are to be allowed to deliver parts of crops, but tributes which gave him his unique place in the musical world.

Parker in the Boston Transcript, a Paderewski in the full exercise of the powers of his later years, newly and strangely recovered for one or another attribute of an early prime, newly and keenly whetting his early status of the calendar with the zest that his thirties not always knew."

TO RAISE $100,000 FUND TO COMMEMORATE SHELTON

The anniversary of the death of Dr. Robert Leroy Shelton, medical missionary of the Christian church, who was killed by bandits in Tibet February 17, last, will be marked by the raising of a $100,000 fund by the Christian Church of America, according to an announcement made by the United executive committee of the United Christian Missionary Society at Indianapolis Sunday. Half of the fund will go toward founding a chair of Tibetan language in the College of Missions at Indianapolis and the other half toward the establishment of a listang.

Dr. Shelton was associated at the missionary station in Tibet with Jas. C. Ogden and Mrs. Ogden, native of this county. Dr. Shelton was frequently mentioned in letters to the parents of Mr. Ogden in this county, and, in an address at the Christian church in this city this spring, Mr. Ogden spoke at length upon his association with him in their work.

STANDARD PAYS DAMAGES

The damage suit filed against The Standard Oil Company by Attorney A. H. Barker in the Pendleton Circuit Court amounting to a total of $10,000 in the three actions for Henry Belew, administrator of Pearl Belew and his wife, Nora Belew, was settled at this term of court. The agreed judgment is for $12,000 and costs.

This suit was the result of the accident when Mr. and Mrs. Fred Belew were burned to death at their home near Unity, this county, on July 28, 1921. Mrs. Belew was attempting to start a fire in the kitchen stove with the contents that she had bought at a store for coal oil. The can exploded and she was burned to death. Her husband, in trying to extinguish the burning clothing of his wife, was also fatally burned and died a few days later.

Henry Belew, the administrator, stated in his petition that gasoline was sold to them instead of coal oil. This was the largest damage suit ever in Pendleton county.—Falmouth Outlook.

APPLY LIME FALL AND WINTER

Probably fall and winter is as good a time to apply ground limestone to land as any other time, and it certainly is the most convenient time. Lime is a rather laborious operation and where it is put off until the busy season the operation will certainly interfere seriously with the usual farm operations. There is no disadvantage in applying lime to land some time before the crop that it is expected the lime to benefit is planted. In fact, it is probably an advantage as a better distribution is secured.

A New Idea in Meat-Curing

If the salt you are using in meat-curing leaves a "salt taste" you have not got quite a perfect cure.

Colonial Special Farmers Salt is the only salt of soft, porous flake structure that dissolves instantly in curing, porous flakes are of varying sizes, insuring a slow, even curing and preserving the meat first, then the next size, and so on, giving an even, uniform process of curing that brings out all the fine meat flavor. It preserves the color, and makes the finest, most tender, yet tender-to-carve hams a salt grant. We advise you to try a 70 lb. bag of Colonial Salt for all farm purposes. The price is $1.50 per bag.

PASSING OF THE CARD WRITER

Two of the erstwhile frequent contributors to the Kentucky rural press seem to have passed out, and nowadays it is a rarity to find "Fox Pepsil" or Pyx Bean Fodder" appended to an articleasic seating or critisising this or that thing. In other days these contributors not only were prolific but copious.

Now when anybody resorts to card writing in the county papers in reply to a kick against the officials or something else, he either signs his real name or adds a note on phone like "Indignant Taxpayer" or "Outraged Citizen." Most of the papers now require that such articles be temperate in the use of personalities.

Another thing that may have discouraged the card writing propensities of "Fox Pepsil" and "Pyx Bone Fodder" is that the rural editor now insists upon payment for their insertion. Formerly such articles were generously contributed to the editor in the laudable effort to help him "fill the paper," and often they were accepted for the same purpose.

Since he has to pay for the privilege the chronic card writer finds less to grumble about or suggest.

SPUNKY FOWLS

Inebriated chickens on his farm have so incensed George W. Perry, near Dayton, Ky., that he has asked James M. Wood, prohibition agent, to apprehend the person or persons who furnish the fowls with moonshine whisky.

It has been an all too common sight on his farm for several days, Perry said, for the chickens to be trying stunts that mother nature never intended they should attempt. A hen before meek old hen was observed to be trying to fight a bull dog, finally putting the dog to flight. The reason Perry told Wood, is that moonshiners operating somewhere in the neighborhood had poured their mash on his farm and the chickens partook liberally of it.—Harrodsburg Herald.

Uncle Henry tells the folks more about his trip to Cincinnati:

Mary's told you about her birthday and Cousin Sue's illness, so there's nothing I can add there.

With Mary looking after things at the house, I've been kind of like a ship without a rudder. Don't seem to know what to do with myself.

Have been to every moving picture theater in the city and know just about what's going on in the line of fillums.

The other Saturday, I saw Cincinnati's navy burn up. It happened quite a piece back, but as I haven't written since then, thought I'd mention it. My those boats made a blaze. Kind of a fire I've always wanted to set.

Coming back from the water front, I noticed that about every child I passed had a toy balloon. No, there wasn't any circus in town, just some more of Mabley's progressiveness. Every Saturday that's their way of giving the kiddies a treat.

Well, I thought I'd get some of those balloons to send along home to the children. Here they are.

It do beat all the way Mabley's put themselves out to be of service to people. The other day Cousin Sue asked me if I'd mind paying the gas bill. When I asked her where I'd take it, she said "Mabley's." Sure enough they have a department there to look after such a thing. This department is kept at their own expense and didn't cost me a cent more for the convenience.

While I was in the store, thought I might as well look around and get some Christmas ideas. I'd seen a sign somewhere about doing Christmas Shopping early, so decided to grab time by the forelock.

Say any number of things that you all would like but didn't buy. I'd rather wait until Mary can come down with me. Women like to have a say in such things. You know how they are.

I found out one thing in looking around that you all might like to know about. Mabley's have Christmas Orders. When you can't think of anything to give someone you want to give to, just give them one of these orders. Send on your money, get a Christmas order for that amount, and the person you give it to can exchange it at the store for whatever they want. It's a great idea, saves a lot of wear and tear on the brain.

I'm playing nurse to-day as's Mary can run down street to buy few things she needs. Kind of have a suspicion she's making tracks to Mabley's to lay in a Winter's supply of clothes. You know how it is. When you sit around, as she's been doing, you kind of get to thinking over what you have and what you haven't until you get a hankering to just get out and buy up some store. Mary's not buying up Mabley's but right about now, I'll wager she's putting a dent in it.

No doubt you'll get a letter all about clothes when she writes again.

Yours Truly,
Henry.

Inactive Liver

"I have had trouble with my liver for years," wrote Mrs. S. Nichols,* of 4412 Spencer St., Houston, Texas. "When I would get constipated, I would feel a light, dizzy feeling in my head. I would get up in the morning with a tightness in the head and a tendency to belong to often a day that the stomach is out of order. Put this to a test. I bought Thedford's Black-Draught, and without a doubt can say I have never found its equal in any liver medicine. It not only clears the liver, but leaves you in such a good condition. I have used it a long time, when feel does not feel as well, or the stomach is a little sour."

If it isn't Thedford's it isn't BLACK-DRAUGHT Liver Medicine.
