A DIALOGUE

Should Mr. Cantrill win the Democratic nomination Mr. Galvin might say: We hate Barkley, Billy, Mr. Allen thinks so. We sure do. Maybe so—Lonesome Times.

Should Mr. Cantrill defeat Haley say: Percy to Billy and Maurice: I intend to stage a come-back, boys. You sure couldn't, Percy. But I made the Eleghan Twist, long through a loop, and I'll do it again. Yes, you did a wonderful thing, boys, in the eyes of the metropolitan press. It sure is, Percy. But not quite wonderful enough. It sure isn't, Percy.

In 1866 Mr. Green began as a drug clerk in the same building which he now occupies, two years later taking over the business, which he conducted until the present time. During this period of 56 years, he has never been absent more than one day at a time either on business or pleasure, and although he has passed the age of 80 years, is, otherwise, he still continues to be, remarkably unassisted.—Perryville Correspondent to Danville Advocate.
