UNWARRANTED CHARGES.

Since the inauguration of the present campaign, Col. Denhardt, the Democratic nominee for Lieutenant Governor, has been the butt of unfounded charges, doubtless malicious in their inception. Some of these charges have been repeated by the thoughtless, until a totally false impression of the man has been gained by members of his own party.

FOLLOWING the lead of that most perfectly paced and progressive little town at the confluence of Stoner and Hinkston creeks, Lexington has inaugurated a system of boulevards. When Bourbon county folks start things, they set the pace.

DAWSON says Fields was selected by "never-win men" that Democrat rounds better than "the two aces" who put the skids under poor George Colvin and tied the racing colors on Charley Dawson. In terms of "Attagirl!" Fields has him "skinned to a frazzle."

When a man works for glory he must have a thermometer.—Edwin, et, the baker, and a thermometer maker—Bourbon News.

Maybe he was two thermometers.—Mercury, please.

THE WORST ADMINISTRATION IN KENTUCKY'S HISTORY

(Elizabethtown News)

If under the constitution of Kentucky a Governor was eligible for re-election and Edwin P. Morrow was a candidate for re-election and asking an endorsement at the hands of the people, he would be the worst beaten candidate who ever offered for office in the State.

Thomas Dawson, the Republican candidate for Governor, was elected Attorney General on the same ticket with Morrow and until recently was a part of the Morrow administration. In all of his speeches Dawson says that he endorses the Morrow administration. The Galvin convention which nominated Dawson also endorsed the Morrow administration.

What is the difference in voting for Dawson, who approves what Morrow has done, and voting for Morrow himself?

The only difference we see is that Morrow said he knew Kentucky was a Democratic state and that he hoped to be elected by a Democratic vote and he got them) while Dawson says he knows Kentucky is a Republican state and he won't get any Democratic votes.

There have been two Republican Governors in succession in Kentucky. Bradley was succeeded by a Democrat, Wilson was succeeded by a Democrat, and we confidently believe Morrow will be succeeded by a Democrat. All three of these Republican Governors were elected by Democratic votes and by Democratic electoral votes. The administration of Bradley was repudiated by the election of a Democrat, and there are many more unanswerable reasons why Morrow should be succeeded by a Democrat. His administration has been the very worst in the history of the state.

We figured the Democratic party, during his candidacy, with extraordinary ingenuity and generous display of money and promised to stop it, but it spent twice as much money during his term and the state's debt was increased.

He declared that the Democratic party had over-taxed the people and that if elected Governor he would see that taxes were reduced. Instead of reducing taxes, by his Tax Commission he has doubled the assessment of property in Kentucky and in fact has nearly doubled the taxes.

He said that he was going to also put in a lot of useless offices and that he would be larger under his administration than under any Governor in the history of the Commonwealth.

The platform of his party denounced the pardon record of Gov. Stanley and Morrow ran every stump speech on it, and promised reform in that direction.

Instead of cutting down the number of pardons he has more than doubled the number. He is the Cole Blease of Kentucky. He has turned loose red-handed murderers upon society. He pardoned Blair, the mystery maniac in a county of many other unfounded pardons which are equally inexcusable. He denounced the mob law, and yet encouraged it by pardoning hardened criminals. The state spends millions for courts to punish crime, and he has set aside the verdict of juries and made justice a mockery and a farce.

Would the people of Kentucky assert this man Governor of the state if they had the opportunity? Will they, therefore, elect Dawson, who, in every speech, declares his endorsement of Morrow?

SKETCHES OF CANDIDATES

Prof. McHenry Rhoads, Democratic nominee for State superintendent of public instruction, is a native of Muhlenberg county, Kentucky. He graduated from West Kentucky College and has attended other schools.

The farmer wants good roads because he can get to market with good roads than with poor roads. If the farmer can make more money by spends more, which means greater prosperity for the whole country. And if he can do with less money, which enable him to sell his products for less and still make as much best he was the professor of English language and literature at Hartford College.

Following his engagement he was elected superintendent of the public schools of Frankfort. His work at Frankfort was signalized by organization of the city school system on modern lines.

He was then offered the superintendency of the city schools of Owensboro. Under his guidance the educational work of that city school system was modernized and perfected and a high school system developed.

In January, 1911, he came to the University of Kentucky as professor of secondary education, which position he still holds.

STRANGER IN OUR MIDST

"Since the time whereof the memory of man runneth not to the contrary the Kentucky voter, on examination of his ballot, has always found between two tickets that he had never heard of before," says the Louisville Messenger.

"One was the Socialist ticket and the other was the Socialist-Labor ticket. Nobody could tell which knew the difference between the two, but like nobody seemed to care which either stood for.

"The tickets were always placed on the ballots by petition, and seemed to get most of their strength around Covington and Newport. They always received from forty-nine to five thousand each, not varying much year after year, and seemingly from about equal strength.

"The Prohibition ticket, too, always appeared until prohibition became the big parties. That also received a beggarly thousand or more.

"This year, however, a stranger has entered the political circles to take the place of one of the Socialist tickets. Petitions have been filed with Secretary of State Hager to place on the official ballot the names of a Farmer-Labor ticket to displace the Labor ticket. The new ticket seems to have covered more territory than was usually seen on the stump and circulars. W. E. DeMoss, a farmer man, heads the ticket for governor. Allie B. Lee, of Midland, comes up named for lieutenant governor. Ellis of Stanford, of Morgan, for secretary of state, and Carr Hawkins, of Nantucville, for commissioner of agriculture.

"In some of the states of the West the appearance of a Farmer-Labor ticket might create some excitement, but apparently the fight here is to be between the two old parties. All we know of the candidates mentioned date.

"The Messenger would like to see a ticket headed by Gen. John Hunt Morgan, of Lexington, Kentucky.

Yours very truly,
W. H. EDWARDS, Pres.
Kentucky Highway Engineers Association.

WORN NERVES

Nervous disorders, backache, dizzy spells, queer pains and irregular kidneys, give rise to headaches, aching weakness and to try the entire body. Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.

Mrs. E. A. Thomas, 490 E. Main St., Carlisle, Ky., says: "Some years ago I had an attack of kidney trouble and suffered from it off and on. I was nervous and got painful spells across the small of my back. My kidneys were irregular in action at times and I got very tired easily. I felt that something was wrong and I felt tired and nervous. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me and I got them at Hedges' Drug Store and after using them, my kidneys became more regular in action, and the other troubles left me."
