DITTY OF THE DEAR DOLLAR

An editor has been inspired, after hacking over his list of delinquent subscribers, to compose the following: "How dear to the heart is the old silver dollar, when some kind subscriber presents it to view; the Liberty head we welcome so dollar, and all the strange things which to us seem so rare; the eagle with wings and the arrows below it, the stars and the words with the strange things they tell; the coin of our fathers, we're glad that we know it, for only a dollar will come in right well; the spread-eagle dollar, the star-spangled dollar, the old silver dollar we all love so well." The Troy Times.

LOOK BEFORE YOU SHOOT

(Bowling Green Times-Journal)

Clay Long had a valuable hound mare killed yesterday at his home on the Barren river pike, near the city, by some careless hunter. As a matter of course he does not know who did it, but this does not alter the fact that the mare was killed and somebody has been very careless and negligent. It is known that hunters were in the vicinity and there can be no doubt that they killed the mare, which was in the posture at the time she was shot. Hunters can not be too careful in their hunting expeditions and as a matter of fact they have no right to hunt on a man's premises without his permission. It might have a good effect if some of those who hunt without permission were arrested and prosecuted.

THIS IS YOUR INVITATION

To come to Maysville and see our display of new Fall suits, overcoats, shoes and hats.

You have been waiting for those soft, rich fabrics in overcoats and suits, the distinctive patterns and models that have been decidedly rare for several seasons. They're here now.

And the most wonderful thing about it is that they are here at prices that have not been able to associate with such high quality in several years.

May we serve you this fall?

The Mercury has recently completed for the Carlisle Christian church a letter book, which will be distributed to the members of the congregation within the next few weeks.

We call attention of the readers of the Mercury this week to page 8 of this issue, in which five new merchants of Carlisle are offering special bargains for Friday and Saturday.

Louise, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce West, is recovering from her serious illness of typhoid fever, which confined her to her bed for three weeks.

Circuit court convened Tuesday after an adjournment of two weeks. Several cases on the equity docket have been disposed of, but the most of the court will likely close Friday. The grand jury will probably adjourn today.

Although there is plenty of coal in Carlisle to meet the demand, the price remains high, from $11 to $11.50 per ton. It is probable that dealers can obtain all the coal they want this winter, but indications are that the price will remain high.

Several new cases of diphtheria have been reported the past week, although there have been no deaths from the disease in the past ten days. It is the opinion of physicians that several persons in the home the disease exists have been on the streets. The law provides a heavy penalty for breaking quarantine.

Rolla Hall has been appointed local agent for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., to succeed Frank C. Powell, who has been promoted to assistant manager of the Paris district. Mr. Powells' new position will necessitate his residence in Paris and he will move to that city within the next few weeks.

C. C. Cole is putting a new front in his business building on the corner of Main and Maple streets. The front will be similar to other fronts on the public square and will add much to the attractiveness of the store. Main street, with a few exceptions, has large plate glass windows in all of its stores.

The following quotations were given on the Chicago Board of Trade on Wednesday morning: Hogs, steady to 10c lower; top, $9.75; bulk of sales, $9.25 to $9.75 for heavies and packers and butchers to $9 for common; fat cattle, steady; prices range from $3.50 for extra cattle down to $3.50 for common cows and cutters.

A few seconds after the last play was made in the world's series at New York Sunday afternoon, Carlisle baseball fans knew that the New York Giants were winners, having won four out of five games.
