The Doctrine of Necessity

By MARTHA WILLIAMS

"Necessity is the law of the jungle," said the philosopher. "It is the law of the forest, the law of the field, the law of the sea. It is the law of the land, the law of the air, the law of the earth. It is the law of the universe."

The doctrine of necessity is a legal principle that allows a person to be excused from a crime if they were forced to commit it in order to avoid a greater harm. It is often used in cases involving self-defense or the protection of others.

Marital Adventures

"Miss Comifee" by Joseph Hershfelder

It was a beautiful day in the city of New York. The sun was shining brightly, and the streets were filled with people. A young woman, Miss Comifee, was walking down the street, looking beautiful in her new dress.

She was walking towards a man who was standing in the middle of the street. He was looking at her with a smile, and she was looking at him with a smile. They were both laughing and talking to each other.

The man was a young man, and he was looking at Miss Comifee with a smile. She was looking at him with a smile, and they were both laughing and talking to each other.
