Armour's Burley Tobacco Grower

You Can't Feed a Horse From An Empty Trough

And by the same rule your tobacco plants cannot obtain the nourishment they require for the most profitable yield unless your soil contains all the essential plant foods in correct proportions. Just as the trough holds the feed for the horse, the soil holds the food for the plant.

No matter how good your soil, the feeding of hungry crops from one year to another is bound to deplete your supply of plant food unless you restore it. Even the rotation of crops cannot put back into the soil all the food your plants require in exactly the necessary proportions.

How Armour's 3-8-6 Can Increase Your Tobacco Profits

Armour's Big Crop Burley Tobacco Grower (3-8-6) is composed of ALL the plant foods that science has proven the tobacco plant requires to produce the finest quality of leaf and biggest profits.

Armour's Big Crop Burley Tobacco Grower is No Experiment

It has been used for years by farmers who have the reputation for growing big, profitable crops of the finest grade leaf. Many of these farmers have used nothing but Armour's 3-8-6 in certain sections of their fields and results have always proven that the fertilizer actually produced bigger, more profitable crops.

Here are the reasons: The ammonia in Armour's 3-8-6 is in available forms to make the plants grow rapidly and strengthen them to withstand drought. The supply of potash and phosphoric acid is ample to give the plants fertility resulting in clean, high-quality leaves. The ingredients in proper amount and give early maturity, desired color and high quality.

Buy Armour's 3-8-6 And Grow Quality Crops

Armour's Big Crop Burley Tobacco Grower is the best tobacco fertilizer that proper equipment, extensive resources and years devoted to the study of tobacco requirements, can produce. It is the most economical tobacco fertilizer, because it is the best suited to growing the most profitable crop.

CLEANLINESS IN MILKING
IS IMPORTANT MEASURE

Observing practical principles of cleanliness at milking time is the first step that farmers and dairymen can take toward the production of the 1,500,000,000 pounds of butter produced annually in Kentucky, T. F. Baker, in charge of the license section of the Agricultural Experiment Station at the University of Kentucky, says will be found to raise the standard of the product and make the producers 2 1/4 cents per pound more than the average price received for butter in the state.

Thorough and farmers should direct their attention to keeping dust, filth and hair out of the milk rather than trying to remove them after they get there, Mr. Baker says. Dirty, stale, and ugly, stagnant barns naturally cause dirty milk and the milk or cream will be full of bacteria, so that her how carefully it may be strained.

The Kentucky game commission is going to have the state's supply of turkey crows and make the producers 2 1/4 cents per pound more than the average price received for butter in the state.

COMMENT

SETTLE THE STREET QUESTION

The council has passed an ordinance requiring the oiling of the streets. The most common, especially in the summer, is made earth using macadam. Later in the season our main thoroughfares will be oiled and a hard surfaced street may be built and the plan properly matures pay their share of the cost. Property owners on the street, especially, are benefited and may make for the two-year period. The city pays for the laying of the macadam over the street interest loan. It is then the duty of the city to collect the signatures of a certain percent of the property owners on the street to be improved by oiling. It will not cost one cent to the property owners on the street. Council has already taken the initiative and let it be ascertained if the property owners on the street favor the improvement. Council has also taken action toward the purchase of a road machine for the use of Walker Wilson for the year of 1923. Wilson has agreed to keep the roads in repair for the sum of $100 with $75 per month. The machine will be used on the streets, which is the interest paid to March 1, 1923, and is not expended, leaving a balance for purpose of renovating a 3-8-6 fertilizer of $1,000 with 6% interest from March 1, 1922, and $50 attorney's fee and costs, and also the sum of $36.61 for taxes due for the year 1922, all of which is hereby directed to make the above sums as follows:

On the purchase price the purchaser must make bond with approved security, bearing interest at 6 per cent from date of sale until paid, and have the force and effect of a judgment upon the execution of said bond.

YOUTH IS KILLED AT SHARPSBURG

Everett Stanfield, 16, of Moorefield, Fatally Injured When Struck by Walter Allen Crockett, 20

TRAGEDY AT BASE BALL GAME

A most unfortunate occurrence took place at Sharpsburg last Friday afternoon when Everett Stanfield, aged 16, was struck by an auto driven by Walter Allen Crockett, 20, from the effects of which he died at the home of his father-in-law, Mr. Stanfield, a few hours later.

The tragedy is said to have been the result of a quarrel between young Stanfield and a younger brother at the base ball game. It seems that the two had played a game of baseball, Allen Crockett, 16, it is said, took up the quarrel and struck young Stanfield.

Stanfield is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Stanfield, of Moorefield, and was a student in the Sharpsburg high school. He went to Sharpsburg with his father-in-law to attend the base ball game in which the high school team was playing. The killing took place before the game had started.

The injured lad was taken into the office of Dr. Fuller Allen Cook, summoned and every effort made to relieve his suffering, but he was unconscious when the end came.

Young Stanfield is said to have been a splendid young man and was well liked by his classmates and schoolmates. He was a member of the Baptist church.

Young Crockett is the son of Mr. John B. Crockett, prominent Sharpsburg farmer. He is a student in the Sharpsburg high school and is a promising student. He is a graduate of the Carlisle high school and was also a student at the University of Kentucky last year. He is a member of the Christian church.

Funeral services for the victim were held at the home of his father-in-law, Mr. Stanfield, yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Collins of Sharpsburg.

Interment followed in the Sharpsburg cemetery.

HEMP RAISED IN THIS COUNTY IN YEAR 1851

Col. Jim Lindsey, in his series of articles on "Some First Things in Kentucky," in the Courier-Journal of his county of 1851:

"The county of Nicholas ranks well up in the 60s in the matter of hemp production, but in the matter of quality it is the foremost producer of the fine grades. Col. Robert Stanfield, Col. Jno. Stanfield, Col. Jno. Squires and Col. Jno. Hedges are the largest producers in the county. Col. Stanfield is a graduate of Transylvania University, and has been a student at the University of Kentucky. Col. Jno. Squires is well known throughout Central Kentucky and is a leading citizen. He represented the district of Bath county following the organization of the county of Nicholas.

Farming services for the victim were held at the home of his father-in-law, Mr. Stanfield, yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Collins of Sharpsburg.

Interment followed in the Sharpsburg cemetery.

ANY OBJECTIONS?

Those who are in a position to know tell us that the coal situation is not interfering with factories that are operating on city fuel. Many of the factories sold last fall are not yet ready to operate, and others are not operating because of a lack of orders. If there could be any objection to coal, it would be that it is too cheap, as all other articles are higher than where the city water supply reservoirs. If city rates were reasonable, and yet ensure heavy fines for violation of the law, the attempt fail for conserving the lake will read for.

Mr. Harding has declared for the county court race, and will be in the party line it is said. Simply, but we believe, inevitable, that the time is going to realize that the world peace plans of Woodrow Wilson, Henry Ford and Mr. Wilson's plans will ultimately be consummated, and that the principles of fraternalism outweigh those of any one of some other name.

Burglars at Dayton, Kentucky, reported to have got away with $900 cash. Highly sensational reporters have to be working the bride's side of the street.

David Lawrence says Mr. Harding has "nothing but his record." Chances are the bid has a good earth, however.

NEWSPAPERS

"Most of it is newspaper talk." How many times have we heard that remark. Most about some pure and simple lie that some one has read in one of the daily or weekly papers?

There is plenty of justification for the remark. It is quite true. Most of it is newspaper talk. But the fact that newspapers is doctored and colored to make it appear interesting is an actual side of human nature.

But for the most part it does not alone subject to criticism.

The daily paper must have demands. And that reminds us that many circulation are not the only point of difference between the daily and the paper and the big city daily.

The big city daily must depend entirely for its support on circulation and advertising. The great majority of its readers do not show for this rapidly moving age. It is a failure, because it is not popular—it is not what its readers want.

The weekly is supported by of these local newspaper stories with a grain of salt, but how we use it by the harmful.

We don't know what to believe—Lancaster Record.

THEORIES PROVEN

The ben ella. You set the hen, feeding and moistened food, have been demonstrated that you should set the ella. Sometimes you should set the ella. Some modern folks have laughed at the idea.

Science now comes along and says that the hen ella makes the chick come nine and fail, but the moon influences the weather and it is to ella superstition to plant crops in the dark of the moon.

The reason given is that when the moon is new, it is only on the average of about three days of the month. The two weeks that follow have a good chance of being warmer, thus promoting the seeds to get a good start in a warming earth, and so take advantage of the best growing days.—Exchange.

Mrs. Sam Holmes Elected Chairman to Succeed S. K. Veach

At a meeting of the members of the Nicholas County Red Cross Chapter held at the court house last Friday afternoon, Mr. Sam K. Veach, who has been chairman of the local chapter since it was organized during the war, tendered his resignation and Mrs. Sam Holmes was elected chairman.

Mrs. M. Beauford was elected vice-chairman, Mrs. Ben Allen secretary and H. E. Young was re-elected treasurer.

Sam K. Veach was elected delegate to the National Red Cross convention which will be held in Atlanta in September. Mrs. Sam Holmes was chosen as alternate.

ROSS APPOINTED LEAGUE CHAIRMAN

Local Bank President Chosen Chairman of League of Nations Non-Partisan Association

COUNTY WILL BE ORGANIZED

Mr. John N. Ross, president of the Peoples Deposit Bank & Trust Company, has been appointed chairman for Nicholas county for the National League of Nations Non-Partisan Association, it was announced by Robert W. Bingham, of Louisville, state chairman for Kentucky.

Mr. Ross has accepted the appointment and will immediately begin the work of organizing the county. The organization is strictly non-partisan, party lines being done away with. Following is a statement eligible prospective members from the county:

"We, the members of this association, believe:

That in view of the advance in the standing of our country among the powers in war, the preservation of the principles for which we fought, and the prevention of future wars, some form of governmental cooperation designed to that end is necessary.

That some league, or union, or association of nations for the purpose of international cooperation (of one sort) is adequate to accomplish that end.

That the three years of experience with the existing League, with its membership of more than fifty civilized nations, has demonstrated that it is an effective instrumentality for the substitution of conference and judicial settlement of issues in international affairs, that the adherence to it by the United States would greatly promote world and political agency hitherto devised for securing the peace of the world.

We cordially approve the recent appointment of a non-partisan committee to League of Nations activities in the United States, and the promotion of the principles of the League of International Justice, but we believe that the most practical method of action has been placed in a position of official responsibility and power in the world.

That it is unworthy and unwise for the United States to remain "aloof from the affairs of the world" and that it is our duty to participate in the deliberations of the League to which is looked in Washington.

At headquarters office at the University of Kentucky a committee will open a pen for the sale of stock on June 1.

An individual committee of the University of Kentucky, will be at the head of the campaign organization and will have the necessary time to the carrying forward of all campaign activities.

The Executive Committee will be in charge of the direction of the campaign, but will be assisted by individuals knowing thoroughly conditions in the building campaign organization.

Next Sunday, May 13, will be observed by the churches and Sunday schools throughout the United States as Mother's Day. If you are fortunate enough to have your mother with you, go to see her or write her a letter on that day, if on no other day.

This day has been observed annually for the past several years, and it is a day of sweet memories to those who have "Mother," a bright colored one for those who have a white one in memory of the ones who have finished their work.

Mother O' Mine, O, Mother O' Mine,
I'll wear a flower in the deepest one,
Mother O' Mine, O, Mother O' Mine,
I know whose tears would come down to meet you,
Mother O' Mine, O, Mother O' Mine,

I'll wear a flower in the deepest one,

I know whose tears would come down to meet you,
I know whose tears would make me weep,
